Thant Bares Three-Point Peace Plans

U.N. Aide Thinks Hanoi's Retort Not A Rejection

COMBINED AP & UPI

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The United States disclosed today that it has accepted U Thant's latest Vietnam peace proposals calling for a general truce. It said it was prepared to begin discussions immediately to work out details.

The U.S. reply to the U.N. secretary-general's proposals was made public shortly after Thant unveiled his plan at a news conference. Secretary of State Dean Rusk called a news conference for this afternoon to expand on the U.S. position.

The Thant plan envisages a cease-fire to be followed by preliminary talks aimed at convening a new Geneva peace conference.

Thant said he had sent his proposals to all the parties directly concerned on March 14 and that some had replied. He said he did not consider any of the answers as a categorical rejection.

Thant's proposals, submitted March 14 to all parties involved in the fighting, including the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, called for:

A general standstill truce.

Preliminary talks.

Reconvening of the 1964 Geneva conference on Indochina.

A North Vietnam official radio broadcast apparently rejected Thant's new move, but the secretary general refused to accept it as an outright turn down. There was no immediate public reaction from South Vietnam.

In Washington the State Department said that while the United States accepted Thant's proposals, preliminary talks would be needed on how to effect a ceasefire.

Robert J. McCloskey, the department's press officer, read a statement to reporters saying the United States "has been and remains willing to enter into discussions without preconditions with Hanoi at any time."

The statement added, "The United States believes it would be desirable and contributory to

Navy Pilots Smash Oil Storage Tanks

SAIGON (UPI) —U.S. Navy pilots smashed oil storage tanks at the edge of the North Vietnamese lifeline port of Haiphong, and in South Vietnam American marines killed 100 Communists including some strapped to their weapons, military spokesmen said today.

The attack, part of a U.S. 107-mission air assault against the Communist country's war arsenal, marked the return of American planes for the first time in weeks to the port city through which virtually all of Hanoi's imported arms come.

MINES EXPLODE

In South Vietnam, at the U.S. bastion at Da Nang, a mine exploded in an American Marine training class today, killing 13 Leathernecks and injuring another, military spokesmen said. First reports said the Marines, using the mine in a demonstration, had thought it was disarmed.

Just below the North Vietnamese border, U.S. Marines reported finding the bodies of 100 Communists after bitter fighting that cost six Leathernecks killed and 28 wounded.

They said some Communists had been strapped to sandbags to keep them from fleeing. Others, apparently wounded, had been tied to their weapons for the suicidal task of halting Marines charging at them up the slopes of Con Thien mountain, where the Marines have been bitterly fighting to hold back invasion drives by elements of three northern army divisions.

SECOND TARGET

Yesterday, striking a second target within five miles of Haiphong, Navy pilots slammed rockets into a Russian-provided Surfave to Air Missile (SAM) site protecting the port. Bad weather barred damage checks, spokesmen said.

In North Vietnam's southern panhandle Air Force Phantoms sank 15 supply junks and sampans with 750 pound bombs. Navy pilots from the carrier Enterprise, Kitty Hawk and Hancock destroyed seven more and damaged 18. Marine pilots

Katzenbach Backs Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, chairman of a presidential panel on crime prevention, today labeled as "emotional nonsense" complaints that crime has increased as a result of recent Supreme Court decisions.

Katzenbach, former attorney general who now is undersecretary of state, told a national planning conference on crime control that court actions relating to rights of suspects did, of course, make police work more difficult.

But he said "able police forces and adequate communications systems will accomplish more than the reversal of Supreme Court decisions."

MOSCOW (AP) — More than 80 per cent of the Soviet Union's factory and office workers will go from a six-day to a five-day work week this year, the Soviet trade union chairman said today.

TOO MUCH CUDDLING

Philadelphia socialite Mrs. Albert Greenfield Jr. finds her duties as a member of the "Council for International Visitors" a bit strenuous today. When the hospitality group welcomed a circus to town, Mrs. Greenfield prepared to climb aboard the larger elephant. The younger pachyderm carried togetherness a bit far, squeezing the woman briefly. "I was scared," admitted Mrs. Greenfield, daughter-in-law of the late, widely known financier. The four-footed traffic jam ended without injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

Fears Of An International Plot Are Revealed In Manchester Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Fears of an international plot to overthrow the U.S. government prompted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to alert every American military base around the world the minute he heard that President John F. Kennedy had been shot in Dallas, Tex., William Manchester says.

"By every readable signal the situation was very red," Manchester writes in his book, "The Death of a President."

The much-disputed book contains 350,000 words of text, plus diagrams, appendices and a list of sources. The price is $10.

"Women's Wear Daily" published today a review of William Manchester's book, although an April 6 release date had been fixed by the book's publishers, Harper and Row.

In an accompanying note the retail clothing trade organ said: "Women's Wear Daily purchased a copy of the Manchester book at retail and now feels itself free to publish its review," after a Pittsburgh, Pa., store prematurely put the book on sale.

McNamara "kept his head and made all the right moves" even before he learned that Kennedy was dead, Manchester says. The worldwide warning told American military commanders, "this is the time to be especially alert."

President Johnson is quoted in the book as saying "there might be war" if Americans became aroused by suspicions that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro had conspired to kill Kennedy.

It was the "wild rumors" about a conspiracy that brought the Warren Commission into existence, Manchester says. The commission, after a long investigation, concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald — and Oswald alone — assassinated Kennedy.

Johnson had difficulty persuading Chief Justice Earl Warren to head the inquiry, Manchester says, because Warren opposed "extracurricular activity" by Supreme Court justices.

Manchester agrees,with the commission's finding. But he says its "real work" was done by the general counsel, J. Lee Rankin, and the 14 assistant counsels. As for the members of the commission, Manchester writes," the lustrous names of the seven appointees were for public consumption."

Manchester also is critical of actions of Secret Service agents before the assassination and immediately after the first shot struck Kennedy.

He makes these points:

1. On the night before the tragedy, "nine agents of the White House detail were out on the town. They started with beer and mixed drinks at the Fort Worth Press Club."

2. "At various times, they were joined by three agents of the 12-to-8 shift — who were officially on duty, assigned to guard the President's bedroom door."

3. A jet airplane pilot is grounded if he fails tests that

Board, Jury Exchange Slaps On Kent Island

Quentin Trio Arrested Near Oregon City

Three escaped San Quentin Prison Farm convicts were captured without resistance last night by police and sheriff's deputies in McMinnville, Ore., about 35 miles southwest of Portland.

The three were apprehended as they trudged along a road after abandoning a disabled pickup truck stolen during the weekend from a lumber company in Fort Bragg, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

PRISON ACTION

Arrested were Royal Sloan, 35, a Fresno County burglar; Phillip Banditson, 28, bad check passer from Los Angeles, and Edward J. Kern, 35, Los Angeles burglar.

San Quentin authorities placed a detainer on the men, pending disposition of an assortment of charges which could be filed against them as a result of their 500-mile run to freedom. Possible complaints, in addition to escape, include three counts of vehicle theft and burglary.

Oregon authorities also are seeking to determine whether the trio committeed an armed robbery yesterday in Sheridan, Ore., about 10 miles southwest of the spot where they were captured. No details of the crime were available.

It was not known whether the men were armed at the time of their arrest.

FARM ESCAPE

The men escaped from the minimum security farm Thursday night, hopping a low fence. Walking into San Rafael they stole a station wagon belonging to Bruce Birch from in front of his home at 141 Irwin Street.

They abandoned the wagon on the coast near Gualala, Mendocino County, entered that community, got food and clothing in a market burglary, and stole a pickup truck.

They left that truck on the outskirts of Fort Bragg, stole the lumber company truck and headed north. Until their capture, the escapers were last reported seen at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in Fort Bragg.

Army Checking Disease Spread

HONG KONG (UPI)—The Chinese Army has moved to help check the spread of deadly diseases in Kwantung province, Radio Peking reported today.

Adjoining Kwangtung is believed to be the hardest hit of several regions in Communist China suffering from serious epidemics.

The broadcast monitored in Hong Kong said the army garrison in Canton, Kwangtung provincial capital, had organized more than 2,000 medical workers into teams and sent them into rural areas.

Behr Cries Politics; Foreman Hits Haste

By RICHARD LYTTLE

In an interim report, the grand jury recommended that no county funds be expended on development of the island until a $75,000 deed of trust on the property has been paid off and until the 55-year term of a reversionary clause has expired.

Grand Jury Foreman Clifford S. Lund read the interim report to supervisors at the start of today's meeting.

Supervisors accused Lund and the grand jury of getting into politics. Lund countered that there had been several requests for an investigation and conflicting reports in the press, but supervisors were decidedly unhappy.

"When the grand jury wants to enter politics," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "it should run for election. This is not a proper and fit report. It is an attempt to justify what you did not find. It reflects on the unanimous policy of the board."

DOESN'T AGREE

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen did not agree with Behr and said the grand jury had the right to investigate and criticize where it wished, but other board members were generally sympathetic with Behr's view.

Chairman Thomas T. Storer said he was incensed by the report and opined that all members of the board should have been recalled had they not accepted the gift of Kent Island.

The 110-acre island was given to the county Feb. 14 with the deed transferred the same day. The presentation was by Nature Conservancy, which put up $10,000 for the $85,000 purchase and gave a $75,000 deed of trust to owner Anne Thompson Kent.

OUTLINES TERMS

Today's report outlined the terms of the deed of trust, calling for interest of 5 per cent for the first three years, 6 per cent for the next three years, and 7 per cent thereafter. Principal installments shall be at least $7,500 plus interest each year and the total payments shall not be more than $14,600 this year and no more than $25,500 in any succeeding year.

"We knew about the deed," Kettenhofen said.

Pope Carefully Backs Controls On Population

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI gave a carefully qualified endorsement today to government action to control population but did not indicate any relaxation in the Roman Catholic Church's opposition to mechanical means of birth control.

In the fifth encyclical of his reign, the Pope made clear that the "rightful freedom" of married couples who are opposed to artificial means of contraception, for moral reasons or under the guidance of their bishops, must be respected.

NEW ATTITUDE

Vatican sources said, however, the new attitude was likely to clear the way for government laws to make birth control information available to the public in places where Catholic pressure has opposed this in the past.

It was the first time any Pope had gone so far on the subject of birth control outside Roman Catholicism's own teachings.

The encyclical deals with the world's social problems. In the section on population growth, the pontiff declared that "the temptation is great to check the demographic (population) increase by radical measures."

He added: "Public authorities can intervene, within the limit of their competence, by favoring the availability of appropriate information and by adopting suitable measures, provided that these be in conformity with the moral law and that they respect the rightful freedom of married couples."

WEALTH SHARING

The encyclical, which appealed for social and economic justice, said that unlimited capitalism is a "woeful system." It endorsed the redistribution among the poor of large estates which are "unused or poorly used" and criticized wealthy tax dodgers who transfer income abroad to escape obligations to aid the welfare of their countries.

The encyclical was titled "Populorum Progresio — On the Development of Peoples," from its first words. It dealt with material things of the world rather than with religious or spiritual WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of American millionaires is on the rise. This compares with 482 millionaires in 1964.

Sanitary Board Delays Action On Connections

The Novato Sanitary District board last night discussed increasing the connection fees, but took no action on it.

The present fees are $200 per acre area charge and $75 for connections. This makes the average single family dwelling cost $125 to connect.

Charles Joseph, engineer-manager of the district, proposed that the area charge be dropped and the connection charge be increased to $185. He also proposed that the board adopt a $25 per year automatic increase in that charge starting July 1, 1968.

The board also discussed changing the procedure for rebates for sewers constructed by developers that are used by others, but reached no decision.

It set April 10, 18 and 24 for meeting dates next month.

British Bomb Hulk To Set Remaining Oil Cargo Afire

LAND'S END, England (AP) — Navy planes smashed the stricken tanker Torrey Canyon wph 1,000-pound bombs today and set it afire to destroy the oil remaining aboard.

Smoke rose 2,000 feet above the sundered three sections of the 974-foot ship.

The goal was to stop the flow of oil onto Cornwall's already polluted beaches.

Twin-jet bombers of the British navy were ordered to deliver the coup de grace after attempts to set afire the giant oil slick appeared ineffective.

All ships and aircraft had been warned away from the area seven miles off Land's End. A 20-mile radius was placed under restriction.

The escaping crude posed a contamination problem unequaled in the history of oil transportation. It blasted hopes of hotel owners looking for a record tourist season and it threatened to ruin fishing, Cornwall's other principal source of income, along 120 miles of coast.

The Torrey Canyon, owned by a subsidiary of Union Oil of California and flying the Liberian flag, broke up Sunday night.

Maritime experts were puzzled why the Torrey Canyon's Italian captain, bound from Kuwati to the British port of Milford Haven, chose a short cut through the shallows which piled the ship up on the treacherous reef that mariners have tried for centuries to avoid.

The question was also raised why the British government, knowing that only one ship has survived a crackup on the reef in the past 50 years, did not take charge at once and order the cargo of oil either unloaded or destroyed.

Wildcat Rubber Walkout Ends

HANFORD (AP)—United Rubber Workers Union members who last week staged a wildcat walkout at the Armstrong Rubber Co. plant in Hanford were back on the job today.

The Kings County sheriff's department said the striking workers and management late Monday agreed to a negotiated settlement to resolve the dispute in which an estimated 650 union employees walked off the job last Wednesday.

The strike was called because of alleged unfair treatment of a union workman. The man was suspended three days for a violation of company rules.

State Budget Mushrooms

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Republican Gov. Ronald Regan sent his record $5.06 billion revised budget into Democratic-controlled finance committees today, admitting his economy drive fell short of its goal.

Reagan, who had promised to "cut, squeeze and trim" state spending, submitted the biggest budget ever proposed in any state yesterday.

The spending plan for the fiscal year beginning July 1 soared above the preliminary request of $4.62 billion he made Jan. 31. He cut the money requests of his department heads by only 6 per cent, instead of the average 10 per cent he sought.

The Democratic chairmen of the Senate Finance Committee and the Assembly Ways and Means Committee quickly began hearings on the bill. There were signs it would be sharply revised before reaching Reagan's desk.

Demands for continued services in schools and other facilities blunted the governor's economy drive.

Reagan added $120 million for local property tax relief, and $50 million in new school aid in the revised budget.

Among the other items he added were $35 million for poor school districts, $39 million for state employee pay raises, and $19 million more for the California Highway Patrol.

Another $38 million was requested as a substitute for the higher education tuition Reagan unsuccessfully sought. And the state's financially troubled medical aid program required $73.7 million more.

Even though he missed his 10 per cent economy target, Reagan managed to make major cuts in almost every area of the government.

He proposed eliminating 3,700 jobs from the Mental Hygiene Department.

In the prison system, Reagan advocated eliminating 342 jobs. Scheduled for closing are prison conservation and fire fighting camps in San Diego, Tuolumne, Sacramento, Mendocino, Shasta and Tulare counties having 320 inmates. In addition, 27 vocational teacher jobs, 28 academic teaching positions, 80 guards and 94 administrative jobs were marked for elimination.

Reagan's revised budget document doesn't use the figure $5.06 billion. But Finance Director Gordon P. Smith said that when all his requests are added up, that's the total.

The state coming closest to California's budget is New York where Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller asked for $4.68 billion.

Greeks Expel Two Soviet Diplomats

ATHENS (AP) — Two Soviet diplomats have been ordered to leave Greece by tomorrow night, apparently because they were involved with the big Soviet ring spying on North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in the Mediterranean area.

The Foreign Ministry issued expulsion orders for Albert Zaharov, second secretary in the Soviet Embassy, and Igor Ochurkov, a member of the Soviet commercial delegation.

Unofficial sources believe the pair was part of the spy ring disclosed last week with the arrest of three Italians, led by parachutist Giorgio Rinaldi, 39. Since then, one Soviet diplomat has hurriedly left Italy, two Russians have been expelled from Cyprus, several civilians have been arrested in Cyprus, and Swiss police said arrests may be made there.

Reports circulated in Turin yesterday at the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency wanted to talk to six American parachutists who knew Rinaldi.

Informants in Turin told newsmen last week that Rinaldi had implicated 300 NATO employes in the espionage operation, but the Italian government denied this.

Substation Lease

Garrison Pursues New JFK Case Witnesses

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison moved on two fronts today to get witnesses he wants in his John F. Kennedy assassination conspiracy probe.

The district attorney's office issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Lilly Mae McMaines, 22, Omaha, Neb. as a material witness.

The U.S. attorney's office was asked by Garrison to issue an unlawful flight order against Gordon Novel, 29, former owner of a French Quarter bar who disappeared last week before he was to have appeared before the Orleans Parish grand jury.

MAY INVOLVE FBI

If U.S. Atty. Louis LaCour honors Garrison's request, it would bring the FBI into the search for Novel.

"I think it is very odd that Novel can be found by newspaper and television media and not by the people who are trying to arrest him," said Asst. Dist. Atty. James Alcock.

Garrison's office issued a warrant last week for Novel's arrest and asked that he be placed under $50,000 bond.

WOMAN'S ROLE

Perry R. Russo, 25, a Baton Rouge insurance salesman, said Mrs. McMaines, then known as Sandra Moffett, was one of several persons attending a party in the New Orleans apartment of the late David W. Ferrie in mid-September 1963.

After this party, Russo testified two weeks ago, he heard Ferrie, Oswald and Clay L. Shaw conspire to kill President Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans business executive, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiring to murder Kennedy.

CONTRADICTIONS

Mrs. McMaines, married to part-time Omaha minister Harold McMaines, 48, told newsmen last week she did not attend the party but said she had known Russo.

In his testimony at a preliminary hearing, Russo alluded to Sandra Moffett only once, naming her, as "the girl I brought" to the party.

Mrs. McMaines said she did not know Ferrie until 1965.

Novel has made statements to newsmen in Columbus, Ohio, and Washington, D.C., calling Garrison's probe a fraud.

Junior College Board Is Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D - Bakersfield, has proposed a statewide board to govern California's junior colleges.

Stiern said yesterday the first job of the 10-member board, to be appointed by the governor, would be to study current laws governing junior colleges.

Stiern also proposed a bill to continue funds for junior college construction.

Cong Trying To Spoil Vote In Villages

SAIGON (AP)—The Viet Cong are waging a terrorist campaign against village and hamlet elections scheduled to start in South Vietnam next week, intelligence sources said today.

Communist guerrillas have been threatening capable candidates with abduction and murder, encouraging incompetents to become candidates, warning voters against voting, tearing up registration cards, and ordering voters to leave home during the election so they cannot participate.

Intelligence experts say the guerrillas rounded up peasants in one hamlet in Gia Dinh Province just outside Saigon March 3 for an anti-election rally.

Viet Cong speakers told their captive audience that the elections were a "treacherous ruse" by the Saigon government to implement a "false democratic regime." Candidates for office were warned to withdraw or their safety "would not be guaranteed."

There are 2,552 villages and 13,984 hamlets in South Vietnam. Elections start Sunday and in the next two months will be held in 961 villages and 4,487 hamlets.

The first recorded eye surgery was performed in 600 B.C. by Susruta, a wise man of India, who used the point of a needle to push a cataract away from a lens to allow light to enter.

Reagan's Real Estate Chief Wins Approval

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Burton E. Smith stayed on the job as state real estate commissioner today, having won Senate confirmation after a 10-day delay.

The Senate voted 29-9 yesterday for Smith, appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan in January. The vote came after a Democrat's unsuccessful attempt to block the appointment because Smith opposed the Rumford open housing law.

OPPOSITION

Smith is "an unconditional foe of a particular law that he must enforce today" as commissioner, said Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park. "The appointment itself is an expression of cynicism."

Song led opposition March 17 that surprised Reagan and Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns and delayed the Senate's approval of the appointment. Burns, D - Fresno, said no one had objected to Smith when he was approved by the Senate Rules Committee March 16.

FIRST VOTE

Smith's supporters failed to get the 21 votes, out of 40, needed for confirmation March 17 as senators left the Capitol for the Easter recess. The vote then was 20-3.

Song argued for 10 minutes yesterday after failing to get Smith's appointment sent back to the Rules Committee. The other opposition to Smith all came from Democrats.

Democratic Sen. George Miller Jr. of Martinez supported Smith, saying that the governor should have the right to chose his own appointees as long as they hadn't broken any laws.

PROP. 14 BACKER

Smith, a former Bellflower real estate man, was president of the California Real Estate Association in 1966. He wants repeal or modification of the Rumford act, which prohibits racial discrimination in selling homes through brokers or renting apartments. Reagan's position is similar.

Smith supported Prop. 14, the 1964 voter initiative that nullified the Rumford law. The State Supreme Court declared Prop. 14 unconstitutional and the case now is before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Republican and Democratic senators earlier this year successfully blocked approval of another Reagan appointee, Dr. William McCandless of La Mesa to the State Board of Education.

South Road Funds Set Test Stage

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assembly passage of a bill giving more state road building money to Southern California has paved the way for a test of southern domination of the newly reapportioned Senate.

The measure, sent to the upper house on a 45-31 vote yesterday afternoon, would give 13 southern counties $143 million more in road funds over the next four years. This would result from revising the allocation of the money so that the South's share would rise to 60 per cent from the current 55 per cent, dropping the northern share from 45 per cent to 40 per cent.

The southern counties that would be in line for this bonanza are Imperial, San Diego, Riverside, Orange, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Kern, Mona, Inyo, Tulare and San Luis Obispo.

Goldwater Gives Nixon His Backing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Barry Goldwater says he favors Richard Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate in 1968 but believes Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., is the only potential candidate acceptable to a majority of the GOP.

"Everybody says Nixon is the best trained man for the job," said Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate. "And then everybody turns right around and says he can't be elected. I don't believe that's true, but I don't see how to tear that image down."

As for Percy, Goldwater said he "might be the most dangerous against (President) Johnson, provided he could show he was really knowledgeable about foreign policy."

Goldwater's views are in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Sewage Treatment Meeting Agreed

Almonte Sanitary District directors last night agreed to meet April 24 with Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to discuss his proposed amendment of the district's contract for use of the city sewage treatment plant.

First, however, directors said they must be furnished with cost information on Balmer's proposal, which would shift the basis of billing for use of the plant from assessed valuation of the district to actual use based on the number of connections, reported board chairman Robert A. Alexander.

Redwood City Tot Killed By Train

The victim was identified as Vickie Henderson. Authorities said she was struck while playing on the tracks on the southern outskirts of the city.

Bacteria 'Getting Smart' —Epidemics Due Again?

By SCIENCE SERVICE

NEW YORK — Human defenses against infection — miracle drugs and antibiotics — are in danger of crumbling as bacteria are "getting smart" and transferring their resistance to each other.

Will epidemics come again and push humanity back into the dark ages, or will physicians and researchers outwit the bacteria?

The indiscriminate use of antibiotics must be resisted by doctors whose patients plead for repeated doses of the newest thing on the market. Parents who demand repeated prescriptions of antibiotics for their children every time they run a temperature or have a cold must be denied.

A regional meeting of the American College of Physicians here was told of the clinical implications in the transfer of drug resistance from bacteria to bacteria by Dr. Edward Hook, moderator of a panel yesterday on biologic problems of antibiotics.

The mechanism of transfer of drug resistance factors was explained by Dr. Stephen I. Morse of the Rockefeller University, New York, in an effort to help clinical physicians develop rational measures to prevent the occurrence and spread of the resistant bacteria.

"The spread of resistant microbes in a population is, of course, aided by indiscriminate use of antibiotic in question," Dr. Morse said.

The transfer of resistance factors from one organism to another is based on the transfer of genetic information. In other words, the genetic material — DNA, or deoxyribonucleic acid — enters into the recipient bacterial cell and persists in its progeny.

This enables the recipient to nullify the antibiotic's activity by causing the production of inactivating enzymes or the formation of other mechanisms originally found in the donor resistant cell, Dr. Morse explained.

Newer antibiotics such as chloramphenicol, the tetracyclines and streptomycin were employed with initial success in the absence of drug-resistant strains. Later, however, the number of patients with dysentery began to rise again, and strains of shigella with multiple drug resistance were reported with increasing frequency, Dr. Morse reported.

"In 1960, almost 10 per cent of the shigella isolates were resistant to all three of the drugs named, as well as to the sulfas. Now almost 50 per cent of shigella isolates in Japan are resistant to the four drugs.

"Curiously, single or double resistance was much less common and it was also found that both sensitive and resistant organisms of identical types were often excreted by the same patient or by different patients in the same locale," the doctor reported.

One researcher in Japan proposed that multiple drug resistance was transferred from the pre-existing multiple drug-resistant E. coli to drug-resistant sensitive shigella within the intestinal tract in animals including man. Conclusive proof of transfer was demonstrated in mice.

Protection For Ringtailed Cat

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The ringtailed cat—once a friend of California's gold miners—couldn't be hunted or trapped under a bill passed by the Senate yesterday.

The two-pound feline rapidly is becoming extinct, said the bill's sponsor, Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio. In the old days, miners tamed the cats and trained them to catch mice and rats, he said.

Cologne's bill would put ringtailed cats in company with sea otters, fur seals and mountain sheep—all protected by California law.

Burglars Hit Bolinas Home

Burglars tore a rear screen, then broke a door window to enter the weekend residence of John W. Lowe on Upper County Road, Bolinas, sheriff's officers said today.

The break-in was between Monday and Friday of last week, deputies said. Taken were a rifle and 10 bottles of liquor. Lowe resides in Standard, Tuolumne County.

Edward J. Boracchia, 1433 Clinton Court, San Rafael, told officers yesterday his car, parked in a lot at College of Marin, was entered by prying a window. Taken were a stereophonic set and six stereophonic tapes, estimated at $131 total.

Minister Quits Library Board

Rev. John S. Thornton resigned yesterday from the Sausalito Library Board.

In a letter to Mayor Mel Wax, Rev. Thornton said his duties as priest at Christ Episcopal Church left him too little time for the library board. He was appointed to the board on Aug. 3, 1965.

In a two-hour meeting last night, the library board worked on preliminary proposals for the fiscal 1967 budget, reported board president Alice Scarborough.

Water Line Bid Extension Asked

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night asked Soiland Co. of Ignacio to extend for 60 days its low bid of $4,188 for a water line to the district treatment plant at Fort Baker, reported director George K. Elkington. The delay was asked, he said, to allow time to get army approval of the project.

The water line became necessary when the Army advised the district it no longer would provide water for the plant.

measure his reflexes. "However, presidential bodyguards were not required to take" these tests.

4. When the first shot was fired, "most of the hunters in the motorcade identified the sound immediately as rifle fire, but the White House detail was confused."

5. Two agents were in the front seat of the presidential car. "They were in a position to take evasive action after the first shot, but for five terrible seconds, they were immobilized."

Manchester summarizes his indictment in the words, "The central fact was that the Secret Service had failed."

A publishers' note on the title page says, "Harper and Row wishes to make it clear that neither Mrs. John F. Kennedy nor Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has in any way approved or endorsed the material appearing in this book."

Manchester believes—but states as fact—that Oswald went insane on Nov. 21, 1963, the night before Kennedy was assassinated. The author says Oswald's reason crumbled as the result of a quarrel with his Russian wife, Marina, from whom he was semiestranged.

She had been living in Irving, a suburb of Dallas, in the home of Ruth Paine, a friend. Oswald lived in a Dallas rooming house. He visited his wife and children on weekends.

Manchester wrote that on the night of Nov. 21, Oswald appeared to be watching television in Mrs. Paine's home. "In fact," the author says, "he was going mad."

Oswald appeared sane, however, to the police and other investigative officers who interviewed him after the assassination. The transcript of these interviews, published in the Warren Commission report, shows that Oswald told the same story to each of them. He answered certain questions but said he would not answer others until he could have an attorney with him. And he specified the attorney, "A New York lawyer whom he did not know" but who had defended some persons accused "of a conspiracy against the government."

Manchester says in his foreward he "felt entitled to record my opinions" and was "forming judgments."

But he does not pinpoint the passages in his book where fact leaves off and "opinion" or "judgment" begins.

He says that Mrs. Kennedy, contrary to McNamara and other federal officials, "hoped" a conspiracy had taken her husband's life. The book says, "for then there would be an air of inevitability about the tragedy; then she could persuade herself that if the plotters had missed on Elm Street they would have eventually succeeded elsewhere."

Manchester does not say whether Mrs. Kennedy told him this. He does not tell the reader whether it is fact or his judgment.

Directors Review Sewage Proposal

Homestead Valley Sanitary District directors last night reviewed a preliminary proposal by the City of Mill Valley to amend the district's contract for use of the city sewage treatment plant, but took no action pending receipt of more information on costs from the city, reported board chairman Warren I. Jacobs.

The city proposal would shift the basis of billing for use of the plant from assessed valuation of the district to actual use of the plant.

How Senators Cast Consular Treaty Votes

Kuchel voted with the majority in the Senate, which ratified the treaty 66 to 28. Murphy voted against the treaty.

SENATE

On Passage (77-3) of $12.1 billion supplemental appropriation bill carrying additional funds for military procurement. For — Kuchel; not voting — Murphy.

HOUSE

On Republican motion (rejected 168-217) to send the $7.5 billion treasury-post office appropriation bill back to committee with instructions to cut it five per cent. For — Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

On passage (234-118) of resolution endorsing increased aid to Latin American countries. Against — Clausen.

Guilty Plea To Bad Check

Judge Hadden W. Roth then dismissed five other counts and certified the case to Marin Superior Court for sentencing at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

He also dismissed a count against a co-defendant, Leroy Austin Bazile, 19, of Oakland, on recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry Herman, for insufficient evidence. Bazile and Miss Minosky, of San Francisco, had been scheduled for preliminary hearing today on charges that she had checks with intent to defraud, and that they both conspired to pass a forged $144.26 check on Feb. 28 in San Anselmo.

Youth Ordered Confined In Jail

Juvenile Court Judge Samuel W. Gardener yesterday ordered William Duncan Lindley, 21, facing his third charge of molesting minors since last May 5, held in county jail for investigation of probation violation.

The hold is effective pending further proceedings on the latest charge, attempted lewd and lascivious behavior with a 12-year-old in San Rafael last Thursday, and a probation hearing.

Lindley, of 101 H Street, San Rafael, is on two years probation in juvenile court, although he is over 21. He also has $2,200 bail set as an adult in the Thursday incident.

Abortion Plan Wins Approval

CARSON CITY (AP) — The Nevada Assembly voted 30-5 today in favor of a bill allowing therapeutic abortions.

Assemblyman Flora Dungan, D-Las Vegas, said the measure is "more realistic, more humane and contains greater controls than the present law."

No one is compelled under the bill to undergo abortions, she noted.

There was no debate over the issue.

The Assembly judiciary committee previously tabled the bill when told the public isn't ready to accept such a measure. Supporting it would threaten their political future, the legislators were warned.

serious negotiations if an effective cessation of hostilities, as the first element in the three-point proposal, could be promptly negotiated."

A note to Thant dated March 18 said the United States "is also prepared to take the next steps in any of the forms suggested by the secretary general." But it added that "of course, the government of South Vietnam will have to be appropriately involved throughout this entire process."

The U.S. note said North Vietnam had rebuffed previous public and private approaches for negotiations and said:

"For this reason, the government of the United States would be most interested in learning whether Hanoi is willing to enter into such discussions or to take reciprocal actions leading to peace in Vietnam. The United States has been, and remains willing to enter into discussions without preconditions with Hanoi at any time.

"To this end, the United States accepts the three-step proposal."

Thant, making his new plan public, expressed fear the war might expand into a worldwide conflict, in view of recent escalations.

Raids Tossed Out By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bed check raids on welfare recipients are unconstitutional, the State Supreme Court ruled yesterday as it ordered the reinstatement of a social worker who balked at making them.

The tribunal, in a 6-1 decision, ruled that the Alameda County Welfare Department acted illegally in firing the worker, Benny Max Parrish, 33, in January 1963. He had refused to take part in bed checks designed to determine whether unauthorized males were living with women receiving aid for needy children.

The court held such raids were made without search warrants and were illegal. Such raids have since been outlawed by the California Legislature.

Unusual Pet Licenses Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lions, tigers and other unusual pets would need licenses to live in San Francisco under a proposed ordinance considered today by the Supervisors' Health Committee.

City officials would have discretion over whether a license would be required.

Bad Check Draws Warrant For Arrest

Bench warrant for arrest of Michael E. Simonton, charged with giving a San Rafael attorney a worthless $500 check for a fee, was issued by Judge Peter Allen Smith today when Simonton failed to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail for Simonton, of Mountain View, is $1,100. He allegedly gave W. O. Weissich the check Oct. 22 after marijuana possession charges against him were dismissed for insufficient evidence.

committee which made the investigation, said this may have been so but there was no note about it filed with the county documents until the second week of this month.

The grand jury concluded that "although no apparent risk or liability is assumed by the county, excepting the possible loss of substantial property taves from the ultimate development of a proposed yacht basin, we believe that the board did not allow sufficient time between presentation and acceptance of conveyance to adequately evaluate the proposal."

The grand jury also concluded that "as this proposal was presented by a group with a singleness of purpose, far more caution should have been exercised to assure the board that the terms of the transaction provided necessary safeguards in order to protect any possible expenditure of public funds."

The jury also said that "the opposition and the general public was not afforded an opportunity to challenge the transaction and was denied the opportunity to agree or disagree in a normal democratic process."

Lund said the report was adopted at a meeting last Wednesday and that he since showed it to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. He said Maloney explained that the county must spend some money to establish use of the island as a legal condition. He said $1,500 was mentioned.

Lund said members of the jury were more concerned over the possibility of a $40,000 to $50,000 expenditure which might be lost if the island were to revert to Mrs. Kent.

McInnis chided Lund for the jury's reaction to newspaper stories, saying the board is not responsible for conflicts among papers and columnists.

themes. The document bore the date of last Sunday, Easter, March 26.

The bulk of the 8,000-word letter to his bishops was concerned with the broad field of economic and social justice and the ills of capitalism.

The Pope said speed is necessary to bring balance between the world's rich and poor, although he warned against revolution.

Instead he proposed:

1. "A great world fund, to be made up of part of the money spent on arms, to relieve the most destitute of this world."

2. A careful study of reorganization of various aid programs to keep them from being "scattered or isolated."

3. Higher taxes on the rich to meet the cost of aid, and higher prices on imported goods.

4. A revision of interest rates and systems of loan repayment "so as not to be too great a burden on either party."

Rain Gauge Stolen Again

He draws the line, though, when whoever takes the rainfall figure takes the rain gauge too.

His gauge complete with plastic measuring stick was stolen yesterday for the third time in two months from a wooden box behind his home at 1040 C Los Gamos Road, he told police.

Richard Campbell Dies At 45

Asst. Coroner Eugene R Fontaine said Campbell, 45, apparently died of natural causes, but an autopsy was to be performed.

According to the assistant coroner, Campbell's wife, Mary Lena, said her husband awakened in the night complaining of pains in chest and stomach, and went to the bathroom where she found him moments later lying on the floor. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital at 3:15 a.m.

WAR

sank four craft and damaged three.

Viet Cong forces mortared a U.S. Army special Forces camp at Plei Me 210 miles north of Saigon yesterday killing two Vietnamese children and wounding two civilian women, spokesmen said.

The worst moment for the Leathernecks came Sunday when Communist ambushers almost wiped out a U.S.-Vietnamese patrol of 16 men.

American spokesmen said about 120 Communists jumped the patrol which had left camp only 10 minute sbefore. One of the six Vietnamese lived and, although wounded, went back to camp for help. Rescuers found eight dead Marines, one Leatherneck shot in the back but living, a dead U.S. Navy medical corpsman and five dead Vietnamese troops.

Ship Captain Loses Command

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—A Soviet embassy official said yesterday that a Russian shrimp trawler captain fined for fishing in U.S. waters wouldn't command a ship again for a year.

He said Leonid M. Kushchenko, 29, would lose his master's license and have to reimburse his government for the $10,000 fine paid to get him out of the Alaska state jail at Anchorage.

Kushchenko pleaded no contest Saturday to charges of violating the U.S. 12-mile fisheries zone. On a federal judge's order, he spent Easter weekend behind bars until a cashier's check drawn on Soviet Embassy funds could be arranged to cover the penalty.

A DEER HAPPENING—San Francisco Health Department inspectors found this happening in the Haight-Ashbury district yesterday—two members of the hippie generation skinning a deer. They claimed the animal had been given to them by a game warden after it had been killed by an automobile. Today health teams pushed further into their checks. (AP Wirephoto)

Health Teams Push Hippie Pad Checks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—City health teams pushed further into Hippieland today after 691 building inspections drew 39 unsanitary condition citations.

Piled-up garbage, stopped-up plumbing, cockroaches and bad ventilation were reported Monday on the first day of a 50-block inspection.

Dr. Ellis Sox, city health director, ordered the checkup in the Haight-Ashbury District, an area near the east end of Golden Gate Park where scores of young people have banded together for communal living in cramped quarters.

The order came soon after the police chief sternly warned the hippies they were not to sleep in the parks.

Many of the young men sport beards. Many of the girls are barefooted.

"Love the police as much as you love yourself," read one sign scrawled on the stairway of an inspected building."

Inspectors talked with hippies who introduced themselves by such names as Cupid, Spider, Little Wolf and Big John.

In front of a cited Clayton street frame house, where a stalled motor truck was piled high with barrels and cans of junk, Inspector Jack E. Coyne told one hippie:

"You have to admit that what you have here — in your own words—is a bad scene."

"Sure it's a bad scene," agreed the hippie, "but it's all we've got and you want to throw us out."

Cupid — a girl hippie with jingling bells on the sash of her mesh dress—insisted there was a conscientious effort toward sanitation and personal grooming.

"Why in the morning I go around with my electric toothbrush and make people clean their teeth with it," she said.

Little Wolf, the head hippie at one house, told Coyne that as many as 200 persons have eaten and slept at one time in its 10 rooms.

Apartment Unit Saved From Damage

Marin County firemen saved the Merrydale Apartments, at 7 Merrydale Road, San Rafael Meadows, from serious damage early today as a blaze gutted a storage shed about five teet away.

Chief Louis J. Bloom said the west side of the dwelling escaped with scorched eaves, Damage was estimated at $150. The loss of the shed and garden and paint supplies inside was valued at $2,200.

The cause was undetermined.

The alarm was sounded at 12:40 a.m. by Ellis Finley of Apt. 8, who awoke to crackling noises and saw the shed ablaze. Three county fire units controlled the fire in nine minutes.

Driver Fined $115

James Clinton Bowlin, 30, of Villa Rafael Motel, San Rafael, was fined $115 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. California Highway Patrol arrested him on State Highway 17 last Sunday.

Marine Slayer's Sentence Reduced

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The commander of the U.S. 1st Marine Division has reduced a Marine's life sentence for the murder of a Vietnamese man and woman to 25 years at hard labor.

Maj. Gen. Herman Nickerson Jr. extended the clemency to Pfc. Charles W. Keenan, Nitro, W.Va., who was convicted on two counts of premeditated murder by a Marine court-martial at Da Nang Jan. 4-5.

The two Vietnamese, Nguyen Th Co, and her brother-in-law, Nguyen Qua, were killed Sept. 22 while a U.S. Marine patrol was on a combat reconnaissance mission from its base camp at Chu Lai, 50 miles south of Da Nang.

Another Marine, Cpl. Stanley J. Luczko, 20, Gardner, Mass., was convicted of premeditated murder in the death of the woman and given a life sentence which Nickerson must still review.

A third Marine, Pfc. Ronald A. Piatkowski, 18, Trenton, N.J., was convicted of attempting to murder the man and mutilating his body by cutting off the left ear. He received a 10-year sentence.

The sentences of all three also must be reviewed by a military appeals board in Washington before becoming final.

Unruh Changes His Study Plan On Education

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh D-Inglewood, has amended his proposal for a study of California higher education to eliminate the subject of student and faculty unrest at the University of California.

Unruh offered the amendment to his study resolution yesterday. He had announced at the last meeting of the university's Board of Regents that he would make the change.

His resolution calls for an in-depth study by the Joint Committee on Higher Education of financing and operating the state's higher education system for the next 10 years.

Humphrey, Queen Juliana Will Confer

THE HAGUE (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, picturing himsel f as a friend rather than a negotiator in his European fence-mending talks, arrived in the Netherlands today to meet Queen Juliana and political leaders — and probably some Dutch antiwar demonstrators as well.

Coming from Geneva, the first stop on his two-week European tour, Humphrey said in a prepared statement that the American people throughout their history have had "deep and lasting ties with the Netherlands."

In addition to his talks, Humphrey was expected to encounter protests against the Vietnam war after the Alpine, Easter-holiday quiet of Geneva.

After his one-day stay in the Swiss center, the vice president was reported encouraged by the progress of negotiations there for a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and the Kennedy-Round talks to reduce trade barriers.

Humphre ysaid both were of vital interest to the United States, and he is expected to emphasize this in his talks with European leaders, not all of whom see eye to eye with the United States in either the trade or the nuclear talks.

Unions Urge Increase In Women, Child Pay

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Union officials called upon California employers yesterday to raise the hourly minimum wage for women and minors to $2 and $1.60 respectively.

However, during the opening session of a public hearing here by the California Industrial Welfare Commission, employer representatives such such increases would be "inflationary."

Labor representatives contended the present yearly minimum of $2,855 for self - supporting women was "totally unrealistic to maintain health and self-respect."

The hearings were to continue here today before moving on to Fresno tomorrow and San Francisco Thursday and Friday.

A 45-page report submitted by AFL - CIO leader Thomas L. Pitts also recommended:

The present hourly wage of $1.30 for women and minors in manufacturing be raised to $1.45 this year and $1.60 next year.

The minimum for women in agricultural employment be raised from $1.30 this year and to $1.55 in 1968.

The minimum for minors in agriculture employment be increased this year from $1.10 to $1.20 and to $1.30 next year.

The present 48-hour work week for women and minors in manufacturing be lowered to 40 hours with time-and-a-half pay for the sixth day.

Firemen Call Off Walkout

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Firemen called off a scheduled walkout today as the Missouri Mediation Board moved into their wage-hour dispute with the City Council.

Daniel C. Rogers, mediation board chairman, called a 10 a.m. meeting of city officials and leaders of Fire Fighters Union Local 42 at City Hall.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes ordered Rogers to act after a delegation of deputy fire chiefs and battalion chiefs flew to Jefferson City yesterday and requested help toward a settlement.

The governor told them he would move only if Mayor Ilus W. Davis joined in the request. The mayor did so by telephone.

Pickets Up At Dairies In Price War

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The National Farmers Organization today was trying to put more muscle into its boycott drive to raise their milk income by stringing pickets around dairies.

The NFO, apparently not satisfied with the limited success of only holding its milk off the market, picketed dairies in at least nine states Monday, the 12th day of the withholding action.

Milk stored on an Ohio farm was found to have been laced with deadly cyanide as incidents of violence and vandalism continued to plague the milk market boycott encompassing 25 states.

Leydecker's Wife Sues For Divorce

Byron W. Leydecker, president of Redwood National Bank and former county supervisor, yesterday was sued for divorce on grounds of cruelty by his wife of 15 years, Mary Kay.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court, asked for her share of community property, custody of the three children, Caroline, 14, John, 12, and David, 10, and that he pay reasonable support and attorney's fees.

It alleges the 39-year-old civic leader has inflicted "grevious mental pain and suffering."

Leydecker was appointed in 1963 to fill a vacancy on the board of supervisors, then was elected to the post in 1964. He declined to seek re-election for the first district seat in last June's primary election.

The couple wed Sept. 16, 1951, in Palo Alto, and separated last March 16. Family home is at 12 Oakmont Court, San Rafael.

$3.5 Million School Bond Election Slated

Mill Valley School District trustees last night passed a formal resolution calling a $3.5-million bond election June 13.

The vote came after endorsement of a recommendation by architect Richard N. Jessup that "all neighborhood school sites be retained and possibly expanded as the need demands."

Jessup, of Bushnell, Jessup, Murphy and Van de Weghe, architects designing improvements to existing schools, said he could not recommend abandonment of smaller neighborhood schools in the face of future expansion expected in the district's pupil population.

Trustees previously asked Jessup to make a recommendation on whether to retain all existing schools. Trustees also previously agreed not to consolidate all schools in an "education park."

Vote on the resolution was 4-17, Trustee Joyce R. Gross dissenting on the ground that neighborhood schools with fewer than 300 pupils were too small to be educationally sound. She abstained on the vote to endorse Jessup's recommendation.

Mrs. Gross made it clear that she will campaign against the bond measure.

Trustees voted Feb. 27 to hold the election June 13, but the amount was not set until last night. A $3.5-million bond would use up the district's maximum projected bonding capacity for five years.

The bonds would finance a "middle school' for 1,200 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils in Project 17 on Camino Alto, and improve existing schools.

Mill Valley School District trustees also:

BUDGET—Made it clear that no action has been taken on the fiscal 1967 budget, contrary to rumors that some programs may be cut because of an anticipated deficit. Existing programs will be discussed by the board April 17.

LEAVE—Granted second-year leaves of absence to Thurman O. Douglass and Sylvia R. Palmer, and accepted resignations, effective June 30, of Shirley Howland, sixth grade teacher at Alto school, and Linda France and Mrs. F. C. Budds, both now on leave.

INTEREST — Received a letter from Assemblyman William T. Bagley advising that there is little chance of raising the legal limit of 5 per cent on interest rates permitted school bonds.

State Employment Reaches A Record

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Employment in California last month totaled a record 7,208,000, the Department of Employment said today.

Supervisors Hedge Over School Fund

Marin County Supervisors today hedged a bit on reinstating a $209,000 promise of construction aid to the Sausalito School District.

District Supt. Phillip W. Schneider told supervisors that at least half this sum will be needed in the next fiscal year.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said that last year, when it was agreed to help finance a recreation center in Marin City, he understood the recreation center contribution was in lieu of assistance to the school district.

He asked a transcript of the tape recording of that session and also a complete review of all commitments to the Marin City area.

The matter was continued for two weeks, pending answers to his requests.

Supervisors originally promised assistance to the school district for new school buildings in Marin City. The Marin County Housing Authority agreed to contribute $173,250 for the cause. The school district has since developed plans for an educational center complex at Bayside School. This and other projects will require a district bond issue.

Supervisor John F. McInnis thought it impractical to commit any county funds for construction until after results of the bond election are known.

Mental Hospital Cuts Debated At Hearing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — psychiatrists and state mental hospital employees said today mental patients would have to stay in hospitals longer—costing the state more money — if Gov. Reagan's planned job cuts went into effect.

The Senate Business and Professions Committee met before an overflow audience of more than 600 persons to hear testimony on Reagan's plan to eliminate some 3,700 jobs in the State Mental Hygiene Department.

"If the proposed cutbacks were actual economies, I would present no argument," said Dr. Stuart Knox of the California Commission on Staffing Standards (for mental hospitals).

The cutbacks "will inevitably result in patients remaining in mental hospitals longer, with less care and poorer treatment," said William Grimm, executive director of the California Society of Psychiatric Technicians.

Spencer Williams, Reagan's Health and Welfare Agency administrator, said "there shall be no reduction in the level of treatment of patients in the year ahead." Williams said that if good care couldn't be maintained, then more money should be provided.

Also subpoenaed to appear were Philip Battaglia, Reagan's executive secretary, and Dr. James V. Lowry, mental hygiene director. Reagan had said the subpoenaes weren't necessary, that a polite invitation would have been enough.

More details on the cutbacks, and a defense of them, came yesterday from Gordon P. Smith, state finance director. He told newsmen at a briefing that "We have been assured we can maintain current levels of care."

Some of the affected state programs can be assumed by local communities if they wish.

The administration said that in all, 164 doctors, dentists, surgeons, psychiatrists and psychologists would be eliminated from the state's mental health programs.

At least 44 nursing positions will be abolished.

The administration says many of these jobs are not needed and that the program actually is overstaffed.

Supervisors Delay Highway 17 Debate

Marin County supervisors today agreed to delay further debate over Highway 17 routing until the San Rafael city elec6tions, April 10, are over and the opinion of the new city council is known.

Supervisors will take up the query of the State Division of Highways on the board's stand on April 11, not giving much time for any new councilman to do his research.

Britain Rejects Peking Base Charge

LONDON (AP) —Britain today rejected Red Chinese charges that the colony of Hong Kong is being used as a base of American operations against North Vietnam.

A note delivered by Charge D'Affairs Donald Hopson to the Foreign Ministry in Peking also denied the existence of American military installations or facilities in Hong Kong.

Mill Valley Park Swap Is Accepted

Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night voted to accept a reservoir site on Edgewood Avenue from the city as "full payment" for the piece of Old Mill Park taken three years ago for the new library.

The Old Mill parcel was valued at $34,000, reported parks and recreation director Don Dimitratos. The unappraised, 6.5-acre reservoir site, he said, will provide four acres of park area when deeded to the city by Marin Municipal Water District at no cost.

Mill Velley parks and recreation commission also:

VANDALS — Heard a report that vandals had done $633 damage to park facilities in the past two months, and urged heavier penalties for vandalism.

MOLINO — Learned $2,000 of new play equipment had been installed at Molino Park.

CLUBHOUSE — Heard Dimitratos report his is attemtpting to improve scheduling of the golf clubhouse by private groups to avoid conflicts that have occurred in the past months since the Center for the Performing Arts started using the clubhouse.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Took no action on expansion of the city's senior citizen program from once a month to once a week, pending county approval of a $2,000 subsidy to finance the expansion.

TELEPHONES — Recommended installation of telephones in Old Mill and Boyle parks, subject to design of booths by the architectural advisory committee.

NOT A COUNTY MAINTAINED ROAD

DO-IT-YOURSELF ROAD JOB

Midvale Way in Tamalpais Valley has never been accepted as a county road, so the county will not improve it. Not to be deterred by bureaucracy, residents of the road did the job themselves. They first had a firm grade laid. Last week they put in a culvert. Yesterday, with rented equipment, they rolled the blacktop. Hard at work was, among others, Louis McCarthy of 531 Midvale Road, pushing the roller. Even the youngsters helped.

Mill Valley Suggests Committee To Solve City-County Plan Split

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Mill Valley planners last night ventured beyond city limits and suggested formation of a small but active city-county committee to steer through the Marin County master plan.

The initiative should be made at city level to fight suspicion county planners are trying to take over, members of the city planning commission agreed at a joint meeting with the county planning commissioners.

Ostensibly, the meeting was called to discuss the East Mill Valley general plan. But it was with city-county relations — the second item on the agenda — that the greatest progress was made.

"It is encouraging to hear such a positive response," commented county commission chairman Margaret chairman Margaret Azevedo.

The city-county committee idea, with cities and the county having equal representation, was put up by Mill Valey Councilma Michael Woruum.

He was present as a spectator but several members of the commission pounced on the suggestion. "I think Mill Valley should propose it through the Council of Mayors," said city planning commissioner Rodric L. Robinson.

Wornum said unless the county general plan was discussed through such a committee, he saw it disappearing under the weight of discussion and counter-discussion from every conceivable organization.

The committee idea should come from city level because of the "growing suspicion' 'of most things county, he said.

"There are least two supervisors who are talking about a city and county of Marin," he said. "I don't have to tell you the fear of death this gives to some cities. They see themselves going before the county bulldozer."

County Planning Commissioner William F. Upton was somewhat taken aback. "Cities are suspicious of the county but there is no basis for it," he said.

Replied Mrs. Azevedo: "Of course there is a basis for it. The county does want to plan the whole county. People in the county planning department say they can do it better and the cities tend to get in the way.'

Edward J. Loessenecker, chairman of the city planning commission, said Mill Valley was in favor of co-operative action on the county master plan. He considered the job would be easier if discussion was broken into specific geographical locations.

Fellow commissioner Edward Farrell supported the joint committee but called for sub-committees to deal with specific areas.

Dealing with the present status of the plan, County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said his staff was able to carry out internal studies on certain subjects — such as airports and transit —which were county-wide in nature.

"I don't think we are able to go far in other directions without co-operation from the cities," he said.

Discussion of the East Mill Valley general plan, adopted by the city in January, 1966, disclosed the main point of contention was whether it should contain a rapid transit corridor.

Loessenecker contended that any future transit system must, by necessity, follow a route from Telegraph Hill in San Francisco to San Rafael and consequently by-pass Mill Valley.

His commission agreed in general that Mill Valley wanted rapid transit but it should be alongside Highway 101 and not on the present railroad line which divides the planned area.

Mrs. Azevedo said that talks on extending Miller Avenue to Highway 101 had been bogged down pending clarification on the rerouting of Shoreline Highwary.

She said that if Mill Valley could agree the routing need not necessarily be through Tamalpais Valley or Tennessee Valley, there was every likelihood the Miller Avenue project could get under way soon. The county commission, said Mrs. Azevedo, is now talking in terms of routing over the headlands from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Tool Box Stolen

Theft of a tool box containing tools and a battery charger worth $152 was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by William K. Gamble, 83 Ethel Avenue. The box was stored in the carport of his home, he said.

Runaway Boys Held At Quincy

Two Marin County runaway juveniles who stole a car at noon yesterday in Mill Valley were arrested last night by Plumas County sheriff's deputies, police reported today.

The boys, a 16-year-old from Greenbrae and a 14-year-old from Strawberry, were caught after thay cashed a $22 check in Yuba City, Sutter County, from a check book they found in the car. Owner of the car is Robert H. Albachten, 401 Ash Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Albachten reported his car was stolen at 12:05 p.m. while it was parked at Faber's Restaurant, 382 Miller Avenue. The keys were in the ignition.

The two boys were booked into Juvenile Hall at Quincy, in Plumas County.

Drake Double Sessions Plan Is Outlined

The double sessions proposed for Sir Francis Drake High School next year may cause inconveniences in scheduling, but will not basically hurt the school's educational program, Drake Principal Harold Allison told a group of parents last night.

More than 50 parents, mainly of students who will be freshmen next year, attended a discussion of the double session proposal at the Sleepy Hollow community center.

Allison explained that under the proposed schedule, the earliest classes would begin at 7:30 a.m. and the last classes would end at 5:30 p.m., a 10-period day. Sophomores, juniors and seniors would attend classes in the middle of the day, and freshmen would be on schedules either early or late.

Students now have a six-period day, with some taking an optional seventh period. Allison said that under the proposed schedule, sophomores, juniors and seniors would still have a six-period day, but some freshmen would have a five-period day, dropping a study hall.

The present period lasts 55 minutes, but under the proposed schedule all periods would be cut to 50 minutes, he said.

Five Candidates' Nights Are Planned This Week

Five "candidates' nights" have been scheduled for this week as campaigns begin to heat up for next month's elections in districts and municipalities in Marin County.

The first will be held by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School for candidates for Reed School District and Tamalpais High School District boards.

Also tomorrow, candidates for Marin Junior College, Tamalpais High School and San Rafael High School District boards will speak at the Sleepy Hollow Homes Association clubhouse at 1317 Butterfield Road, under sponsorship of the association.

On Thursday at 8 p.m. in San Rafael City Hall, candidates for San Rafael city council, police chief and board of education will be presented by the Women Voters of Central Marin. There are six candidates for two openings on the council, two candidates for police chief, and four candidates fot three openings on the board of education.

Also on Thursday at 8 p.m. in Central School, Sausalito, the Sausalito Citizens Council will hold a candidates' night for candidates to the Sausalito School District and Tamalpais High School District boards.

Candidate's Attendance Report Erred

Mrs. Avajean B. Anderson, candidate for the Novato Unified School District Board, has been attending meetings of the board frequently for more than a year.

In "The People's Schools" column yesterday, Bryce W. Anderson reported Mrs. Anderson had not been attending meetings of the board for which she is a candidate. This was based on information from a veteran board member.

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Anderson has attended regularly since she was appointed to the Novato Chamber of Commerce education committee last June, and had attended some meetings previously. She is not among qualification of knowledge of school board operation from personal observation.

TWA goes all jet!

The first and only airline in the U.S. to give you a jet on every domestic flight.

Starting April 7, you'll always be on a jet when you're on TWA. Never a propeller plane—we won't have any in passenger service.

It's nice to be first. But we're getting used to the idea. In the U.S., we were first to introduce movies† on transcontinental flights, first to cook meals right on your coast-to-coast jet. We introduced the first fully automated transoceanic navigation system. We're the only airline flying throughout the U.S. and to Europe, Africa and Asia. In 1969, we'll be getting the giant Boeing 747. And in the mid-70's, we'll be first to fly the U.S.-built supersonic jet transport. Next trip, fly with the leader—nationwide and worldwide. Fall Victim Identified By Coroner

A youth who fell to his death Saturday on the rocks below the Golden Gate Bridge north tower was identified today as Joseph Curtis Bussolati, 18, of San Francisco.

The youth died of multiple injuries suffered in a fall from the cliff adjoining the bridge, Asst. Coroner E. R. Fontaine said today.

The body was seen Sunday and reported to the California Highway Patrol as a possible jumper from the bridge, but Fontaine said scrapes on the youth's boots and the nature of his injuries showed he had fallen from the cliff.

The body was identified by a fingerprint check with the state Criminal Investigation Bureau in Sacrament. There was no identification on the body except a slip of paper with the name "Joe" and a social security number.

Bussolati was a son of Army Lt. Col. Emile J. Bussolati, who is stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco. Funeral arrangements are pending at Halsted and Company, San Francisco.

Salinger Says Too Much Media

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger, former presidential press secretary and now vice president of Continental Airlines, says the public cannot cope with the current communications revolution.

He told 1,500 delegates to the American Society of Public Administration convention last night that the revolution "has changed our lives . . ."

The more information the public seems to get, the less becomes its capacity to either understand or act upon it, he said.

Mint Director Tours Facility

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Mint, closed for two weeks because some employees walked out with coins stuffed in their pockets, was toured yesterday by federal director Eva Adams.

She made the unannounced tour as operations resumed with hopes the structure now has security.

Tomorrow, she has scheduled a tour for newsmen to detail how security has been revamped. The main revision was installation of a metal detector at the exit for employes.

Local director John Carr reported none of the workers had refused to pass the detector.

"Actually," he said, "I think they are getting a kick out of it."

Visitors' Bureau Gets Fair Exhibit Chores

Marin County supervisors decreed today that the Marin Visitors' Bureau must develop the county's exhibit at the State Fair and authorized $3,500 for the exhibit rather than the $2,500 orginally voted.

If more money is needed, the visitors' bureau must raise it, the board said.

Vote on this proposal was 4-1, with Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, still smarting over a previous board decision, dissenting.

Kettenhofen was angry that he got no second for his request that the county put up $5,000 for the non-profit Marin Hearing and Speech Center.

The Marin Hospital District board has agreed to contribute a meeting room at Marin General Hospital for the center and the Babcock Foundation has agreed to put up $16,000.

Kettenhofen said the money would be saved in charges for testing county patients. The San Francisco center where this is now done is to increase its charge from $25 to $35 a visit. The Marin center would charge $25.

Other supervisors thought the expense should be one borne by the hospital district, not the county. "I begin to get the feeling that everyone who needs money comes to the county," said freshman Supervisor John F. McInnis.

$6 Million Gift Offered To Nevadans

CARSON CITY (AP) — Industrialist Howard Hughes said today he would donate up to $6 million to the State of Nevada for a medical school.

In a letter to Gov. Paul Laxalt, the mysterious Hughes said he would contribute $200,000 to $300,000 each year for 20 years, commencing whenever the University of Nevada requires the money, the governor said.

"I attach no strings or conditions to this proposal," Hughes said in the letter. "The medical school need not be located in southern Nevada. The state is free to locate the school wherever it may desire."

Hughes, 61, who has applied to the state to invest $13 million as the sole licensee in the Desert Inn hotel-casino on the Las Vegas strip, said the proposed donation "would be legally binding and enforceable upon me and upon my estate after my death."

The legislature currently is debating a proposal to establish a two - year medical school in Reno. The plan has met stiff opposition from southern Nevada physicians who would like to see the first medical school in Nevada established in Las Vegas.

During the Middles Ages, it was a custom to pay a physician a life annuity for performing a successful operation.

Climber Slips To His Death

LONE PINE (AP) — Dr. Michael Hamilton, 43, of Redding slipped as he descended Mount Whitney Sunday and slid down the icy slope several hundred feet to instant death.

Hamilton and four companions were descending after reaching the Sierras' highest peak Saturday.

The terrain was so steep, it took four hours for his companions to reach Dr. Hamilton's body.

William Wyland, 45, also of Redding, a member of the climbing party, hiked out of the area and reached Lone Pine yesterday to report the tragedy.

A private helicopter was dispatched to recover the body.

Board Lauds Marin City Rec Repairs

Marin County supervisors today were delighted over the restoration, mostly with volunteer labor, of the portable building located in Marin City last summer as a temporary recreation center.

The building had to be closed a few months after it was opened, because of extensive vandalism. But early this year, Marin City youth volunteered to fix up the building.

This was done under the coordination of county maintenance man Alvis Allen, who put in 80 hours of county time and 21 hours of his own time, Asst. County Administrator Thomas F Campanella told the supervisors today

Supervisors thanked all who had accomplished the job and voted a $2,519 transfer from reserves, $317 for new furnishings for the center and $2,202 for employment of part-time supervisors for the balance of the fiscal year.

Five Students On Dean's List

Five students from Marin County are among 169 who have been named to the dean's list at the University of the Pacific, Stockton.

They are: David W. Cox of 177 Eliseo Drive and John B. Moorhead of 11 Maple Hill Drive; both San Rafael; Lurette Mattson of 660 Northern Avenue, Tamalpais Valley; and Joanna E. Beck of 640 Throckmorton Avenue and Frederick H. Hilton of 9 Plaza Drive, both Mill Valley.

Dark Bourbon:
It's not the kind of whiskey you learn on.

This isn't beginner's whiskey.
This is dark, deep-flavored Bourbon.
Bourbon that leaves a good rich cling on the side of your glass. And a nice round taste in your mouth.
This is Bourbon the way it used to be. Prime copper-stilled whiskey. Fixed with lots of handwork. And nothing but pure, fresh goods. With more of the small grains. And a sour mash that goes back more than 75 years.
This is slow-cooked Bourbon. Aged till it's darker in color. And deeper in taste. Till its youth has mellowed, and its character matured.
Hill and Hill Preferred. It's not beginner's Bourbon.
But it is an education.

Fairfax Council Kills Mayor Rotation Plan

A proposed resolution setting procedures for rotating the mayor and vice mayor posts was defeated by the Fairfax City Council last night by 3-2 vote.

Councilman Robert R. Souza proposed the resolution, which he said would "eliminate some of the confusion" on timing and "create a more orderly process."

VOICE VOTE

As proposed, more than one name could be placed in nomination for mayor, and the vote would be verbal. Also, nominations would be permitted without a second.

One section would have required four votes to return an incumbent mayor to the post, but this was eliminated before the vote.

Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., George A. Pagni and Frank J. Egger voted down the plan.

Souza noted that rotating the posts has been practiced, but the proposed procedure would make it more orderly.

Councilmen also considered replying in the city newsletter to a letter to local property owners last month that called for a commissioner form of government. After a brief discussion, they decided against it.

Councilman Adelaide Wilson said she felt the letter raised questions that the council should answer officially, and Souza noted that the letter critized two city employees.

'FILE IT'

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers said that "as long as no charges were brought" and it was "merely a letter criticizing the city manager, I'd file it."

Arrigoni said residents should be encouraged to write letters, "critical or encouraging."

Councilmen contended that the letter contained allegations and half-truths.

Planning Commissioner Leo Cronin said, "This (the letter) is just part of the mud you get thrown at you." He objected to the council spending any of the taxpayer's money to "expound your ideas and defend yourself."

Mrs. Priscilla Gray of 126 Ridge Road said the council aired the letter at a town meeting. "I can't see the need for further explanation," she said.

The discussion about the letter was prompted by another letter, from Ann H. Winsor, 66 Chester Avenue, asking that her name be removed from the earlier missive.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

10th Annual Wildflower Show Is Set

Stinson Beach's 10th annual wildflower show will be held May 6 and 7 in the Community Center, according to Mrs. Edward E. Leary, one of four founders of the show.

This year's heavy winter rains, she said, "Give us flowers like we haven't seen in 10 years." The first of several trips to scout flowers for the show will be this week end, when she and two other founders, Mrs. Kenneth Shicky and Mrs. Arthur Menzies, tour Death Valley with the California Botanical Club.

The fourth founder, Mrs. Charles Griffin, is in Sicily, where her husband serves with the U.S. Navy.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. Admission will be charged and tea will be served.

Collection trips throughout much of the state will begin April 29, said Mrs. Leary.

Fighter's Club For Boys Ruined

VALLEJO (AP) — Archie Moore's recently closed ABC (Any Boys Can Club—) where the fighter taught respect for both person and property—was a vandal-wrecked scene today.

"Someone is seeking revenge," said the former world light heayweight boxing champion on hearing at his San Diego home how the club's Vallejo quarters were smashed and littered with debris over last weekend.

Moore said "a lot of people were furious" because the American Savings and Loan Association dropped financial support of the club at the end of February.

Amendments On Sounding Board Agenda

A panel of speakers on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" Thursday at 9 a.m. will debate three of the 13 proposed amendments to the San Rafael City Charter to be placed on April 10 election ballots.

Under discussion will be proposition B, recommending the offices of ctiy clerk-assessor, city attorney, police chief and city treasurer-tax collector be appointive instead of elective; proposition E dealing with advertising and promotion for San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and proposition G, making city manager government part of the charter.

Speakers will be John D. LaNoue, a member of the San Rafael Charter Committee; Walter R. Zurcher, member of the chamber of commerce; and city council candidate Orlando Conti.

They will answer listeners questions and a recording of the debate will be broadcast Sunday at 12:20 p.m.

Meeting Postponed

A meeting tomorrow at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito of Parents of Mill Valley school children interested in the transfer program with Sausalito has been postponed indefinitely, reported Supt. G. R. McConnell.

SPUNKY ORPHAN

Giving Sarge A Black Eye Is Passport

MALVERNE, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Barone has helped find an American home for a 5-year-old Korean orphan who caught the former U.S. Army sergeant's eye by socking him in the eye.

"He socked me right in the kisser, and showing that spunk, I liked him right away," says Barone.

Barone, 25, who now works for a finance company, met the orphan Lee Yung Soo, when he visited the Chung Duk Won orphanage of Pusan in 1965 while serving with the army.

RECALLS VISIT

"Two weeks after we landed in Korea in August 1965, I went to the orphanage," Barone recalled in an interview today. "Another GI was holding Lee in his arms. I approached the boy and said, 'Isn't that a cute one.' He socked me in the eye."

"He had spunk. He was cute," Barone continued in explaining why he chose Lee as his favorite out of more than 100 orphans at the home ."He was a tough little guy, a man's man, a little man. I just fell in love with him."

Last April, Barone wrote to his mother, Mrs. Frank Barone, asking her to try to find a family to adopt Lee. Mrs. Barone telephoned the wife of the president of the Parents for Overseas Adoption, a group of Long Island parents who have adopted children.

The wife of the president said Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koch of Lindenhurst might be interested since they had adopted a Korean girl three years ago. Mrs. Barone got in touch with the Kochs and they were enthusiastic.

COMING TO U.S.

The boy is scheduled to join the Kochs on April 5, thanks to arrangements made by the Welcome House of Doylestown, Pa., founded by author Pearl Buck.

Mrs. Koch said she and her husband, an aircraft engineer, adopted the Korean girl, named Kristi, because they were lonesome after their own three children, ranging in age from 20 to 23, went off to college. Kristi is 6 now.

"We wanted a little brother for our Kris," Mrs. Koch explained.

Fairfax Shopping Center Denied; City Wants Master Plan First

Fairfax City Council last night unanimously denied rezoning of the Buon Gusto property on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to permit development of a million-dollar shopping center.

The decision came after a hearing before about 60 persons that lasted almost two hours and centered around the city's proposed master plan.

Councilmen commented it would not be desirable to rezone the property until the master plan is completed.

Attorney Raymond H. Shone, representing Mrs. Eleanor McArdle Jean, owner of the property, urged that it be rezoned from limited commercial to commercial.

The proposal is to develop a village plaza consisting of an Alfa-Beta Market, part of the fourth largest grocery chain in the United States, and five or six satellite stores, he said.

The property, west of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, extends from the end of Broadway to Olema Drive. It is the site of the former Buon Gusto Villa Restaurant, which closed five years ago after operating almost a half century.

Councilman Frank J. Egger said it would be premature to rezone until the council gets the final recommendations in the master plan.

Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson said, "I don't think we need another shopping center in Fairfax."

Planning Commissioner Leo Cronin said the commission's denial was not based on traffic problems, as reported previously in the Independent-Journal. Since funds are being spent for a master plan, "we'd like to see what the specialists come up with," he said.

The plan as it now stands calls for limited commercial zoning for the site, Cronin said.

There were some comments that creation of a new shopping center would be "strip development" and would detract from efforts to strengthen the downtown area.

Shone countered that the site was near the downtown commercial area and development would spur improvements elsewhere. He said the development would be a million-dollar project, would bring the city from $30,000 to $35,000 in additional taxes annually and provide jobs for about 80 residents.

Shone said it would be the "largest single, private undertaking in the history of Fairfax," and the Alfa-Beta Market is willing to enter into a 20-year lease.

The uses permitted under the present zoning are restrictive and not economically feasible for the three-and-a-half acre site, he said.

Ross Parkerson of 70 Manor Road, a county planner, said the issue is whether to proceed on "the concept of development on a piece-meal basis as against a comprehensive planning program."

Paul D. Buchholz of San Rafael, president of the First of California Mortgage Co., who represented a group of developers, applied for the zoning change. He contended that development of the shopping center would stimulate the downtown. "The purpose is to make people stop in Fairfax," he declared.

Shone contended that "people in Fairfax are not shopping in Fairfax" and the center would attract them.

Arts Center Asks For County Cash

A request from Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts that the county budget $800 from its promotion and development budget for fiscal 1968 for the center will be heard today by Mill Valley Art Commission at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

If endorsed by the commission, the request will go to the city council.

Also on the agenda is discussion of a list of artists to be invited to display in public buildings.

SAN RAFAEL'S CHARTER

'Open End' Fund For Promation?

By FRANK FARRARA
(Second of five articles)

San Rafael residents will vote April 10 on whether to loosen the city's purse string on advertising and promotion funds.

Officials agree that the present limit of $1,000 a year is too close-fisted, but have clashed over the proposal to have an "open-end" fund.

The proposed charter revision, Proposition E, would permit the city council to spend "for advertising purposes or for celebration of such public events or demonstrations as it may deem proper." It sets no limit.

COMMITTEE SPLIT

The city charter revision committee was split on the proposal, and the council placed it on the ballot by a 3-2 vote.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said setting no limit was poor policy, and urged councilmen to set a $10,000 limit.

Councilmen backing the revision felt that councils, responsive to the voters, wouldn't play fast and loose with the fund.

Baar pointed out that if the "no-limit" proposal fails, the city will be back to its $1,000 limit.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen said, "I can't see giving taxpayers' money away without a limit."

MINORITY REPORT

In a minority report to the council, Roy M. Michael, chairman of the charter revision committee, proposed a $10,000 limit.

Michael also proposed that the city enact a transient hotel-motel tax, with two-thirds of the proceeds of this tax, or $10,000, whichever were greater, earmarked for advertising and promotion.

Councilmen felt that a hotel-motel tax should not be included in the charter, but legislated by ordinance.

The $1,000 limit has been a barrier to the appropriation of city funds to organizations such as the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, but the city has skirted it in recent years.

In 1965, the city alloted the $1,000 fund to the chamber and then gave the chamber an additional $4,000 to prepare a report on businesses, home occupancy, sales, etc. to be used in assisting the city planning department.

At that time Councilman Charles W. Aby said the "only way around" the charter provision would be to amend it.

CHAMBER SURVEY

Last year the city authorized $5,000 for the chamber to update and expand its economic survey of San Rafael, none of it from the promotion fund.

Proponents of the "no-limit" provision contended that a limit should not be set in the charter because the city will grow and that limit, in turn, will become inadequate.

Then, they said, the city would have to go through the whole charter revision routine again, to change it.

Pill Sought For Boll Weevils

WASHINGTON (SS) — Some 7,000 chemical compounds will be tested to see if any of them can render male boll weevils sterile.

The Southern Research Institute, Birmingham, Ala., under a $150,000 contract with the Agriculture Department, will spend three and a half years in the search.

If successful, the project would provide a means of destruction of the boll weevil, one of the most destructive cotton pests. Sterile males would be grown and released to mate with wild females, whose eggs would never hatch.

This sterile-male technique, applied to the screwworm fly, eliminated that expensive pest in the United States.

Boll weevils cannot be sterilized by radiation, as the flies were, because radiation destroys the weevil's sexual drive.

Knights Of Columbus Anniversary Dinner

The 85th anniversary of the founding of the Knights of Columbus will be observed with a corned beef and cabbage dinner at 8 p.m. by members of Our Lady of Loretto Council 3950 at the parish hall in Novato

The Knights of Columbus, an organization of Catholic men, was chartered by the general assembly of Connecticut on March 29, 1882.

Planter Stolen

Theft of a $15 redwood planter was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Mrs. M. R. Walburn, 90 East Blithedale Avenue. The planter was taken from in front of her office during the weekend, she said.

Novato Fund Study Hiring On Agenda

The Novato City Council will consider whether to hire a financial consultant for the city's capital improvement program when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

A council committee has recommended that the city hire Bartle Wells Associates to make the survey for $4,000. This firm made a similar study for the Novato Sanitary District.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. will report on possible purchase the Rodoni property immediately north of the Community House. Purchase of this property was requested by the council when it decided not to move the civic center.

William Jonas is asking that the name of Entrada Drive be changed to Roger Wilco Way because that is where one of his Roger Wilco stores is located.

The public works department will submit a contract for installing curbs, gutters and sidewalks along Grant Avenue beside the Marion School grounds.

Other items to come before the council include a report by the traffic safety committee, a revision in the community house charges and acquisition of a showcase for Indian artifacts in the Community House.

Holiday Magic Asks Parking Lot Permission

Holiday Magic cosmetics will ask action by the San Rafael Planning Commission on three fronts tonight in connection with expansion plans.

The commission is scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Holiday Magic seeks a variance and use permit for a 62-car parking lot at 158 Mill Street, a block away from its plant at 616 Canal Street. The firm is forced to eliminate onsite parking because of plans to expand the plant, for which it additionally will ask architectural approval.

Also on the commission's agenda is public hearing on a use permit request for a Montessori School at 1428 Mission Avenue. Robert A. Menzies of Kentfield, owner of the property, will make the request.

Commissioners also will consider a zoning ordinance amendment controlling commercial uses in residences. The amendment is one of a series planned to update the city's zoning code.

Marin Urged To Tap Scenic Roads Funds

Federal and state money is available for building scenic roads, but what is Marin County doing to qualify for it?

Very little, according to the Marin Property Owners Association, which has written to the county board of supervisors complaining that other areas are using national scenic road development funds "which are partly financed by tax money from Marin County."

Executive Director Melvin J. Rupp said in the letter that county-wide members of the association designated proposals for highways in Marin County.

They included:

1. Marin needs an east-west highway from the general vicinity of San Rafael to the general vicinity of Point Reyes Station.
2. Marin needs a new state highway running to the ridge tops northward to Point Reyes Station and continuing northward on the ridge tops overlooking Tomales Bay.
3. The present Shoreline Highway should be improved.
4. The Point Reyes to Petaluma road should be improved and widened, and so should Lucas Valley Road.
5. "The suggestion has been made that county government designate one man who will become thoroughly familiar with programs offered by the federal government and the State of California," said the letter. "It does not appear that this has been done."

Fund-Raising Art Show Set

"Spring Colorama," a spring art show to raise money for the North Bay Artists' scholarship fund, will be held all day April 15 at the downtown shopping center at Seventh Street and Novato. Members and some non-members have donated paintings which will be sold.

Money from the sale will go toward art scholarships for Novato High School students, announced Mrs. Alfred McElroy, chairman. Two previous scholarship winners, Linda Pederson and Jean Lew, will be in charge of a balloon booth at the show.

Kerr Considering Classroom Post At Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) — Former University of California President Clark Kerr is still considering returning to the Berkeley campus as a professor of industrial relations.

Kerr, fired by the regents in January, retained his status as a full tenured professor and could return to teaching and research at $30,000 a year.

He has been negotiating with various department chairmen who would be affected by his return to teaching. If Kerr decided to return, he would not begin teaching until next September.

San Francisco Cup Races Are Creating Excitement In Marin

By MOLLY MARIN

Much excitement at San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, over the first challenge race for the San Francisco Cup. The match races, scheduled for April 8-9, will feature sister ships. St. Francis Yacht Club Commodore William Stewart III of San Rafael, will skipper his 46 ft. Andale, while Henry Grandin of Ross will compete with another Cal-32 class yacht, the Amorita which he berths in Belvedere Cove. Included in the Amorita's crew will be the owner's sons, Michael, 14, and David, 13. Peter Salz is arranging boats for the large number of spectators from the Belvedere club who are planning to watch the five race contest on bay waters.

SEADRIFT at Stinson Beach was a lively place Easter vacation week, with many Marin families playing and relaxing together by the ocean and lagoon with their children and friends. From Ross the Edward L. Ripleys and William Cavaliers Jr., the Allen Laidlaws of Tiburon, joined by their son and his family who flew up from Los Angeles to enjoy the beach for a reunion; and from San Rafael, the George Fernbachers. The Thomas C. Marshall clan of Kentfield enjoyed the week and then the Marshall children found ways to delay their mother at Seadrift on Easter Sunday afternoon while their father sped over the hill to prepare a surprise birthday party for her when she arrived home at six o'clock.

PLANNING TO ENTER their yacht, the Privateer, in the Transpacific Yacht Race from San Pedro to Hawaii in July are the David Allens of Belvedere. Crew will include Betty Allen, and three of the Allen daughters, Laurie, Jeannie and Donna, and their oldest son, Jim. The all-Marin crew includes John O'Brien, Joe Miller, George Hackett, David Gast, Gary Grey and Shelley Miller, who will be navigator. Dave's first Transpac Race was in 1936, when he sailed on the Marilen, owned by his father, the late Harry B. Allen of Belvedere. Mrs. Harry Allen still has menus and shipping lists that she used to provision the ship for that earlier voyage . . . eggs were 18 cents a dozen 30 years ago. Dave's mother made the ocean race in 1936, and has happy memories of the experience. This time she hopes to fly to Hawaii and stay in the house in the islands that the family will take for the summer.

WENDY McPHERSON spent last week skiing in Sun Valley. She is a graduate of San Rafael High School and a junior at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City.

MRS. CHARLES P. DAVIES (Elizabeth Banning) of Indian Valley Ranch in Novato has been receiving exciting reports from her husband who is on a business trip to the Far East. He has been in the Philippines for six weeks where he has been entertained extensively. He is going on to Japan and Taiwan before returning home.

TEA FOLLOWS INSTALLATION

New officers and directors of the Kaiser Foundation Hospital Volunteer League assumed their duties yesterday at an installation and tea at the hospital in Terra Linda. From left are Mesdames John Rauschkolb, vice president; Richard Lane, secretary; Willis Ball, new president and J. Warnock Walsh Jr., past president.

'Real Nice' Store Detectives Teach Youngsters Who Has Guts

DEAR HELEN:

Today my friend and I went shopping. While there we thought why not do a little shoplifting?

Well, that wasn't very smart because we got caught. In a way, I'm glad because now I'll never do it again. We got caught by two real nice store detectives. They told us real definite how wrong it was and then they read us a letter which you had received to YAFI from a guy who got caught, and how bad he felt.

They told us also the guys who say "No" to a temptation are the ones who have guts.

Please put this letter into your column because we'd like to thank the detectives and tell them from now on we have the right kind of guts. And also that we sure know now how it hurts your parents, just because you think you want to be "big and smart." —KEN AND MIKE

PERSONAL TO "Big Nose," the 13-year-old girl whose "long, skinny horrible" nose gets her called "Miss Witch" by kids at school.

Please send me your name and address, as I have important information for you. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I went out on my first baby sitting job and was supposed to be home by midnight. This lady promised she'd be in by 11 p.m., but at after 1 a.m. she walked in with a man (she'd left with a woman).

She said she couldn't pay me right then, but would send it. Days went by and no money came, so I asked her and she claimed she sent a five dollar bill through the mail.

Is there any way I can get my money? —DISAPPOINTED

DEAR SIS:

A telephone call from your father might persaude this chintzy dame, especially if he points out she'll have a tough time finding sitters in the future. And he might add, the next lowest thing to taking candy away from a baby is cheating a baby sitter out of her pay. —H.

DEAR HELEN???

Ah ha! I'm on to you! My Dad says he knows you and you are a man. —SMART

DEAR SMART:

That'll be news to my husband and four children!

Sorry—your father must know some kind of nut who has delusions. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

You're so right that everyone needs to "talk it out" with a qualified person, but why me? I'm not qualified.

I felt sorry for this girl so I listened to her problems. She won't talk to her parents or a guidance counselor — I think mainly because she's latched on to me. I'm plagued. I can't go anywhere without being followed by her. It's got to the point where her troubles are mine, and I have enough of my own! She just pours them out and they're pretty wild. Besides, I'm being marked as one of her kind because she hangs around me so much.

I tell her to see an expert, but she won't. She needs one. I've tried losing her politely but she won't take the hint. I feel sorry for her, but, honest, I can't help. How can I turn in my junior psychiatrist's button? —WORRIED, ALSO BORED

DEAR WAB:

Tell this clinger you're taking all her troubles to her parents as you can't carry them any longer. Then guide her firmly toward the office of your school counselor.

. . . And next time be selective about your listening. A sympathetic ear is a magnet for a boring lip. —H.

Cathie Shaw (Sharon Lopez) is about to fall into the embrace of Sidney Carroll (Robert Strebeigh) in this scene from the comedy, "Poor Richard," to be presented by the Ross Valley Players beginning Friday night in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center. The play will have an 8:30 p.m. curtain on Fridays and Saturdays for four weekends.

Much-Argued Novato Sign Law Favored By Planners

The much-debated Novato sign ordinance was approved last night by the Novato Planning Commission and sent on to the city council.

The ordinance has been tossed back and forth among the commission, planning staff, chamber of commerce and downtown improvement association for several months. Main objections of merchants were to requirements to get rid of existing non-conforming signs and control inside window signs.

A compromise approved by the commission last night gives merchants three years to amortize existing non-conforming signs, with a possible additional two years if applied for by the merchant. Temporary window signs may not exceed 50 per cent of the total sign area allowed each building or one square foot per front foot of the building. They also may not exceed 25 per cent of the total window space, and may not be displayed for more than 60 days.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

INDUSTRIAL PARK — Approved the tentative map of the North Marin industrial park of approximately five and one-half acres north of Olive Avenue and east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. The park will have six lots, and a spur railroad connection. Joseph and Robert Arrighi and Robert and William Parnow are the developers.

ZONE CHANGE — Recommended granting Kenneth E. Niles rezoning change from agricultural to commercial on 18,150 square feet at Center Road and Diablo Avenue.

Board Delays Decision On Television

The Kentfield School District board last night considered expanded use of educational television in the district, but postponed decision until the fiscal 1968 budget is considered.

The board heard a report on the use of educational television and learned that the Kentfield Parent-Teacher Association had donated more than $500 to have television outlets installed at Adaline E. Kent School.

Supt. Anthony G Bacich said the program cost $1.25 per student per year, but the state will refund 50 cents per student.

A school calendar was approved, with classes starting Sept. 11 and ending June 14, including 176 school days. Pre-school meetings for teachers will start Sept. 5.

Bacich reported that the Marin County Public Works Department has agreed to submit a plan to the district for flood control on Wolfe Grade Creek, near Wolfe Grade School.

The board accepted the resignation of secretary Wanda Bigelow.

Novato Bicycle Rider Injured

A 9-year-old Novato boy suffered a broken right arm and facial cuts when he rode his bicycle into a car on Olive Avenue, Novato, about 4:30 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

Treated at Novato hospital was Richard Jay Mahoney of 634 Olive Avenue.

He rode his bicycle down Rita Court onto Olive Avenue when it hit the rear of a car driven by Orve Van Winkle, 67, of 314 Atherton Avenue, Novato, police reported.

Ford, returned to county jail after four months at California Rehabilitation Center at Corona for treatment as a narcotics user, pleaded guilty to both felonies Oct. 17. Felony counts of concealing stolen property and attempted grand theft were dismissed following the pleas.

Ford was arrested Dec. 29, 1965, by San Rafael police after obtaining the tires at a Standard Oil service station at Fourth and H streets. He had the marijuana April 7.

Some Reservations To The Brown Act

Hoffmire told fellow council members Tiburon is leading a countywide movement to urge Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy to reject a bill to strengthen the Brown Act. (It is Bagley's bill.)

He said the Tiburon council objects to the specification that any meeting of a committee of two must be public. This would make council committee meetings impractical, Hoffmire said. He also objected to the provision that only actual litigation could be discussed behind closed doos with the city attorney.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said he has written a letter to 10 other cities in Marin County, urging them to join with Tiburon in opposing these points in the law.

In response to a request from Councilman William R. Bremer, Hoffmire called a closed session at the end of the meeting to discuss a claim on the city filed by the Belvedere Lagoon Property Owners Association.

The claim, for $250,000, charges that siltation and storm flooding in the lagoon were caused by a silde allowed to remain at Old Mar West Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

Deputy City Atty. Richard H. Breiner asked the council to authorize filing of a notice of some defects in the claim. Then, councilman Bremer said he had some thoughts on the subject which he felt were not ready to be discussed in public.

The audience and the Independent-Journal reporter were ordered to leave the meeting at 10:45 p.m. When the session broke up at 11 p.m., Hoffmire comment to make on the private and Bremer said they had no discussion.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ROAD REPAIRS — Authorized payment of $3,871.10 to E. A. Forde Co., Corte Madera, for road repairs on Esperanza Street, completed Feb. 14.

SALARY REVIEW—Reapproved the master salary plan adopted only a month ago in order to comply with the ordinance requiring a review of the plan in March.

PARKING LOT — Continued again an application for a permit to establish a parking lot on the waterfront because of pending court action.

WEED ABATEMENT — Postponed until the April meeting abatement of weeds on a lot at 4 East Terrace to allow the property owners time to remove the weeds.

STRAWBERRY REQUEST — Concurred with a request by the Strawberry Recreation District to allow dredging of the Strawberry Channel, part of which is in Harbor Cove Tidelands jointly owned by the city and the district. Mud would be put on Strawberry Point School property, City Manager Rose said.

NO FEDERAL ASSISTANCE — Accepted a recommendation by project consultant George Gatter that Tiburon do its own general planning rather than seek greater federal assistance.

MAIN STREET MALL — Agreed to contact Frederick J. Zelinsky, Main Street developer, regarding improvement of Juanita Lane to provide egress from Corinthian Island as a first step toward making Main Street a walking mall.

NON-TIDAL CANAL — Heard from Hoffmire that Lawrence Hoyt, assistant to the president of Southern Pacific Co., will recommend railroad approval of a non-tidal canal being constructed in Tiburon. Authorized Rose to notify the railroad of the city's interest in the canal.

Public Works Yard Lease Is Postponed

Tiburon City Council last night postponed until April 10 decision on leasing a site for a city corporation yard from the Tiburon Sanitary District.

The postponement was taken to give Little Reed Heights residents, who may object to the location, a chance to be heard. Harry Matthews, president of the Little Reed Heights Property Owners Association, asked a chance to report to his group before the city acts.

The land is near a proposed city park, east of the sewer plant. The sanitary district has agreed to a sever-year lease at $500 a year.

Mayor John S. Hoffmire said the sever-year lease limit was agreed upon because the sanitary district may have to use the land again as a sludge drying bed, its former use, if a new sludge burning process does not work out.

The mayor said the city sould put a portable building, about 35 by 60 feet, on the property for an equipment shed and public works office. He said this would cost about $2,000. It would have a shake roof, he promised.

Drug Charges Against Trio Are Dismissed

Charges against three Walnut Creek men, said to have been suppliers of marijuana and drugs to Marin County high school students, were dismissed today in Contra Costa Superior Court.

Judge Richard Arnason ruled that insufficient evidence had been presented to warrant the arrest last January of Oliver Dyer-Bennett, 23, Alan Read Turner, 21, and Scott Allen Mayer.

Deputy Dist. Atty. William Bartlett called the ruling a "legal technicality." He said a new complaint will be filed next week and the necessary sufficient evidence presented to the court.

After the three were arrested in Walnut Creek, Marin Sheriff's Deputy Charles Prandi said they had been taking orders for drugs and marijuana at Marin schools. Their arrest was credited to tips from Marin teen-agers.

Principal organized of the Novato project has been Mrs. Robert Stannard, wife of the Marin County assistant superintendent of schools.

East Bay Woman Misses Court Date

Bench warrant for arrest of Jacque L. Burton, 23, of San Pablo, was issued in Marin Municipal Court yesterday following her failure to appear for preliminary hearing on a charge of possession of checks with intent to defraud.

She is accused of having a fraudulent check for $112.82 at the Lucky Store in Fairfax, and another check for the same amount to defraud United Market in San Anselmo.

Tiburon Fence Survives; Stop Signs Ordered

Tiburon city councilmen decided last night to have three stop signs in the Hilary Drive-Howard Drive intersection, rather than compel a homeowner to take down his fence to improve sight distance at the corner.

City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker recommended that 40 feet of a fence at 101 Howard Drive be removed, as well as some trees at 100 Howard Drive. He said there have been three injury accidents in three year, two of them involving boys on bicycles.

Hildreth L. Stong of 404 Hilary Drive, speaking for the De Mar property owners, argued that if the fence were removed, the city should pay the expense.

Property owner Ronald S. Jack said he was shocked to learn the city engineer wanted him to take down his fence.

Foreaker agreed the obstructing fence would be less of a sight hazard if three signs were installed to control traffic.

Councilman Gordon W. Strawbridge objected to a "proliferation of stop signs" and voted against installing them, but he was alone. Councilman Branwell D. Fanning was absent.

The council decided trees could be removed "as necessary" in the intersection, in accordance with the city engineer's judgement.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Yesterday we described the surgical treatment of parkinsonism (shaking palsy). The victims usually are over 60 years of age and have tremulousness of the hands and head with marked stiffness of the muscles. In addition there is a mask-like expression to the face.

There are many drugs that control muscle rigidity, tremor or elevate the A few of these are Akineton, Artane, Cogentin, Parsidol, Benadryl, and Elavil. Disipal is used occasionally to control drooling.

SKILLED physical therapy is equally important to keep the individual on the go. Exercise prevents weakness and minimizes stiffness. Fatigue is a poor excuse for not wanting to increase physical activity. Therapeutic exercises such as the stretch-and-pull type are done on a bed or preferably on a mat. The arms and legs are flexed, extended, rotated and bent with or without help.

Stretching a rigid and shortened muscle is extremely important. Activities that improve walking, going up and down stairs, getting out of the auto, and actions associated with eating, dressing, and hygiene are most helpful. All improve performance and when done daily, the victim will become stronger.

Swimming, floating, exercising, or relaxing in warm water is beneficial. These can be done in a pool or in a Hubbard tank. Whirlpool baths and hot packs also have their place. Ultrasonic waves relieve painful areas. Electrical muscle stimulation is recommended ocasionally to improve function of the upper and lower extremities. Dancing improves gait.

There are many assistive or self-help devices with which the individual can eat, drink, write, and hold an electric shaver. Speech therapy may be needed in the total rehabilitation of the victim.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

RH AND BLUE BABY

D. F. B. writes: Would the Rh factor in a husband and wife result in a blue baby?

REPLY

No. A blue baby comes into the world with a defective heart but no one knows why these imperfections exist. To the best of our knowledge, something happens to the mother, such as a bout of German measles during the first three months of pregnancy, that interferes with the development of the heart of the child.

FEVER, INFECTIONS

N. Z. writes: Do all infections cause fever?

REPLY

No. In addition, there are many infections that may or may not be accompanied by fever, particularly respiratory infections, boils, conjunctivitis, and infections of the bladder. Much depends upon the nature of the causative organism and the amount of toxins and other foreign material absorbed.

RELATED GERMS

D. D. writes: In what way could smallpox vaccinations help a person who has cold sores all the time?

REPLY

The theory behind this recommendation is that the herpes virus is related to the virus of smallpox. The results of this method are questionable.

EARLY INVIRONMENT

Mrs. R. writes: Is the emotional pattern of a child set early in life? If so, at what age?

REPLY

Some psychologists are convinced that the personality is determined in the first years of life. But other authorities believe that the effect of early environment is temporary.

Lurie Is Sued For $300,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Millionaire financier Louis R. Lurie was sued for $300,000 yesterday by a broker who claimed the money was due as a fee from sale of the Mark Hopkin sHotel lease.

The broker, Donald E. Werby, said in papers filed in Superior Court that Lurie, who owns the Nob Hill hotel, did not pay him what he promised if he could arrange sale of the lease.

Werby contended he was Lurie's broker earlier this year when New York hotel tycoon Lawrence A. Tisch bought the 20-year lease on the Mark from former movie cowboy Gene Autyr. Lurie was not available for comment.

Junked Car Piles Growing Too Fast

By FRED Mc GEHAN
Advance News Service

That is the conclusion of an Interior Department report. The piles are growing faster — by a million cars a year — than they are being melted into steel.

While the junk heaps are waiting to be fed to furnaces, the best that can be done is to fence them from public view, the report adds, though conceding even this won't be an easy job.

The report, prepared by the department's Bureau of Mines, titled "Automobile Disposal: A National Problem," was more than a year in the making. All sections of the country were canvassed.

Junk and scrap dealers value automobiles for their parts. They have a harder time selling the skeletons and these hulks usually pile up on back lots. As the piles grow, car owners have harder times selling their discarded autos to junk dealers — and in some cases must pay to have their cars hauled away. Often it is cheaper just to abandon a car along the roadside.

The report finds that more than seven million cars are being junked each year with about six million of these being processed for furnace feed. A backlog of one million is left to rust on backlots.

It estimates the backlog of abandoned vehicles is nine million. Other figures have unofficially placed the backlog anywhere between 20 and 40 million vehicles.

"Junk cars cannot be eliminated from the scene," the report concludes, "if for no other reason than that millions must be processed annually, but almost complete utilization can be achieved and the esthetic problems reduced to a minimum."

To do this, it says, new ways have to be found to upgrade the quality of auto scrap. Many car skeletons contain too much copper to suit steel makers and consequently fetch low prices — about $20. other, high-grade scrap brings up to $60 from steel makers.

Transportation costs are high —about $10 to $12 per gross ton —and this also acts as a deterrent to rapid processing of the hulks.

Local government, the survey finds, is doing little to empty junkyards. This could be remedied, the report says.

"There are indications that inventories could be reduced and the movement of junk cars through auto wreckers' yards could be accelerated if licensing or tax systems made a specific charge for every vehicle in inventory at the end of each year," it says.

But "in the present circumstances," it adds, "the best prospects of improving appearance lie in fencing, screening, zoning, and building regulations."

Plans Withdrawn

Plans for a Chrysler auto agency at Casa Buena Drive and Conow Street in Corte Madera, submitted to the Corte Madera Board of Design by the William H. McDevitt Co. were withdrawn last night after the board suggested some modifications.

Read this. It could happen to you.

This letter is based on actual mail sent each year to people whose carelessness causes a forest fire.

Yet huge as this bill is, it only covers the cost of putting the fire out—not the cost of the damage done.

And the people responsible for many forest fires are not always located.

So the cost of the fire is borne by you and other innocent taxpayers.

Just because someone else was careless.

Remember. Only you can prevent forest fires.

Will It Be Cassius, Ali Or Pvt. Clay?

Independent-Journal Sports

'ues., March 28, 1967 21

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston draft board spokesman says the normal churning of administrative machinery could produce an Army private named Cassius Clay 16 days from now if the heavyweight champ's court fights with the Selective Service system fail.

Clay's draft board in Louisville, his old home town, said yesterday it had granted his request for induction into the Army in Houston, his new home town. His old orders told him to report in Louisville on April 11.

Clay's managers announced a suspension of talks about future title defenses and, as Muhammad Ali, Black Muslim minister, Clay remained in Dallas, recruiting converts for Allah.

He paused to tell reporters, "If I thought it would bring freedom, justice and equality for 22 million so-called Negroes, you wouldn't have to draft me. I'd join tomrrow."

The induction switch from Louisville to Houston meant an automatic delay described as "indefinite," but Mrs. Josie W. Koonce, chief clerk for all Houston draft boards, said that "indefinite" under law meant a minimum of one day and probably will mean no more than three weeks or a month at most.

She said it is up to the Army now to decide whether or not it will accept Clay from among the other Houston draftees and out-of-town draftees sent its way.

"As far as I've found, there's no reason why he won't be inducted," she said. "We don't know what dates we have on our calls. Some calls are in April, but our calls are small now."

Clay could be told as early as April 12 to report to the induction center in a brick building in downtown Houston. There, he would take the oath and be sent on to Fort Polk, La., for basic training if current policy holds.

Clay already has lost draft appeals in Kentucky and Texas in which his lawyers claimed that he is a draft-exempt minister. Mrs. Koonce said no further appeal is open to him before his Louisville board or the Selective Service's Houston office.

A hearing is scheduled tomorrow in Louisville on a suit challenging the original induction order because of alleged exclusion of Negroes from Clay's draft board in Louisville.

One of the champ's lawyers also has asked the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati for permanent injunction to block Clay's induction.

In Chicago yesterday, Clay's manager, Herbert Muhammad, said all negotiations for fights have come to a halt.

"We still have a fight with Thad Spencer tentatively scheduled in July for San Francisco," Herbert said. "We could try to move that up pending just what develops on Muhammad Ali's draft status."

There was speculation that the Spencer fight will be moved up from July to sometime in May if Clay's lawyers can win that much time.

"But all fights outside the United States are definitely out," Herbert said. That apprently includes Clay's fight scheduled May 27 in Tokyo against Argentina's Oscar Bonavena.

Court Denies Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 5th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals denied heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's motion today for a court order to keep him from being inducted into the Army on April 11.

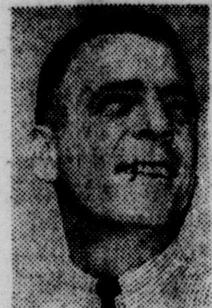
BURNS GOING TO GIVE TIRED SEALS A REST

OAKLAND (UPI)—Now that the California Seals have cinched fourth place and a playoff berth, they can rest some of their tired veterans.

Coach Charlie Burns said that second liners like Jim McClosky, Ray Cyr, Bob Kabel and Bob Leiter would carry the brunt of the action when San Diego comes to call tomorrow in the lid-lifter of the final week of regular season play.

Burns also hopes that Ron Harris, out with knee ligaments for two months, plays against San Diego.

The coach also wants a backup goalie to help out Jack McCartan. He voiced the hope the league would give the Seals San Diego's Les Binkley as a spare.



JIM GILMARTIN

EL PERFECTO—William Lee, an offspring of Terra Linda High School, is one of those rare birds who doesn't know what it is like to lose a college baseball game.

Now a junior at University of Southern CaLEEfornia, this left-handed, 20-year-old pitcher has won 12 straight games for the Trojans—four last year, during which he compiled a 2.25 earned run average and hurled eight scoreless innings in two College World Series appearances, and eight more already this season, including the championship victory in last week's Marine Corps Recruit Depot Tournament at San Diego. His ERA this season is a scintillating 1.25.

BARBARA DONDERO

A reliever last year, Lee has graduated to starting assignments and is a vital cog in USC's hopes for a second straight "world" college title. Unlike most hurlers, he can help his own cause offensively, as his .400 batting average in 15 trips to the plate last season will attest.

Maybe You Can Win 'Em All

If anyone tells you, "Well, you can't win 'em all," just point to William Lee's 12-0 collegiate record. (Hmm? How do I know if Lee is attending USC on a Grant?)

PLAY FOR PAY—Pro football will provide considerably more local color for us Marin Countians next season with no less than six favorite sons on big league rosters—a 100 per cent increase over last year.

The three newcomers to the play-for-pay ranks are Martin Baccaglio of Novato, and Lyle Baucom and Elmer Collett, Tamalpais alumni. You will remember each of them as an all-star high school lineman.

San Diego Chargers Got Baccaglio

Baccaglio, who went from Novato High to College of Marin, thence to San Jose State grid stardom, was enslaved by the San Diego Chargers of the American League on the 14th round of the recent player draft. He's an offensive tackle at 6-4, 225.

Baucom, a 6-6, 260-pound squirt who played middle guard for San Francisco State, was selected on the 17th round by the Washington Redskins.

Collett, an offensive guard at S.F. State, was drafted as a "red shirt" in his junior year by the 49ers and Kansas City Chiefs and already has signed a bonus contract with the 49ers.

Marin's veteran professionals are Matt (Tam High) Hazeltine, linebacker of the 49ers; Ron (San Rafael) Snidow, defensive end for the Redskins; and Reg (Drake) Carolan, tight end for AFL champ Kansas City.

Four Super Locals In Super Bowl?

Thus, things could get exciting next season if the 49ers and Chiefs win their league titles. We'd have possibly FOUR super local angles in the Super Bowl.

Miss Dondero, 20, a junior history major at U.C. Santa Babs, was the choice of some 5,000 male students who vote each year for the relays queen (Those boys are on the right track, relay they are.)

Anyway, Queen Dondero plans to teach elementary school upon graduation and they didn't have school marms like THAT in my day.

Juan Says He'll Be Ready For Opener

Joins His Teammates After Ending Holdout

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two-time holdout Juan Marichal waited until the National League season opener was only 15 days away, then flew in, quickly signed a $100,000 San Francisco contract and said he's almost ready to pitch.

The league's greatest righthander — 25-6 last season and a 93-game winner in four years — compromised halfway between his $75,000 of last season and original demand of $125,000.

STONEHAM DETERMINED

He had come down to $110,000 but Stoneham told a news conference "Other players deserved raises and I was determined not to go above $100,000."

Marichal had wanted to equal the now-retired Sandy Koufax's $125,000 of last year—the same figure which makes outfielder Willie Mays the Giants' highest paid player.

Marichal said, "I feel I'm in condition and ready to go right to work" and did, with coach Hank Sauer catching.

Sauer, pleased, said, "Juan's in fine shape. Don't worry about him. He'll be ready to go five innings by the end of the week."

Marichal suited up today with his teammates for a game with the Chicago Cubs. The Giants beat the California Angeles yesterday, 3-2 in 10 innings to take their series 2-1 and post an 11-7 Cactus League mark.

Jack Hiatt's home run opening the 10th inning gave Frank Linzy the pitching victory and Jim Coates the loss.

TO GET START

The Dominican ace is expected to get a five-inning start next weekend when the Giants play the Angels at Phoenix Friday, then move to San Diego to play the Cleveland Indians Saturday night and Sunday. That gives him only four days in spring training quarters.

Juan swears he'll be ready. He reduced from 205 to 194 pounds the past two weeks while working out daily in his native Santo Domingo.

"It was hot and the workouts were real good," he told sports writers. "My normal pitching weight is 190 and I'll have no trouble making it."

Marichal, a 1966 holdout also, didn't report last spring until March 22. But he pitched a three-hit victory opening day and won 10 straight before losing.

He promised to be ready to pitch the season inaugural in St. Louis April 11 and also the hometown opener in Candlestick Park against the same Cardinals April 18.

An Early Soccer Merger?

NEW YORK (AP) — A merger between the two new professional soccer leagues appears to be a strong possibility, but negotiations will have to move pretty quickly if it's to be done before the season opens.

Officials of the rival leagues have revealed that they have been holding talks for the last three months, but Dick Walsh, commissioner of the United Soccer Association, said he doubted any merger would be possible this season.

Both the United league and the National Professionaal Soccer League are scheduled to open their season next month, the United in 12 cities and the National in 10.

The National League has a television contract with CBS while the United has been sanctioned by the world body governing soccer so a merger would be advantageous to both.

Walsh, returning from Pittsburgh where meetings were held yesterday, said the National League "approached us to discuss a merger. The door has always been open."

Taking part in the talks were Peter Block of Pittsburgh and Joe O'Neil of San Francisco of the National League and Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Roy Hofheniz of Houston and Earl Foreman of Washington for the United Association.

Group Bids For Bronco Franchise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Phoenix, Ariz., group has offered $8 million for the American Football League franchise of the Denver Broncos, the Washington Post said today.

In a telephone interview with sports writer Dave Brady, Karl Eller, president of the Eller Outdoor Advertising Co. of Arizona, said he made a firm offer last Tuesday to Gerald H. Phipps, chairman of the Denver board.

Eller told the Post he made the offer after Denver voters rejected a bond issue for a $20 million, 55,000 seat stadium by a 2 to 1 margin even though preelection polls indicated the issue would win 54 per cent of the vote.

Phipps since has said he will try to arrange for a privately financed stadium but Eller told Brady he expected to hear from Phipps in a couple of weeks because "it looks to us that he is finding it a tough thing to do."

Phoenix made a bid for a National Football League franchise at a meeting of the NFL owners in Washington last May. At that time, the Phoenix group said it could build a 55,000-seat stadium for $2.5 million within nine months.

Eller said yesterday the stadium could still be built at the price within that time, according to Brady.

49ers Vs. Saints In Exhibition Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco will play New Orleans in Portland, Ore., Aug. 26 preceding the opening of the National Football League season, the 49ers announced yesterday.

In addition to the game with the New Orleans Saints, the 49ers will play two other preseason games in San Francisco, against Cleveland on Aug. 13 and against Dallas on Aug. 20.

Marin 'Cats' Streak Ends; Redwood Golfers Triumph

Schalich, who hurled a one-hit shutout in his last outing, lasted less than three innings, giving up four hits.

The Wildcats, who have been kept busy with a chock-full schedule, did not provide enough help at the plate, getting their three runs on three hits. They are now 4-2, as the loss snapped a four-game winning streak.

GOLF

Redwood's defending Marin County Athletic League golf champs finally got their first meet under their belt and it looks as if it was worth waiting for.

The Giants whipped two San Francisco schools, Lincoln and Washington, 686-695 and 591-604, respectively in a triangular meet at Meadow Club course in Fairfax yesterday. Washington brought only seven golfers to account for the lower scores

George Carewe fired a 91 and Bill Kast had a 95.

SWIMMING

Novato High School's swim teams gave Piner High School of Santa Rosa a double dunking last Saturday as both the varsity and the Bees splashed to easy dual meet victories.

The varsity won, 55-20, and the Bees won, 54-32.

Class B Double Winner— Rod Coady, 200 and 400 freestyle.

Dodgers Scoring But Defense Is Crumbling

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —The Los Angeles Dodgers are beginning to wonder if they paid too high a price last winter, improving an offense that was a national joke in the 1966 World Series.

The defending National League champions are averaging almost six runs a game this spring, a drastic boost for a team that scored only twice last fall in a four-game World Series washout against Baltimore.

But the Dodgers developed severe defensive leaks this month, losing nine of their first 15 exhibitions.

Misplays by two newcomers yesterday let in five runs and helped Pittsburgh win an exhibition from the Dodgers, 5-4.

Center fielder Jim Hickman misplayed a fifth - inning line drive sc badly that the Pirates' Andre Rodgers was able to circle the bases for a three-run, inside-the-park homerun.

Two days earlier, the Dodgers committed five errors in one inning to allow the first four runs in a game won by Philadelphia, 7-1.

This has been happening all spring.

There is no doubt that newcomers Bailey, Hickman and second baseman Ron Hunt have improved the Los Angeles offense.

But Dodger management is beginning to recall what happened to the team in 1962, a great year individually, for many of the players.

Ron Perranoski developed into a spectacular relief pitcher and there were two big starters around—Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax.

But defensive lapses hurt the Dodgers so much that year that they eventually lost the pennant in a post-season playoff with San Francisco.

Though they won the pennant in 1963, the Dodgers didn't become a really sound team until a trade with Washington and an injury to Tommy Davis brought about the changes that led to pennants in 1965 and 1966.

That's when Wes Parker took over at first base, Ron Fairly moved to right field and Lou Johnson replaced the injured Tommy Davis in left field.

But trades have changed the scene again. Because of Johnson's back, Bailey has taken over left field, and Hunt has won second away from Jim Lefebvre, who played the position on two straight title winners.

Lefebvre has moved to an unfamiliar spot, third base, and rookie Gene Michael has been force-fed into the shortstop spot, vacated by the Wills trade.

The long ball made the difference in three other games on yesterday's exhibition schedule. Sam Bowens' three-run homer lifted Baltimore past Washington 4-3, Atlanta cracked five homers in trimming Boston 6-1, and San Francisco catcher Jack Hiatt's 10th inning homer gave the Giants a 3-2 win over the California Angels.

The Chicago White Sox downed the New York yankees 12-7 in a 31-hit struggle, Houston edged Minnesota 7-6 on Dave Adlesh's RBI single in the 12th inning, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 7-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Cleveland 5-4 and the Kansas City-Philadelphia game ended in a 2-2 tie when rain stopped play after nine innings.

Bowens connected off Washington's Camilo Pascual, who was making his first exhibition appearance, following two walks in the seventh inning. Pascual had doubled home a run in the top of the inning to give the Senators a 2-1 lead.

Felipe Alou, Denis Menke, Mack Jones and Rico Carty all homered for Atlanta off ex-Brave Hank Fisher and Clete Boyer rapped a two-run homer in the eighth against Dan Osinski, another former Brave.

The White Sox rapped out 17 hits and battered Mel Stottlemyre for five runs in the eighth inning to outscore the Yankees. Triples by Ken Berry and Tom McCraw sparked the deciding rally.

Pitcher Dan Schneider checked Minnesota on one hit over the final three innings and scored the winning run on Adlesh's two-out single in the Astros' 12th.

Lee May and Vada Pinson each drove in two runs and John Edwards hit a bases-empty homer in Cincinnati's victory over the Cardinals. Ron Santo, who had homered in the second inning, delivered the winner for the Cubs with a fifth-inning sacrifice fly.

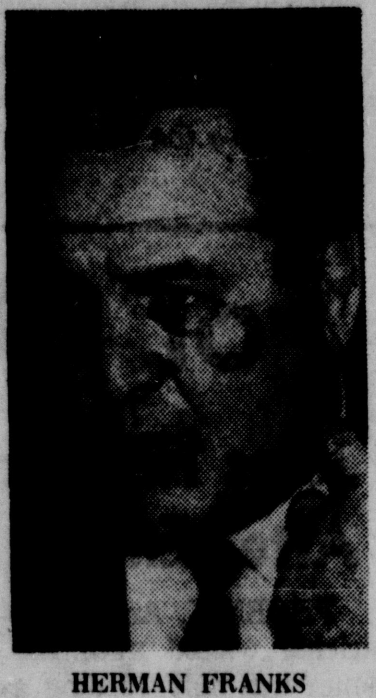
Many Managers Would Like Franks' Problem

PHOENIX — Herman Franks was asked if it would be a problem for him to make the final cuts on the 1967 Giant roster and the manager of the team replied: "You got to be kidding—I'm trying to find 25 players."

As he so often does, Franks then parried questions with his interviewer. "How many we got in camp now?" He didn't wait for the answer because he knew it and supplied it.



HERMAN FRANKS

"You know we got 29 left on the roster and three non-roster players," he continued. "So all I got to cut is one to be at the minimum of 28 for opening day. But I'm thinking about a month after the season opening when we'll be limited to 25. Have we got 25?"

NUMERICALLY, OF course, the Giants still have 32 in camp. So obviously they have 25 players. But what Franks meant was a balanced team of 25 players, the ideal balance being 10 pitchers, six outfielders, six infielders, three catchers.

"Who have we got in the outfield?" asked Franks who once said the Giants were "knee-deep" in outfielders. "I know who our three starters are (Willie Mays, Jay Alou and Ollie Brown) but after that?"

From a selfish standpoint, Franks said he'd like to keep Ken Henderson, Mays' heir apparent. "But I can't have him sitting on the bench," admitted Franks. "He's got to be out playing."

SO WHY not send Henderson out and recall him when Willie needs rests? The silence that met that question indicated that was what probably would be done. And that would leave Frank Johnson and Billy Sorrell as backup outfielders. Neither Johnson nor Sorrell has been impressive this spring. Sorrell is slow-footed. Johnson has had big problems hitting.

Franks knows he is going to have a minimum of seven infielders — Willie McCovey, Hal Lanier, Tito Fuentes, Jim Ray Hart, Jim Davenport, Norm Siebern and Cesar Gutierrez, the rookie surprise of the spring. Gutierrez has demonstrated he can play second base as well as shortstop.

TOM HALLER and Bob Barton are the No. 1 and No. 2 catchers. Jack Hiatt has the inside track for the No.3 catching job because he can also play first and is a fair pinch hitter.

That leaves 10 pitching berths open. Nine of them already have occupants — Bob Bolin, Joe Gibbon, Ron Herbel, Frank Linzy, Juan Marichal, Mike McCormick, Lindy McDaniel, Gaylord Perry and Ray Sadecki. That's the alphabetical listing, not the order of importance.

THUS, BILL HENRY, Don Larsen and Art Mahaffey, the three non-roster pitchers, and Rich Robertson, righthanded rookie who survived two cuts, are the candidates for the No. 10 pitching spot.

Maybe Franks doesn't like that outline of 25 players but there are lots of amanagers who would like to have his problem of selecting 25 men from the Giants still left in camp.

STEVENS

Davis Campbell of the Golden Hinde boatery at Inverness reports that George Matthews landed a nice 36-pound striped bass last week and another one "much bigger, although the exact weight is unknown."

Campbell said Matthews caught the two lunukers while using ghost shrimp.

He also stated that striper striving was "spotty," but some fish—mostly seven to ten pounders—had been caught. Nothing to compare with Matthews' jackpot, however.

ALICE QUAN of China Camp reports fishing on the shell banks near the Pump House has slackened off a bit for the taking of big spawners from 15 to 30 pounds, but that a new run of smaller fish has taken over.

"Many of the boys were using bullhead baits and apparently the smaller bass didn't fancy that size bait," Alice said. "The grass shrimp anglers had much more luck. The fish are here but not so many are being caught."

She added, "lots of flounders are being taken."

THE BACK COUNTRY spots are coming to life, according to latest reports. I talked with Ida Andronica Sunday and was assured that anglers trolling in the Frank's Tract area were getting good results. One angler reportedly took his daily toll of nice stripers using tandem lures on a divided leader.

Mrs. Andronica also reported fair to good black bass fishing at Frank's Tract, mostly on live minnows, and just oddles of nice, fat catfish have come in.

THE LADS who tried the Sacramento River spots for salmon, steelhead and stripers have had very little success due mainly to bad weather and equally bad water conditions.

RUMOR HAS it that Kamloops are active in Folsom Lake. On sunny days the Spin-N-Glow lure is recommended for Folsom while Sail Sharks are best for cloudy days.

Live minnow fishing for Kamloops in Shasta Lake has perked up the past week and artificials such as Repalas and Rebels also have taken fish.

JUDGING BY better tidal action for the weekend, there should be some good fishing on both sides of the ship channel in San Pablo Bay this weekend.

Brewer Moves To Third Spot In Golf Winnings

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Gay Brewer's victory in the Pensacola Open boosted him from fourth to third spot in the Professional Golfers Association list of money winners yesterday.

Brewer trails Julius Boros and Arnold Palmer in winnings in official tournaments, the basis used by the PGA to rate its top 10.

The standings, with official, unofficial and total winnings in order:

1, Julius Boros $47,250., $1,765.23, $49,015.23; 2, Arnold Palmer $45,298.21, $7,729.09, $53,027.30; 3, Gay Brewer $43,747.50, $1,007.59, $44,755.09; 4, Doug Sanders $34,641.50, $13,109.02, $49,750.52; 5, Dan Sikes $25,806.49, $515.50, $26,321.99; 6, Bob Goalby $20,883.33, $2,140.59, $23,023.92; 7, Ken Still $15,189.00, $912.09, $16,101.69; 8, George Knudson $14,617.50, $3,148.50, $17,766.00; 9, Chuck Courtney $13,570.84, $2,813.34, $16,384.18; 10, Bill Collins $12,670,96, $4,662.67, $17,333.63.

Celtics Hope To End Knicks' Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics, optimistic but not overconfident, will try to eliminate the New York Knickerbockers from the National Basketball Association playoffs by winning the game hardly anyone expected to be played.

The game is the fourth of the best-of-5, Eastern Division semifinal series, which most people including the Celtics thought would be over in three games, especially after Boston won the first two.

"Overconfidence beat us. Plainly and simply. I don't think it will happen again."

The Celtics can be excused for being overconfident going into Sunday's game. They had beaten the Knicks 21 straight times dating back to March 17, 1965, and had won 22 straight games with the Knicks at Boston since December, 1962.

New York's victory did something else, too. It ended any prophesying on the part of Russell, who had predicted the Celtics would win the third game.

"That ends my prediction," he said afterwards.

He kept his word yesterday, saying only:

"We have a maximum of two games to play. If we play .500 ball we'll win it."

Boston's John Havlicek, called by many the best sixth man in pro basketball, was optimistic but, following his coach's lead, he was no taking anything for granted.

"I think we can win it," he said, "but I'm sure they feel the same way."

At least one Knick does feel the same way.

"We definitely have a good shot going home," said center Walt Bellamy. "We're loose and confident we can put the same kind of game together."

That kind of game is the Celtics' game — running, sure passing and aggressive defense.

But one of the Knicks who played that kind of game Sunday — Cazzie Russell, who scored 24 points — won't be available tonight. The high-priced rookie reported to Ft. Dix, N.J., yesterday for six months active duty as a National Guardsman.

There are no other games tonight. Philadelphia is awaiting the outcome of the Celtics-Knicks series, and San Francisco and St. Louis don't open the best-of-7, Western Division final set until Thursday.

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Eight teams move into the quarter-finals of the National AAU Basketball Tournament tonight after second- round victories yesterday.

The quarter-finals began at 5:30 p.m., MST, with Akron meeting Spokane. Phillips 66 plays the All-Stars at 7 p.m., Denver meets New York City at 8:30 p.m. and Chicago plays San Francisco at 10 p.m.

Dame Pattie Beats Gretel

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Dame Pattie defeated Gretel by three minutes, seven seconds today in the fourth of the preliminary trials to select Australia's challenger for the America's Cup yachting classic.

This gave Dame Pattie four straight victories in a best-of-7 series of races.

Gretel today had a new skipper, Gordon Ingate, replacing Trygve Halvorsen, who stepped down because, he said, he wanted to see whether Gretel's defeat was a result of his skippering or a fault of the boat itself.

It was not immediately clear whether the boats would continue the trials tomorrow.

Two San Geronimo Golfers Enter Spyglass Tourney

Two Marin County golfers will be among 160 entrants competing in the Northern California Golf Association Public Links Championship at Spyglass Hill Golf Course, Pebble Beach, April 6-7.

They are Michael Rosenberg with a 12 handicap and Ronald Gable with a 25, both out of San Geronimo National Golf Club.

The tournament is divided into three flights by handicap, with the championship flight carrying 0-7 handicaps, the Spyglass Hill Flight, 8-11 and the President's Flight, 12 and up.

Boat Inspection This Weekend At Sausalito

Dockside courtesy inspections of motorboats and sailboats with inboard or outboard auxiliary power will be conducted at most Sausalito yacht facilities Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dark.

The examinations will be made without charge by members of the Sausalito-Tiburon Flotilla 12 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary in the interests of boating safety.

Owners requesting inspection of their boats will be advised of failures to meet legal requirements and of safety shortcomings, but no report will be made to authorities on the findings. Those passing the inspection will be awarded the auxiliary's decal seal of approval.

Inspection points will be the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, the Sausalito municipal launching ramp near Zack's Restaurant and Clipper Yacht Harbors 1-3.

Pirates Favored In N.L.; Big Money Bet On Braves

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Pittsburgh is a 2-1 favorite to win the National League baseball pennant, Las Vegas bookmakers say, but they report more money is being bet on Atlanta than all the other teams in the league.

Atlanta opened as a 10-1 shot to take the pennant, but traffic has been so heavy the odds have been trimmed to 5-1.

In the American League, Baltimore is an 8-5 favorite but most action is on the Minnesota Twins. They opened at 3-1, and now have been cut to 2½ to 1.

The rest of the National League teams behind Pittsburgh are San Francisco 3-1, Philadelphia 5-1, Atlanta 5-1, Cincinnati 6-1, Los Angeles 6-1, St. Louis 8-1, Houston 40-1, and New York and Chicago as an entry 100-1.

Behind Baltimore and Minnesota, the American League lines up with Detroit 4-1, Chicago 7-1, Cleveland 8-1, California Angels 15-1, New York 15-1, and Boston, Kansas City and Washington as an entry 100-1.

Marin College Net Squad Boasts One 'Sure Winner'

College of Marin's Tennis Team carries only a 2-3 won-lost dual meet record so far but it is already on top of the Golden Valley Conference standings and intends to stay there.

Hampered by rainouts, Coach Dick Rad's Tars nevertheless already have toppled Santa Rosa, 6-1, and hope to make it two in a row in conference play when they invade Napa Thursday.

Read has at least one sure winner every time in No. 1 man John Zwieg, the Golden Valley Conference champ last year, who is already 5-0 this year. And Zwieg has a capable if not quite as spectacular backup cast to give the Tars depth.

"Zweig is one of the top junior college tennis players in Northern California," Read said of his top ace. "He could do well in the state tournament, although the company gets pretty fast in that."

Jimmy Bedilion of Redwood is the Tar's No. 2 man. Read describes him as a scrappy go-getter, who is all over the court, a strong defensive player who wont beat himself.

Ken Shane, the No. 3 player, has "real fine strokes and can make the impossible shots." The No. 4 netter is Rich Miller, a "good, sound tennis player who is capable of being a real good one." No. 5 spot is an alternate position filled by either Joe Jeremy or Warren Gray.

"I think we've got a sound team here and should be in good position for a title," Read said. "Shasta and Yuba look to be the strongest competition."

Russ Win Hockey Crown

VIENNA (UPI)—The Soviet Union reigned as the world amateur ice hockey champion for the fifth year in a row today following a controversial 2-1 victory over Canada.

The United States, which entertained little hope of bringing home the big prize, still can finish as high as fourth in the powerful eight-team field with its last game against West Germany scheduled today.

The Yanks, with a 23-1 record, will finish fourth if they beat the last-place Germans and Sweden loses to Canada tomorrow.

U.S. HOPES

"We came here to finish in the top four and we have a solid hope of doing so," said U.S. Coach Murray Williamson. "It would be a big boost for our young team and we should come out strong in the 1968 Olympics at Grenoble with all the experience gathered here."

Russia had to come from behind with goals in the second and third periods to turn back the determined Canadians last night, and Coach Jackie McLeod of Canada complained of the officiating.

"I am sorry for the kids," he said. "They were robbed of at least a tie by the referees' mistake. The second Russian goal was clearly offside. Both referees knew it, but they didn't have the guts to call the goal back."

"We are proud to have triumphed over them," he said. "It was tough, very tough."

The joint announcement was made today by Peter G. Peterson, Bell and Howell president and chief executive officer, and Robert C. Ausbeck, chairman and president of Wilding, Inc.

ALL NEW VOLVO

Sweden's new four-door Volvo 144-S sedan meets most of the federal auto safety standards which do not become law until 1968 and has added a few extras, such as energy absorbing front and rear body sections, rear brake pressure relief valves, rear window defrosters, safety wheel rims and a front seat anti-whiplash device. Steering column contains a breakaway joint to give the driver more protection in a collision. Volvos are sold in Marin at Annex Motors, San Rafael.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Changes Suggested For Better Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "My husband is sick with cancer and there is no hope of improvement. We own Ford Motor, Mobil Oil, Hilton International, Hilton Hotels, American Bakeries and Sun Oil. Can we switch these into other stocks which are secure and will increase our income?" E.F.

A. I am extremely sorry to read of your husband's illness. You have a good list of stocks but in some instances their return is relatively low. I advise you to hold your Ford and Mobil, both of which offer a satisfactory yield. American Bakeries is of lower quality but the dividend appears secure and the present return is above average.

Hilton International directors have approved a merger with Trans-World Airlines and the shares are reflecting that move. No cash dividends are paid and the yield on TWA stock to be received would be relatively low. Solely to improve income, I would switch HIN into Union Pacific, selling on a 5 per cent basis. I would exchange Hilton Hotels for Tenneco, which would put you into a higher yielding and less competitive situation. I advise you to hold Sun Oil, which has regularly supplemented its cash dividend with substantial payments in stock.

Q. "I bought Singer in December, 1965, solely for appreciation. Do you think it will rise in price to 70 during 1967, or should I switch to a more active issue?" J. B.

A. Trying to pinpoint a price range this year for Singer or any other stock is risky business. However, your shares have made no real progress since 1965 and the present low earnings multiple indicates the market's lack of confidence as to the near-term future. A possible slowdown in consumer spending could restrain Singer's earnings. I do not regard the stock as a strong candidate for gains in the current market. However, I would switch to Foxboro for a greater appreciation potential over a longer period.

Market Up; Blue Chips Pace Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed a little higher today. Trading was fairly active.

Selected blue chips kept the averages on the upside throughout the session.

Volume for the first four hours was 6.46 million shares compared with 6.73 million for the like period yesterday.

The market was at its best in the morning but had trimmed its gain considerably by noon.

In early afternoon came news that the United States had accepted U Thant's latest Vietnam peace proposals. There was no immediate reaction to this in the market. An hour or so later, however, there was some slight additional trimming of prices.

New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad recovered a bit from their losses of Monday on news that the Supreme Court had held up their merger. Later, however, Central eased while Pennsy hung on to a small fractional gain.

Eastern Air Lines held a gain of 3 points or so while Pan American was the most heavily traded of the airlines, keeping a fractional gain.

Lionel was pacing the list on volume as it showed a fractional advance. Diamond Alkali, close behind on volume, also gained a fraction.

Up about 2 points were Gulf & Western, and Polaroid. Two-point losses were taken by IBM and Control Data.

Up a point or so were Outboard Marine, Federal Pacific Electric, Jones & Laughlin, International Nickel, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak and Xerox.

Down a point or so were Ford Motor, United Aircraft and General Foods.

Shipping Lines Income Rises

SAN FRANCISCO —A record consolidated net income of $9 million on gross revenue of $107 million was announced today for American President Lines, San Francisco based steamship company, and its affiliated ship-operating company, American Mail Line, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1966.

This compares with $7.7 million for 1965. The annual report was released today by Ralph K. Davies, chairman of the board, and Raymond W. Ickes, president.

The two companies' 31 freighters operated in the outward trans-pacific trade at virtual capacity. Other routes also showed improvements.

All Media Should Have Equal Access To Court

The Assembly Subcommittee on Free Press — Fair Trial has submitted a strong recommendation urging the State Judicial Council to restore live coverage of court proceedings (at the discretion of each judge) which existed prior to November of 1965.

Cameramen and broadcasters have been barred from courtrooms since November, 1965, when the State Judicial Council voted out the discretionary powers which judges previously exercised.

The Judicial Council's ruling forbade the use of cameras and recording equipment, not only during court sessions but also during mid-morning or mid-afternoon recesses. Before that ruling, individual judges could use their discretion to ban or allow camera and broadcasting access. The Judicial Council ruling made the ban mandatory.

An overwhelming majority of testimony before the subcommittee was in favor of restoring the judges' discretionary powers. Extensive testing by the committee revealed that cameras could be hidden or held at lap level, remaining unobtrusive and quiet, so as not to disturb proceedings.

Former Assemblyman George A. Willson, D-Huntington Park, chairman of the subcommittee, says, "Televising courtroom proceedings would have the dual beneficiary effect of more directly involving the average American citizen with the legal system of his country and of educating him on jurisprudence."

"It could also act as a deterrent to crime by showing all Americans—including the potential criminal—the inexorable, inevitable toll justice extracts from lawbreakers," said Willson.

We do not defend the use of popping flashbulbs during a trial or the jamming of microphones into the faces of witnesses testifying. Even before the Judicial Council's ban, such practices were disallowed by individual judges.

But we cannot see why a noiseless and non-flash camera held at lap level in the audience section or a silent recording device should be banned outright, when reporters with pencils and paper and artists with sketch pads are allowed to record the courtroom scene.

The ban discriminates between one media of communication and another. It implies that cameras and recording devices regardless of technological advances, are distractive per se.

The blanket ban on all cameras and recorders limits public access to the courts and is an unfair imposition on those who would use them discretely and in accordance with rules of decorum laid down by the judge in charge of a courtroom.

SNEEZE RESTORES SIGHT TO BLIND MAN

Blind for 14 years, a 49-year-old man was seized with a sneezing fit as he sat before a fire in his home in Chadsmoor, England.

Suddenly after the 14th sneeze, he realized something had happened. "I could see the fireplace and the clock on the wall," he said. "My eyesight went in a flash, and it's come back in a flash."

A similar surprise came to a 65-year-old woman in Derbyshire, England, blind for eight years, who accidentally struck her eye on a vacuum cleaner handle as she was doing her housework. "I straightened up," she recounted, "and began to see streaks of light. It was startling, but a wonderful shock."

Persons who are spiritualy blind experience an even greater surprise and joy when, through some circumstance, they are jolted into seeing the light of divine truth.

Show a tender sympathy for those who are deprived of the great blessing of sight — in body or soul.

Reagan's Citizen Task Force Step In The Right Direction

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—For a good many years, this column has advocated and urged a thorough and comprehensive study of state government by an independent organization well-versed in the principles of business administration, to be conducted with a view toward reducing the overload of unnecessary and inefficient operation which causes costs to mount to unreasonable heights.

Although some studies along this line have been made, there never has been an all-encompassing study which would come up with recommendations placing government administration on a par with the administraiton of private business.

SUCH A STUDY does not appear to be imminent in the immediate future, although some moves along this line are being made by the administration at the present time.

Gov. Ronald Reagan is requesting citizen task forces to move into the various areas of government.

"They're going to move into every area," he said, "and report back the findings of just what business practices could be used to increase efficiency and update procedures."

"The economies so far are just economies we've been able to grab at and see in these few months we've been in office, but we're going to proceed with this whole, overall study."

ALTHOUGH THE Reagan task force studies may not be as extensive as a survey that many believe should be accomplished, they will at least provide the nucleus for continuing surveillance of government administration in an attempt to prevent it from getting completely out of hand.

The contention is often made that government cannot be run like a private business, and there is some validity in this contention. Government administration encounters roadblocks which private business could not survive overnight.

SOME OF THE road-blocks include an entrenched and established civil service empire, which can't be overhauled without a vote of the people, and which cannot be touched without the threat of lengthy legal proceedings. And the history of such proceedings is that the administrator really anxious to do a creditable job of running a department loses in final action.

Another is the fact that laws enacted by the state legislature govern a good part of departmental operation, and when these laws conflict with sound administration, the laws have to take precedence. All of which brings up the fact that any task force looking over administration eventually will have to come up with some recommendations on law changes.

THE FACT THAT state government, partially at least, is run by tradition, is another factor involved. It is much harder to get government out of a rut than it is to change operations in private business.

However, it is a generally accepted fact that moves must be made to reduce government itself, and reduce operation of government to conform to the ability of the public to meet the costs, else like private business, bankruptcy is inevitable.

What About The Education Parks?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Sausalito school board is planning to give up perfectly good schools and build a new "educational park" though their school attendance has been steadily dropping for years!

The Mill Valley school board is talking about tearing down perfectly good schools — one of them our newest, Marin Terrace — and have not even stated where they would put the children.

Both boards expect to ask the voters to pass large bond issues in the near future.

Is there any rhyme or reason to all this? As a taxpayer I'd like to know.

Should Pounds Sell To Research Labs?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Humane Society's mistake of prematurely "executing" a pet cat (Independent-Journal, March 21) was of considerable interest to me. Apparently many of the public believe that most cats taken to a human society animal shelter find new homes. Actually, according to a report published by the State Senate Fact Finding Committee on Public Health and Safety, in the year ending June 30, 1966, the Marin County Animal Shelter received 1,122 cats and destroyed 920, or more than 80 per cent of them. For the whole state of California a total of 265,384 cats were impounded by pounds and humane societies during the same time period and 231,047 of these were destroyed.

My interest in these sad statistics derives from the fact that during the same year, the hospitals and medical schools of the state had great difficulty in obtaining cats for research and teaching activities, and obtained, in fact, only 9,373. A much larger number could have been effectively and humanely used, but the great majority of pounds and shelters refuse to provide cats (and dogs) for research. Instead these animals die in the high altitude or gas chambers of animal shelters.

The readers of the Independent-Journal may find it interesting to consider the 231,047 uselessly destroyed cats the next time they wonder why California is not teaching enough new physicians to keep up with the population, and why more progress isn't made in cures for mental illness and other important diseases.

Good Friday Telecast Is Much Appreciated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Alas, the trend is changing? In spite of our hippies, hoppies, delinquents (juvenile and otherwise) it was most edifying to have a TV program of appropriate subject matter during the Three Hours on Good Friday.

With young children many mothers are unable to attend a church service.

"Christ Our Brother" presented on Channel 5 at 1 p.m. filled this need splendidly; this has been an area which has been completely neglected for at least eight years.

I wish to say "thank you" to the Dominican College Chorale, the Winifred Baker Groups, the director Winifred Baker, and certainly to TV Station KPIX.

Gilmartin's Column Rapped As 'Vicious'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Reference Mr. Jim Gilmartin's attack, this date, on Mr. Mohammad Ali, heavyweight champion of the world.

The springboard for Mr. Gilmartin's vicious column was the sentence "I don't know about you other ex-GI's, but . . . ." Well, I feel six and one half years of active duty plus one and one half inactive reserve service qualifies me to answer Mr. Gilmartin — since he apparently establishes military service as some sort of sacred prerequisite to free expression of ideas!

First, Mr. Ali has repeatedly proven his ability as an athlete. It is possible that he is, as he claims, "the greatest."

Secondly, it has always been my belief that an individual could adopt any name that pleased him. It has never been a crime, per se, to change one's name.

Finally, Mr. Gilmartin's caustic remarks were really directed at Mr. Ali's expressed views concerning the military draft system. One would, of necessity, have to live in a vacuum not to be aware that thousands of young people (not to mention many distinguished lawmakers) are disturbed by our present draft system. Further, to imply that those who dissent are cowardly would seem to be the greatest injustice of all!!

Such colorful phrases as "the video color scheme was dominated by yellow" and "I wonder where the yellow went" should perhaps be saved for publicaltion in Mr. Gilmartin's novel rather than published in an otherwise good newspaper.

I hold no brief for Mr. Ali and his outspoken views relative the draft. However, unless I have completely misunderstood the meaning of our American history, the right to hold and express an unpopular opinion is even more fundamental than devotion to the "red, white and blue" to which Mr. Gilmartin had reference.

I enjoy Mr. Gilmartin's column when he confines his subject to sports — a subject with which he is familiar.

Classical Love . . . And Cupid's Drawer's

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Since I am the artist responsible for the drawing of Psyche and Cupid, which by now appears to have gathered some notoriety, I would like to add a few remarks on the subject.

The remark to Alice Yarish, of the Pacific Sun, and others, of the Independent-Journal, that Cupid was wearing drawers (from Buddha?) appears to me to be a misrepresentation of the truth. I never drew drawers on Cupid. Even Life magazine, which provided my model, did not feel it necessary to "drawer" Cupid. Before Buddha apparently felt that drawers were necessary, he did ask me to move Psyche's thigh up a little bit, so as to cover Cupid's private parts.

I would like to categorically deny ever having drawn drawers on Cupid, Buddha notwithstanding, and cannot understand why anyone would want to defile pure classical love with such an obscene suggestion.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

MOST FAMOUS train in American railroad history unquestionably was the New York Central's "Twentieth Century Limited," which everybody who was anybody took to go from New York to Chicago, or vice versa. That was in the days, of course, before airplanes made passenger trains virtually obsolete.

Aboard the very first run of the Century in June, 1902, was the celebrated gambler, "Bet-a-Million" Gates. When the train pulled into the Chicago terminal, he was so ecstatic that he burbled, "The Century will make New York a suburb of Chicago" — then impulsively climbed aboard the Eastbound section and rode right back to Manhattan. There he diplomatically informed reporters, "This train will make Chicago a suburb of New York."

THIS TRAIN WILL MAKE...

A REMARKABLY good but grouchy medico in New York is fondly referred to as "Sunshine" by nurses and patients — behind his back, of course. A society matron came to his office last week to complain, "Every time I lift my right arm, the pain is excruciating." "Ah," remarked kindly Dr. "Sunshine." "What a fool you are to lift it."

LBJ-Ho Chi Minh Exchange Is Ambiguous As A Union Parley

WASHINGTON — If you had trouble understanding the correspondence between President Johnson and Ho Chi Minh, maybe they did, too. They went at it like a labor leader and a management man negotiating a contract.

AMBIGUITY rather than clarity is sometimes considered a virtue in labor-management talks, at least in the beginning for bargaining purposes. The peace talk letters between Johnson and the president of North Vietnam were ambiguous.

Four times Johnson ordered a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, each time hoping North Vietnam would reciprocate by toning down its side of the war. Such an action would be considered a desire to talk peace.

EACH TIME, Johnson said, he got no peace signal. He refused to order an indefinite bombing pause for this expressed reason: It would provide a one-sided advantage for North Vietnam because the bombing was intended to put a cramp in troop reinforcements North Vietnam was sending into the South and in the supplies it was sending to its troops already there.

Thus a bombing pause, unless North Vietnam took some reciprocal action, would let the North Vietnamese send troops and supplies into the South unmolested to kill Americans there. So, to get peace talks started, Johnson wrote Ho Chi Minh a proposal.

He told the North Vietnamese he was ready to stop the bombing and sending more U.S. troops to Vietnam "as soon as I am assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and sea has stopped."

THIS MUST have left Ho Chi Minh guessing a bit. Johnson didn't say how he would have to be "assured" infiltration into the South had stopped. The North Vietnamese might interpret that as meaning Johnson would keep the bombing going quite a while after the infiltration had stopped before he felt "assured" it had ended.

And what did Johnson mean by infiltration? Did he just mean North Vietnam must stop sending new troops into the South? Or did he mean both new troops and supplies for the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong already there?

SINCE JOHNSON didn't demand a pause in the fighting in South Vietnam — along with a bombing pause and an end to infiltration—what would North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam do if the fighting continued and they had no supplies?

Further, while Johnson said he would send no more U.S. troops to Vietnam if the infiltration stopped, he didn't say he would stop sending supplies. So, was he saying it would be all right to pump supplies into U.S. troops in South Vietnam but not all right for North Vietnam to do the same for its troops?

Ho Chi Minh, in turn, had some ambiguities of his own. For two years he had repeatedly said there could be no settlement in Vietnam unless the United States pulled out all its troops and supplies and let the Vietnamese settle their own problems, and unless the Viet Cong could take over the South.

THOSE HAD been Hanoi's terms. But there's a big difference between a final settlement and peace talks leading to a settlement. And for two years Ho Chi Minh was vague on whether peace talks had to produce Hanoi's settlement.

Then he answered Johnson, repeating some of Hanoi's terms, but not quite. He didn't say the Viet Cong must be allowed to take over the South. But he said the bombing must be stopped "definitively" and "unconditionally."

In the next paragraph he said before there could be peace talks the United States must stop the bombing "unconditionally" — which is what Johnson had said he wouldn't do —and stop "all other acts of war."

What "other acts of war"? That could mean almost anything and Ho Chi Minh didn't get specific. He seemed to be leaving himself a bargaining point. How could Johnson agree to anything as vague as that? He couldn't and won't.

Instead of going on from this point to find out what each other had in mind, the two sides apparently are going on as if there had been no letters.

THERE WAS disappointment in this country that Ho Chi Minh, instead of being so final about it, didn't suggest further explorations. But, for that matter, Johnson didn't, either.

Studies Decidedly Of Debatable Value

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Another federal agency is spending a hefty portion of its funds on scores of studies, analyses and surveys — of decidedly debatable value.

The U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, established by the Kennedy administration in 1962, has spent approximately $25 million for so-called research projects out of a total of $53.831 million in appropriations.

This is slightly less than half of the funds Congress has voted the agency in the six years of its existence.

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO this column disclosed that the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program, had spent $7,788,365, as of June 30, 1966, on a lengthy list of inquiries, assessments, evaluations and other such activities — none of which appeared to get at the real problems of poverty, such as training the unemployed and providing jobs for them.

Congressional authorities in charge of anti-poverty legislation are bluntly characterizing these projects as largely boondoggles with the primary purpose of dishing out funds to certain individuals, concers, organizations and colleges.

The same charge is being made against the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency — which has yet to record any achievement of note.

REP. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, member of the Foreign Affairs Committee and a leading economy advocate, in bringing this latest large-scale boondoggling to light also uncovered other significant details:

Many of the ACDA research contracts went to corporations engaged in defense work.

Of the agency's 157 permanent employees, 106 receive $10.000 or more in salary: 13 get $25,000 or over; 23, $20,000 or more; 45, $15,000 or over; and 24, $10,000 or more. The director gets $30,000.

For the fiscal year starting July 1 the agency is asking another $10 million — of which $5.835 million is earmarked for still more "contract research."

FOREMOST AMONG THE corporations that got these ACDA research projects are Aerojet-General, Aerospace, Sylvania Electric Products, Sperry-Gyroscope, Bendix.

Illustrative of these studies and surveys are the following:

SYLVANIA ELECTRIC Products, $354,000 for "Design and Evaluation of Inspection Systems for a Ban on Weapons of Mass Destruction in Space and for Restrictions on Missile Flight Tests''; Aerospace, $217,700 for "Implications and Inspection of Restrictions on Missile and Military Space Systems RDT&E Activity"; Stanford, $267,688 for "Arms Control and Disarmament Concepts and the Military Environment in the European Area."

Annexation Means Starting Water District Over Again

When the North Marin County Water District board annexed the area around the upper end of Tomales Bay to its district last week, the board was in a sense starting all over again. The analogy between that annexation and the formation of the North Marin District is striking.

Both areas were and are served by private companies which were not doing an adequate job for the people in the area or keeping up with the growth. At least that is what the people thought or did think. Both had turned to the Marin Municipal Water District with slow if not negative results.

SO THE NORTH Marin District was formed in 1948. There were 360 customers served by the Novato Water Co., which was valued at $63,000. The area was served by wells which could not handle the mushrooming growth that was to come.

The district set about on a long range program of service to the area. It had to modernize the distribution system; enlarge it as the city suddenly became the fastest growing in the county; insure adequate water supply and get the best employees it could.

It has succeeded in doing these things. The construction of Stafford Dam brought the first water supply and when the city outgrew this, the district constructed a 30 inch pipe line to bring Russian River water to the city.

IN DOING ALL of this, the district has acquired experience and has surrounded itself with a qualified engineering staff.

Now in the West Marin annexation, the district has acquired more water customers, 580 of them, than in the original North Marin District. There are three water companies serving the area from wells and springs.

They are the Point Reyes Water Co. with 160 customers and a book value of $29,400; the Inverness Water Co., with 360 customers and a book value of $230,000 and the Inverness Park Water Co. with 66 customers and a book value of $3,113, said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

NOW THE DISTRICT must organize that area into one with better water distribution, better mains and hydrants for fire protection and a better source of water.

Only this time, the district has 19 years experience, good engineers and a much better concept of what should be done.

Board Chairman Arnold Heise said that the new annexation was just like starting the district all over again.

If the West Marin area grows with subdivisions and new people the same as Novato did after it got water, then it is in for the largest growth in its history.

ONCE UPON a time, all pickles were yellow. They would be put up in the fall and kept throughout the winter. Then the first ones to escape in the spring would be so frisky they could be seen dancing all over the hills as if they were crazy.

The other pickles which were still confined turned green with envy and have remained so until this day, green pickles in the jars as we see them.

We see the others all over the yards and farms in Marin County this time of year and we still hear the prople exclaim at their bright yellow forms: "look at those daffy dills."

Tiny Insect Is Threat To Crops

BERKELEY (SS) — A newly discovered spider mite threatens California's tomato and potato crops; a natural enemy is being sought to fight the pest.

Found so far in San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange Counties, the 1/32-of-an-inch pest carries the name Tetranychus marianae.

So far, the mite has not been found in commercial potato or tomato fields, but its presence nearby poses a "direct threat to both crops, with serious economic consequences," says Dr. Earl R. Oatman of the University of California. California tomatoes in 1965 were woth $164 million; potatoes, $127 million.

Dr. Oatman will travel to Central America and Mexico, source of the mite, in search of a natural enemy that could be used as a control.

Move Over, Job, Make A Little Room For Old Al

IT IS STILL true that "reading maketh a full man." But what Bacon neglected to add was that one must be careful in his selection or he'll become full of the wrong things.

That is why, though I sometimes identify myself with the long-suffering Job, I am not one to wish my adversary would write a book. Ten to one the said book would make the best-seller list and be cited as gospel to attack me. And things are tough enough now.

These melancholy observations are occasioned by the fact that a number of dismayed conservatives send me from time to time some palpably left-leaning excerpts from the textbooks their children are required to read, and ask me to comment on them.

BUT IT IS MANIFESTLY unfair to discuss a volume on the basis of one or two pages. Any value judgment, to have substance, would require that the critic had gone through the entire book. And for that I simply haven't the time. As it is, there stare at me a dozen volumes I've promised myself to read but haven't been able to get around to.

Let me suggest then, that, for an honest appraisal, they write to the Textbook Evaluation Committee, America's Future, 542 Main Street, New Rochelle, N.Y. 10802. Here a number of conservative educators — there are still some, incredible as it seems — have reviewed more than 400 social science texts currently used in our secondary schools.

I do not envy them. The last textbook I waded through, "Land of the Free," a history designed for eighth-graders, ran to 658 pages—and wasn't much fun. There were moments I envied Job, boils and all.

BUT THE CALIFORNIA State Board of Education had appropriated over a million dollars for the tome. The three authors were all simon-pure liberals, and some printed excerpts from the volume had brought such a hue-and-cry from ultra-conservatives (are there any other kinds?) that I felt it my duty to read every word. And I stuck it out, too — though I found myself using some Anglo-Saxon expletives now and then.

But, in its way, it was a tour de force. The pages had more southpaw slants than Sandy Koufax — and I sat behind home plate when Sandy pitched a no-hitter. When three sinister historians — I use the adjective in its original Latin sense of "toward the left" — get together, patriotism is skunked.

THERE WAS NOT A word, however, that any objective, middle-of-the road liberal (are there any other kinds?) could fault. It was a dispassionate view of American history, illuminated by the light shed on our past and present by such critics as Walter Reuther, Stokely Carmichael, Bertrand Russell, and the editors of "Ramparts." There was none of that fatuous de Tocqueville nonsense about it. Just the facts, ma'am.

But the rightist witch-hunters shamelessly called it a perversion of history, and managed to extort a dubious "confession" from a Curriculum Commission member who had approved the book, and got him to concede that it was "slanted and biased." The Supreme Court did not intervene in his behalf, and so some 36 "errors" have now been erased.

I haven't read the revised edition — nor do I intend to. I'd not like it any better if only 36 errors (the number comes from an educator) were rectified. I found at least that many in every chapter.

BUT IN SUCH MATTERS, it is well to observe the rules of the Establishment. To question the bias and authenticity of a right-winger's output is sound criticism and meaningful dialogue. But to question a left-wing historian is book-burning and interference with academic freedom. It is of the utmost importance to realize there is a world of difference between the two, in spite of the superficial similarity.

I would point to the sad case of Al Capp as a horrible example. When that satirical cartoonist was lampooning conservative foibles, he was the darling of the intellectuals. Now that he's satirizing leftist foibles, his name is mud.

Jayne Files For Damages

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Film actress Jayne Mansfield, claiming her estranged husband Matt Cimber struck and bit her, filed a $345,000 assault and battery suit against him yesterday.

The entertainer said Cimber, whose real name is Thomas Vitale Ottaviano, assaulted her four times last April, using his "fists and mouth."

She said she was unable to work after Cimber allegedly "kicked and stomped" and hit her "about the face and body in a fit of rage."

Miss Mansfield asked $250,000 in general damages, $50,000 punitive damages and $45,000 for loss of employment. She said she also planned to seek medical expenses at the time of the trial.

Jury Trial Slated On Armed Robbery

Jury trial for Loverd Howard, 18, charged with armed robbery, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for the week of May 22.

Probation Granted In Novaao Burglary

Harold Edward Walker, 28, was given a suspended year's term in county jail and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for second degree burglary.

Walker, of Richmond, had pleaded guilty to the Dec. 15 break-in of Firestone store in Novato. Two counts of vehicle theft were dismissed following the plea.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, March 28, the 87th day of 1967 with 278 to follow.

The moon is between its full and last stages. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

American conductor Paul Whiteman was born on this day in 1890.

On this day in history:

In 1965, more than 400 persons drowned following an earthquake in Chile.

A thought for the day—American novelist Gertrude Franklin Atherton once said: "Women love the lie that saves their pride, but never the unflattering truth."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Learn How To Take Finesses Or Leave 'Em Safely Alone

You can avoid a severe case of bridge poisoning if you learn how to take finesses or leave them alone. Test yourself with today's hand, part of a week-long series on choosing the right finesse.

ACE WINS

West leads the jack of spades, and you hopefully play the queen from dummy. East puts up the king of spades, and you win with the ace.

Should you lead the 10 of diamonds and try a finesse in that suit? Or should you get to dummy and lead the jack of clubs for a club finesse? As a matter of mathematics, one finesse is just as likely to succeed as the other.

FINESSE OUT

If you have been peeking at the cards you will notice that neither finesse works in this case. Life is sometimes very cruel.

Despite the unfortunate location of the missing high cards, an expert would make the contract. The expert tries to develop both the clubs and the diamonds by playing to drop the missing honor in one suit, with a finesse in the other suit in reserve.

RIGHT CHOICE

If you begin by leading the ace of clubs, the king is very unlikely to drop. The odds are almost 17 to 1 against such luck.

If you begin by leading out the ace and king of diamonds, the odds are against capturing the queen—but the odds are only 2 to 1 against this luck. This is a better shot than playing for the singleton king of clubs.

FIRST TRY

Try first for the singleton or doubleton queen of diamonds. When the queen drops, take your nine tricks without a finesse: five diamonds, one spade, two hearts and one club. If the queen of diamonds failed to drop you would lead the jack of clubs from dummy and let it ride for a finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K 7 6 5
♥ Q J 5 4
♦ Q 6
♣ 5 3 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You have 8 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton. Even if you also count 1 extra point for the queen or jack of partner's bid suit, you still have only 10 points and you can afford to make only one unforced response. Prefer to raise partner's major suit rather than bid a new suit (spades) of your own.

Fifteen per cent of families with incomes of more than $15,000 own a vacation home, according to a survey by the University of Michigan. Nine per cent said they have plans to acquire one.

Soldier Given Life In Death

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP)—Pvt. James Edward Hughes, 23, of Canton, Miss., was sentenced to life imprisonment by a U.S. court martial yesterday for the murder of an American woman schoolteacher, an Army spokesman said today.

The 53-year-old widowed teacher, Mrs. Elma R. Allen, of Woodside, Calif., was found strangled at a U.S. Army women's residence at Bad Kitzingen Jan. 12. Her body was discovered by her 75-year-old mother, who was visiting her daughter.

Hughes, who was arrested Jan. 14, was accused of choking Mrs. Allen and attempting to rape her.

Sailor Leaps To His Death

Man's Trial On Murder Reinstated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A man charged with shooting a minister's son to death will be prosecuted in San Francisco Superior Court by order of the State Court of Appeal.

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington threw out the manslaughter charges against Claude King, 23, but the appeal court yesterday ordered prosecution reinstated.

King contended he was protecting his property when he fired a shot that killed Howard Ray Frazier, 17, last Aug. 30. King said he saw the victim and two other boys stripping his car.

Frazier was the son of the Rev. O. C. Frazier, pastor of Zion Chapel Church of God.

Elkington said he was dismissing the charge against King because he was justifiably using force to prevent a felony, to which the appeal court replied:

"The fallacy of such thinking is that the evidence before the court shows nothing more than car-stripping, a misdemeanor."

Diamond Ring Still Unclaimed By Owner

Wasps Face Career Fighting Bollworms

BERKELEY (SS) — Millions of tiny Peruvian wasps are being raised by the University of California for release against the cotton bollworm and the pink bollworm.

The insects, about 1/30th of an inch long, achieve 90 per cent control of bollworms in Peru and Colombia, without use of insecticides. They lay their eggs in the worm's eggs, which their larvae eat.

Architect's Estate Sued Over Costs

The estate of nationally known Belvedere architect John Lord King yesterday was sued for $1,400,000 because King allegedly underestimated the cost of the Shelter Bay Apartments building project north of Richardson Bay Bridge.

The plaintiffs, Alcan Pacific Co., Alcan-Marin Ltd., and George Leo Zaro, charge in the Marin Superior Court suit that King — hired as architect for a five-building phase of the construction — submitted plans estimating a total cost of $2,092,000.

With completion of the phase, however, the cost was $3,500,000, or about $1,400,000 in excess of King's estimate, according to the suit.

It states that under an Aug. 1, 1962, agreement with King, he was to provide plans for all architectural services, structural, civil, mechanical, electrical engineering, and landscaping work.

He failed to prepare plans and specifications that would meet state and county building code requirements, and his plans had to be changed at a cost to the plaintiffs, the suit charges. It alleges King and co-defendants John Lord King Associates were either incompetent or knowingly underestimated the cost.

Watutsi, the legendary giants among African tribesmen, average only 5 feet, 9 inches, says the National Geographic.

Two-Phase Building For Education Park

Sausalito School District trustees last night voted to build the proposed "educational park" at Bayside School in two steps, with facilities for kindergarten through fourth grade to be built first.

Vote on the two-stage construction was 4-1, trustee Harold L. Sleight dissenting. Sleight is opposed to consolidation of all schools on one site.

In addition to classrooms, the first stage will include library, office and "cultural arts" facilities, reported Supt. Phillip W. Schneider. The "educational park" will cost at least $3.4 million, architects Weisbach, Boutmy and Silver previously estimated.

Richardson Bay School will continue in use until the site is sold, trustees agreed. Real estate experts have advised the district that use of the site probably could continue for about a year after it is sold, Schneider said.

Trustees deferred ordering sale of the Richardson Bay and Central School sites pending a report tomorrow at 8 p.m. in city hall by the city's "701" planning consultants. The consultants are expected to recommend that the district retain a portion of the Richardson Bay site as recreation facilities. Most of the city tennis courts are there.

Trustees agreed to consider at their April 10 meeting sale of the two sites and the timing and amount of a bond issue to finance the "educational park." The district's finance committee has recommended a bond election, perhaps in November, to bond the district up to its limit of $1.4 million. It now has no bonded indebtedness.

Betty Hutton Claims Libel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Betty Hutton has filed a cross-complaint against her landlords asking $350,000 in damages on grounds of libel.

In the suit yesterday, Miss Hutton named David and Barbara Simons of Laguna Beach, from whom she leased a home.

The Simmons, in a suit earlier this month, asked for $19,000 in back rent and damages from Miss Hutton and her estranged husband, musician Pete Candoli.

The Simmons suit accused Miss Hutton of "having a bad deputation" and of being addicted to barbituates and alcohol.

Copper Pipe Taken

Plumber Lawrence Ramatici of Woodacre reported to San Rafel police yesterday copper water pipe, valued at $60, was stolen from a house under construction on Bret Harte Road during the past week.

Schools Chief Puts Down Sausalito Pupil Transfers

Contrary to claims that 150 children have been withdrawn from Sausalito schools since September, only six have been transferred to private or parochial schools in that period, Supt. Phillip W. Schneider reported last night to district trustees.

A curvey by the county schools office, he said, showed 13 per cent of children in kindergarten through eighth grade throughout the county attend private or parochial schools. In Sausalito, the figure is 14.5 per cent, only 1.5 per cent more than the county as a whole, he said.

There are 150 Sausalito children not in the public school system, Schneider reported. They attend 23 private and parochial schools. Marin Country Day School has the largest number of Sausalito pupils, with 54, up from 35 in 1965-66.

The transfers this year were of three children at Central School and three at Richardson Bay School. There were no transfers to private or parochial schools from Manzanita or Bayside schools, Schneider said.

Enrollment last September was 1,015. On March 1, it was 985, including 102 Mill Valley children at Richardson Bay School, Schneider reported.

Trucks Are Oit In Salvage Yard

Juveniles are believed responsible for breaking into three trucks at Marin Salvage, 444 Du Bois Street, San Rafael and stealing tools and equipment worth $45, police reported today. Items missing included a rope and fire extinguisher.

Three trucks at Camgros Materials, 532 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael were also reported broken into and $14 worth of equipment stolen.

Drug Charges To Dean's Son

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—Keith Kilburn, 21, son of a dean at Bakersfield College, is charged with selling LSD and will be arraigned on Monday.

Kilburn, son of Dr. H. Parley Kilburn, dean of the college's evening division, was arrested last Saturday at his parents' home and released on $550 bond pending arraignment.

Friendly Germs May Transform Desolate Sahara Into Paradise

VIENNA (UPI) — An Austrian biologist believes he can transform the Sahara and the other great deserts of the world into rich agricultural areas through a natural compost he has developed with the aid of some practically invisible friends.

Dr. Ludwig Holzinger found his friends — a highly active strain of bacteria — after years of painstaking experimental work. With their aid, he said, he can produce rich compost from any kind of biological refuse from bark to waste wood.

Holzinger's theory has roused a good deal of interest in biological circles in the small, mountainous country which has no urgent agricultural problem of its own. If successful it would be a forward step in feeding the additional millions the world will have to learn to support because of the population explosion.

Compost is a mixture of decaying leaves used as a natural fertilizer. Holzinger had the idea that roughly ground bark, a waste product of lumbering, might be suitable for the same purpose if he could hasten its decomposition. He says the bacteria do a first class job in two to three months.

His process is based on aerobic decomposition — not simply decay as in the case of leaf mold — in which high temperatures develop and the bacteria produce growth factors, enzymes and humins.

Holzinger said the process has been successfully tested in Finland. More than 20 million cubic yards of bark become available ehere every year. And if it became practical proposition Finland's geographical situation would make possible cheap transportation by sea.

Water is not the basic problem, in his view, since the Sahara is known to have subterranean water. What he believes must be done is to replace the granules of humus eroded from the deserts. And he thinks his bacteria can do that.

FOR THE GIRL WHO KNOWS CLOTHES
R and K Originals plays up the fashion power of the stripe and adds a gentle scarfing at the shoulder. Fabric is 65 per cent Dacron polyester, 35 per cent cotton. In green and turquoise, sizes 10-18, at Emporium Marin, Northgate Fashion Mall.

Turtlenecks Still Strong Contenders

Mock and full turtleneck sweaters, big sellers last year, will be given their biggest promotional push this year.

The sweaters will appear in a variety of styles, most notable being a tattersall in wool, with a wide assortment of color combinations. Colors, for the most part, will be bright and bold, but still in good taste. Plum is regarded as the shade to watch this year. As the cooler months roll around, six-foot scarfs will be promoted as accessories. Crew neck sweaters will rank just behind the turtleneck styles in popularity. Boatnecks, V-necks, novelties and cardigans will follow in that order.

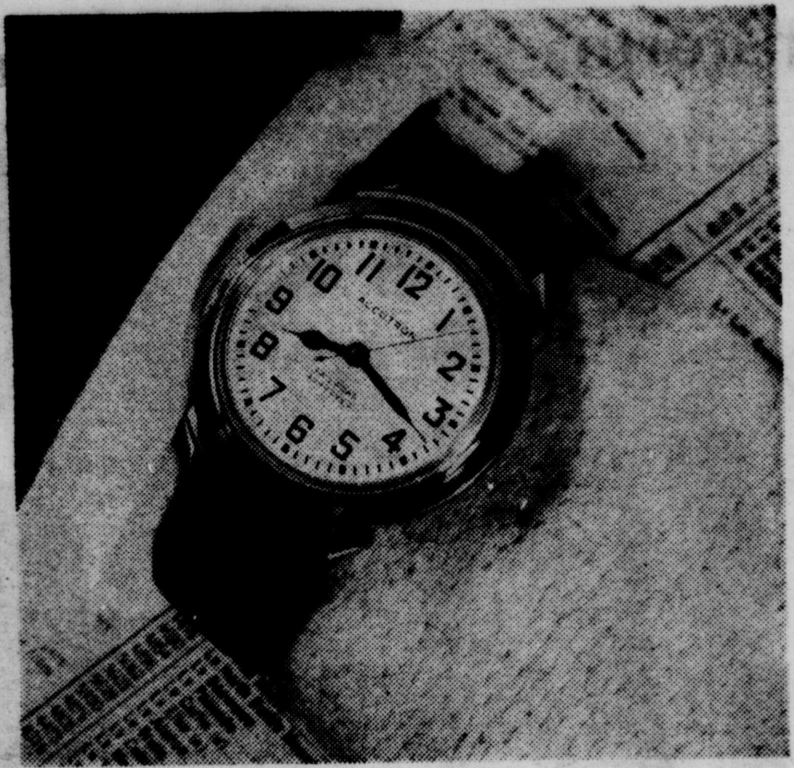
Casual Aire Gains New Co-Owner

Mrs. Eileen Blanchard has now joined the Casual Aire family as co-owner of the Northgate Fashion Mall store. Mrs. Blanchard has been in retailing for 23 years, recently as manager of Frank More at Northgate Fashion Mall.

She will personally assist Mr. Howard Bean, owner of Casual Aire, Inc. in selecting merchandise to the tastes of Marin customers.

This broader selection of clothes now includes famous names such as Catalina in casual knits and swimwear; Puccini knits, Gino Paoli knits, and sportswear by Alex Coleman, Muris, Jack Winters and College Town. Casual Aire will still import its fine traditional Hawaiian atire.



FOR SPORTS CAR DRIVERS

This railroad-approved version of the Accutron timepiece has been winning approval from sports car rally drivers, who lose a penalty point for every second of variance from the schedule at rally checkpoints. It is available at Milens Jewelers in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

Battery Gives Lamp Glamor

Battery-powered lamps are giving the homeowner and the operator of restaurants, hotels and motels attractive decor for party spots and dining areas.

Designers of restaurants generally agree that ordinary overhead lighting leaves much to be desired for warm and romantic atmosphere. Yet seemingly obvious solutions are either dangerous or unworkable.

Table lamps cannot be attached by cords to wall outlets because customers would trip over them or accidentally disconnect them. Candles constitute a continuous fire hazard, especially on tables which must be moved out by the waiter so patrons may sit down.

Lamps powered by rechargeable batteries have eliminated both difficulties and offer extra convenience. For instance, many lamps available for restaurants and nightclubs are equipped with a button which, when pressed, activates a blinking red light to summon the waiter. The lamps shed a soft, constant light without heat, smoke or candle wax and there is no cord to entangle the customer. As many as 20 lamps can be recharged at one time with the charger.

Cordless lamps are becoming increasingly popular with hostesses at home for much the same reasons, especially when they want to give a party on the terrace or lawn. Wall lamps without the unsightly cord are also favorites.

Look For Spring: 'Business Look'

Men's suits have really meant business this spring, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear. The new "business look" has many faces . . . in models, colors, patterns and fabrics.

Men can choose between "straight" or contoured versions of these favorite styles or the new definitive silhouette of models with more than a hint of London's Savile Row.

Colors in general are lighter, jumping directly from the lighter medium range to the almost-white summer suit. However, the dressy dark shades usually embellished with stripes, are still very much a part of the style scene. The well-rounded wardrobe should include some of each.

Starting with high-style models, double-breasteds move into the picture in both four and two-button styles. In a variety of lapel treatments, these new-generation double-breasteds are styled with plain-backs without vents or contoured with deep side vents. In place of side vents, some have deep inverted pleats.

Peaked lapels are very much "in" in the new single-breasted high-style models, most of which are a bit wider than heretofore. Two-button models are still the most popular but one-button models are gaining this spring.

Stripes are a favorite pattern and they include pin stripes, pencil stripes and chalk stripes as well as self-stripes and shadow stripes. Next come full-size glen plaids in colorful mixtures as well as bold black-and-white. Plaids are followed by neat checks and unpatterned cloths livened by glints of contrasting and harmonizing colors.

The best colors are bright blues, soft browns, new clear grays, black-greens, true greens, black-burgundies, browns, bronze, gold and copper tone.

Polyester-worsted blends continue to be most wanted fabrics in both the flat look and silk-like textures. Other blends contain mohair for added sheen and there are pure worsteds, mohair-worsteds as well as silk blends and pure silks.

Natural-shoulder suits branch out in two directions for the vernal season. First are the regular three-button models with center vent and a hint of shape. Then there are the more sophisticated traditionals with noticeable contour, deep side vents and a choice of three or two-button styles.

The double-breasted suit follows the d-b blazer into the warm weather in natural-shoulder styles and while most have side vents, there are some with center vents.

In some instances lapels are wider, in others they appear to be wider because they roll to the middle button.

Stripes of all varieties are the top traditional pattern, closely followed by big, authentic glen plaids in updated color blends as well as black-and-white. Plain colors are lively in dimensional mixtures of golden honey tones, new bright olives, oxford blue, the crisp clear grays.

In both traditional and high-style suits, vests will make news.

Every Home Needs More Timepieces

Retail sales of household clocks may reach an all-time high of $400 million in 1967.

Unit clock sales currently are running at a rate of about 25 million a year, 20 per cent greater than the unit sales of wrist watches, according to Herb Lewis, Western sales manager of Bulova Watch Co.

With personal income at an all-time high, sales of watches, clocks and jewelry should benefit from the slackening pace in the purchase of homes, automobiles and other items requiring major investments, he said. His company's sales are reported better than 15 per cent ahead of the first two months a year ago.

The trend to cordless electric styles is a major factor in boosting clock sales, according to Lewis. This is evident both in decorator clock models for living rooms and in clock-radios for bedroom and kitchen use. The latter market alone is expected to reach $150 million at retail this year, he said.

Dress Shirts Trend: More, Deeper Color

More color and deeper color will bring a bright new identity to dress shirts for spring 1967.

The new dress shirt colors will be easy to wear—easy to combine with suit colors. Blue is the favorite and well it might be, as it complements just about everything. The swing is to deeper blues in medium tones or really deep shades. Peach and melon shades as well as tan-gray-olive "stone," linen tints and the off-white ivories and bamboos are other versatile blenders.

Cool mint greens, bright frosted or soft dusty pinks, cider, maize and a greened-blue called "spruce" or "blue grass" also make the grade with sun-tanned complexions.

Stripes—closely packed, wide-tracked, in colors on white backgrounds and on colored grounds—continue to find a bright place in the style scene. Then there are tattersall checks, windowpane plaids and minichecks.

BRIGHT FOOTINGS FOR SPRING

White calfskin is sunny, black patent is snappy and there's lots of sunny snap when the two combine. QualiCraft makes a brilliant play of light against shadow in a young-spirited white-on-black sling. blunted at toe and broadened at heel. At Leed's Northgate Fashion Mall.

By Her Boots You Shall Know About Her Age

There's a new saying in the fashion world — "By her boots you shall know her age."

The latest kick among the casual set is height, with some of the newer boot styles going up as far as the knee and mid-thigh, reports Footwear News. Heels are also getting an up-lifted treatment for an overall sleek-slim look.

Some styles that will be in demand over the coming months are: The big basic — tight fitting and knee-high; thigh-highs — for the new shorter hemlines; British warms — sporty, casual and strapped; high risers — with high heels and platform sole effect. The thing to remember says Footwear News, is that boots are in and should be as basic to a shoe wardrobe as a pump.

Portable Is Best Seller

Despite its size, the portable phonograph is still king in overall sales, reports Home Furnishings Daily, and it is likely to remain so for a number of years to come.

In an analysis of phonograph industry sales over the past six years, these facts were brought to light: Many consumers are trading up within the portable category and consider models selling for under $100 as toys.

Youngsters show strong preference for sets that run off their own batteries or regular electricity. Where consumers exhibit preference for cabinet models, Italian provincial and Mediterranean styles get the nod. Walnut is the favorite wood.

Colorful Newest Dress Shorts Will Match Suits More Easily

and end-on-end madrases are added to traditional oxfords, white many other familiar fabrics have been woven in lighter batiste weights, in sheer voiles and in lightweight basketweaves and broadcloths. There are also polyester-cotton blends in permanent-press finishes as well as durable-press cottons that will stay fresh and neat on the most sultry days and really do "wash n' wear."

Collars do their part to add to the attractiveness of the new shirts. Take your pick of button-downs in regular, short and longer versions; wide-spreads, moderate spreads and buttonless - button - downs to be worn pinned or not; low-slope "vanishing band" collars and high-rise interpretations.

As far as the ties that will be worn with those handsome shorts are concerned, stripes are king again.

For a while, stripes were replaced by paisley prints and floral patterns (which in reduced sizes are still popular) but stripes have a strong and lasting appeal for men.

Of course, reps will be among the best of the striped ties but they will not be alone. There are twill stripes, plain weave stripes and printed stripes not to mention the shantungs, tussahs and oriental silks both striped and plain in virtually every color combination the mind can conceive.

Panel prints with the patterns planned to fall in a specific area of the tie are due for a comeback in updated versions. These are very easy to combine with striped and patterned shirts.

Neat foulard prints in geometric effects, scatter prints, houndstooth checks and glen plaids also wear well with strips and checks on shirts.

Ethical Problem Seen In Behavioral Tests

By ADVANCE NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Should a behavioral scientist deceive a student into thinking he's stupid and clumsy in order to study his reaction to this seeming failure?

Is it propert for a scientist to set up a phony situation in which subjects thought they were giving painful electric shocks to others, who "writhed in simulated pain" although they weren't being shocked at all?

In a test of how well a family could survive a long stay in a cramped fallout shelter, should the researcher record all the conversations without the family's prior knowledge or consent?

These are some of the questions posed in a special study on science and privacy by the U. S. Office of Science and Technology, an agency of the White House.

The study, published here recently, says "wiretapping, electronic eavesdropping, the use of personality tests in employment, the use of the lie detector in security or criminal investigations, and the detailed scrutiny of the private lives of people receiving public welfare funds all involve invasions of privacy."

The study extends the growing concern over invasion of privacy into the field of behavioral science, which "seeks to assess and to measure many qualities of man's mind, feelings, and actions."

In the absence of informed consent on the part of the subject," it says, "these measurements represent invasion of privacy. The scientist must therefore obtain the consent of his subject."

But there are further subtleties involved. In some experiments. fully informing the subject on what is to be done to him would destroy their usefulness. An example given is human reaction to being startled by a loud noise or bright light. If the subject knew he was going to be starled the test would have little value.

Similarly, in the experiment in which the students were false-other students, the idea was to find out his reaction to this kind of self-knowledge.

"By the end of the experimental session," the report said, "Some subjects were depressed, brooding, and angry, and had lost a measure of self-esteem."

It adds, "It is routine for an experimented to explain the state of affairs following such an experiment. The subject can normally recover his usual level of self-esteem, but it is the responsibility of the experimenter to make sure that this recovery occurs."

But to show the positive value of such work, the report says it has "Led to a substantial modification of educational policy in America. The research showed clearly that the lowering of self-esteem and failure reduce learning ability." Therefore, teachers have been encouraged to find ways to point out unsatisfactory performance in ways that don't injure the student's self-esteem.

Thant Bares Three-Point Peace Plans

COMBINED AP & UPI

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The United States disclosed today that it has accepted U Thant's latest Vietnam peace proposals calling for a general truce. It said it was prepared to begin discussions immediately to work out details.

The U.S. reply to the U.N. secretary-general's proposals was made public shortly after Thant unveiled his plan at a news conference. Secretary of State Dean Rusk called a news conference for this afternoon to expand on the U.S. position.

The Thant plan envisages a cease-fire to be followed by preliminary talks aimed at convening a new Geneva peace conference.

Thant said he had sent his proposals to all the parties directly concerned on March 14 and that some had replied. He said he did not consider any of the answers as a categorical rejection.

Thant's proposals, submitted March 14 to all parties involved in the fighting, including the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, called for:

A general standstill truce.

Preliminary talks.

Reconvening of the 1964 Geneva conference on Indochina.

A North Vietnam official radio broadcast apparently rejected Thant's new move, but the secretary general refused to accept it as an outright turn down. There was no immediate public reaction from South Vietnam.

In Washington the State Department said that while the United States accepted Thant's proposals, preliminary talks would be needed on how to effect a ceasefire.

Robert J. McCloskey, the department's press officer, read a statement to reporters saying the United States "has been and remains willing to enter into discussions without preconditions with Hanoi at any time."

The statement added, "The United States believes it would be desirable and contributory to

Navy Pilots Smash Oil Storage Tanks

SAIGON (UPI) —U.S. Navy pilots smashed oil storage tanks at the edge of the North Vietnamese lifeline port of Haiphong, and in South Vietnam American marines killed 100 Communists including some strapped to their weapons, military spokesmen said today.

The attack, part of a U.S. 107-mission air assault against the Communist country's war arsenal, marked the return of American planes for the first time in weeks to the port city through which virtually all of Hanoi's imported arms come.

MINES EXPLODE

In South Vietnam, at the U.S. bastion at Da Nang, a mine exploded in an American Marine training class today, killing 13 Leathernecks and injuring another, military spokesmen said. First reports said the Marines, using the mine in a demonstration, had thought it was disarmed.

Just below the North Vietnamese border, U.S. Marines reported finding the bodies of 100 Communists after bitter fighting that cost six Leathernecks killed and 28 wounded.

They said some Communists had been strapped to sandbags to keep them from fleeing. Others, apparently wounded, had been tied to their weapons for the suicidal task of halting Marines charging at them up the slopes of Con Thien mountain, where the Marines have been bitterly fighting to hold back invasion drives by elements of three northern army divisions.

SECOND TARGET

Yesterday, striking a second target within five miles of Haiphong, Navy pilots slammed rockets into a Russian-provided Surfave to Air Missile (SAM) site protecting the port. Bad weather barred damage checks, spokesmen said.

In North Vietnam's southern panhandle Air Force Phantoms sank 15 supply junks and sampans with 750 pound bombs. Navy pilots from the carrier Enterprise, Kitty Hawk and Hancock destroyed seven more and damaged 18. Marine pilots

Katzenbach Backs Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, chairman of a presidential panel on crime prevention, today labeled as "emotional nonsense" complaints that crime has increased as a result of recent Supreme Court decisions.

Katzenbach, former attorney general who now is undersecretary of state, told a national planning conference on crime control that court actions relating to rights of suspects did, of course, make police work more difficult.

But he said "able police forces and adequate communications systems will accomplish more than the reversal of Supreme Court decisions."

Five-Day Week

MOSCOW (AP) — More than 80 per cent of the Soviet Union's factory and office workers will go from a six-day to a five-day work week this year, the Soviet trade union chairman said today.

TOO MUCH CUDDLING

Philadelphia socialite Mrs. Albert Greenfield Jr. finds her duties as a member of the "Council for International Visitors" a bit strenuous today. When the hospitality group welcomed a circus to town, Mrs. Greenfield prepared to climb aboard the larger elephant. The younger pachyderm carried togetherness a bit far, squeezing the woman briefly. "I was scared," admitted Mrs. Greenfield, daughter-in-law of the late, widely known financier. The four-footed traffic jam ended without injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

Fears Of An International Plot Are Revealed In Manchester Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Fears of an international plot to overthrow the U.S. government prompted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to alert every American military base around the world the minute he heard that President John F. Kennedy had been shot in Dallas, Tex., William Manchester says.

"By every readable signal the situation was very red," Manchester writes in his book, "The Death of a President."

The much-disputed book contains 350,000 words of text, plus diagrams, appendices and a list of sources. The price is $10.

"Women's Wear Daily" published today a review of William Manchester's book, although an April 6 release date had been fixed by the book's publishers, Harper and Row.

In an accompanying note the retail clothing trade organ said: "Women's Wear Daily purchased a copy of the Manchester book at retail and now feels itself free to publish its review," after a Pittsburgh, Pa., store prematurely put the book on sale.

McNamara "kept his head and made all the right moves" even before he learned that Kennedy was dead, Manchester says. The worldwide warning told American military commanders, "this is the time to be especially alert."

President Johnson is quoted in the book as saying "there might be war" if Americans became aroused by suspicions that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro had conspired to kill Kennedy.

It was the "wild rumors" about a conspiracy that brought the Warren Commission into existence, Manchester says. The commission, after a long investigation, concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald — and Oswald alone — assassinated Kennedy.

Johnson had difficulty persuading Chief Justice Earl Warren to head the inquiry, Manchester says, because Warren opposed "extracurricular activity" by Supreme Court justices.

Manchester agrees,with the commission's finding. But he says its "real work" was done by the general counsel, J. Lee Rankin, and the 14 assistant counsels. As for the members of the commission, Manchester writes," the lustrous names of the seven appointees were for public consumption."

Manchester also is critical of actions of Secret Service agents before the assassination and immediately after the first shot struck Kennedy.

He makes these points:

1. On the night before the tragedy, "nine agents of the White House detail were out on the town. They started with beer and mixed drinks at the Fort Worth Press Club."

2. "At various times, they were joined by three agents of the 12-to-8 shift — who were officially on duty, assigned to guard the President's bedroom door."

3. A jet airplane pilot is grounded if he fails tests that

Board, Jury Exchange Slaps On Kent Island

Behr Cries Politics; Foreman Hits Haste

By RICHARD LYTTLE

In an interim report, the grand jury recommended that no county funds be expended on development of the island until a $75,000 deed of trust on the property has been paid off and until the 55-year term of a reversionary clause has expired.

Grand Jury Foreman Clifford S. Lund read the interim report to supervisors at the start of today's meeting.

Supervisors accused Lund and the grand jury of getting into politics. Lund countered that there had been several requests for an investigation and conflicting reports in the press, but supervisors were decidedly unhappy.

"When the grand jury wants to enter politics," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "it should run for election. This is not a proper and fit report. It is an attempt to justify what you did not find. It reflects on the unanimous policy of the board."

DOESN'T AGREE

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen did not agree with Behr and said the grand jury had the right to investigate and criticize where it wished, but other board members were generally sympathetic with Behr's view.

Chairman Thomas T. Storer said he was incensed by the report and opined that all members of the board should have been recalled had they not accepted the gift of Kent Island.

The 110-acre island was given to the county Feb. 14 with the deed transferred the same day. The presentation was by Nature Conservancy, which put up $10,000 for the $85,000 purchase and gave a $75,000 deed of trust to owner Anne Thompson Kent.

OUTLINES TERMS

Today's report outlined the terms of the deed of trust, calling for interest of 5 per cent for the first three years, 6 per cent for the next three years, and 7 per cent thereafter. Principal installments shall be at least $7,500 plus interest each year and the total payments shall not be more than $14,600 this year and no more than $25,500 in any succeeding year.

"We knew about the deed," Kettenhofen said.

Quentin Trio Arrested Near Oregon City

Three escaped San Quentin Prison Farm convicts were captured without resistance last night by police and sheriff's deputies in McMinnville, Ore., about 35 miles southwest of Portland.

The three were apprehended as they trudged along a road after abandoning a disabled pickup truck stolen during the weekend from a lumber company in Fort Bragg, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

PRISON ACTION

Arrested were Royal Sloan, 35, a Fresno County burglar; Phillip Banditson, 28, bad check passer from Los Angeles, and Edward J. Kern, 35, Los Angeles burglar.

San Quentin authorities placed a detainer on the men, pending disposition of an assortment of charges which could be filed against them as a result of their 500-mile run to freedom. Possible complaints, in addition to escape, include three counts of vehicle theft and burglary.

Oregon authorities also are seeking to determine whether the trio committeed an armed robbery yesterday in Sheridan, Ore., about 10 miles southwest of the spot where they were captured. No details of the crime were available.

It was not known whether the men were armed at the time of their arrest.

FARM ESCAPE

The men escaped from the minimum security farm Thursday night, hopping a low fence. Walking into San Rafael they stole a station wagon belonging to Bruce Birch from in front of his home at 141 Irwin Street.

They abandoned the wagon on the coast near Gualala, Mendocino County, entered that community, got food and clothing in a market burglary, and stole a pickup truck.

They left that truck on the outskirts of Fort Bragg, stole the lumber company truck and headed north. Until their capture, the escapers were last reported seen at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in Fort Bragg.

Army Checking Disease Spread

HONG KONG (UPI)—The Chinese Army has moved to help check the spread of deadly diseases in Kwantung province, Radio Peking reported today.

The broadcast monitored in Hong Kong said the army garrison in Canton, Kwangtung provincial capital, had organized more than 2,000 medical workers into teams and sent them into rural areas.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — An earthquake shook Santiago today, and the State Telegraph Agency said it was felt throughout central Chile.

There were no immediate reports of damage or injuries.

Pope Carefully Backs Controls On Population

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI gave a carefully qualified endorsement today to government action to control population but did not indicate any relaxation in the Roman Catholic Church's opposition to mechanical means of birth control.

In the fifth encyclical of his reign, the Pope made clear that the "rightful freedom" of married couples who are opposed to artificial means of contraception, for moral reasons or under the guidance of their bishops, must be respected.

NEW ATTITUDE

Vatican sources said, however, the new attitude was likely to clear the way for government laws to make birth control information available to the public in places where Catholic pressure has opposed this in the past.

It was the first time any Pope had gone so far on the subject of birth control outside Roman Catholicism's own teachings.

The encyclical deals with the world's social problems. In the section on population growth, the pontiff declared that "the temptation is great to check the demographic (population) increase by radical measures."

He added: "Public authorities can intervene, within the limit of their competence, by favoring the availability of appropriate information and by adopting suitable measures, provided that these be in conformity with the moral law and that they respect the rightful freedom of married couples."

WEALTH SHARING

The encyclical, which appealed for social and economic justice, said that unlimited capitalism is a "woeful system." It endorsed the redistribution among the poor of large estates which are "unused or poorly used" and criticized wealthy tax dodgers who transfer income abroad to escape obligations to aid the welfare of their countries.

The encyclical was titled "Populorum Progresio — On the Development of Peoples," from its first words. It dealt with material things of the world rather than with religious or spiritual KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia, (AP)—Little Hope was held tonight that James Thompson, American king of Thailand's silk industry, would be found alive unless he has been kidnaped for ransom.

Thompson

More than 300 police and soldiers searched the dark rain forests around the Cameron Highlands hill resort today, but no trace was found of the popular 61-year-old Bangkok American who disappeared Sunday afternoon after he went out for a walk.

The searchers used dogs, two helicopters and junglewise little Sakai aborigine trackers.

Sanitary Board Delays Action On Connections

The Novato Sanitary District board last night discussed increasing the connection fees, but took no action on it.

The present fees are $200 per acre area charge and $75 for connections. This makes the average single family dwelling cost $125 to connect.

Charles Joseph, engineer-manager of the district, proposed that the area charge be dropped and the connection charge be increased to $185. He also proposed that the board adopt a $25 per year automatic increase in that charge starting July 1, 1968.

The board also discussed changing the procedure for rebates for sewers constructed by developers that are used by others, but reached no decision.

It set April 10, 18 and 24 for meeting dates next month.

BIG CHIEF BAREHEADED

"You've got to be kidding" seems to be the reaction of Gov. Ronald Reagan as photographers urge him to don a war bonnet just received from a group of California Indians. Reagan, perhaps recalling his years of association with the TV Western called "Death Valley Days," never did put on the bonnet at yesterday's session in Sacramento.

British Bomb Hulk To Set Remaining Oil Cargo Afire

LAND'S END, England (AP) — Navy planes smashed the stricken tanker Torrey Canyon wph 1,000-pound bombs today and set it afire to destroy the oil remaining aboard.

Smoke rose 2,000 feet above the sundered three sections of the 974-foot ship.

The goal was to stop the flow of oil onto Cornwall's already polluted beaches.

Twin-jet bombers of the British navy were ordered to deliver the coup de grace after attempts to set afire the giant oil slick appeared ineffective.

All ships and aircraft had been warned away from the area seven miles off Land's End. A 20-mile radius was placed under restriction.

The escaping crude posed a contamination problem unequaled in the history of oil transportation. It blasted hopes of hotel owners looking for a record tourist season and it threatened to ruin fishing, Cornwall's other principal source of income, along 120 miles of coast.

The Torrey Canyon, owned by a subsidiary of Union Oil of California and flying the Liberian flag, broke up Sunday night.

Maritime experts were puzzled why the Torrey Canyon's Italian captain, bound from Kuwati to the British port of Milford Haven, chose a short cut through the shallows which piled the ship up on the treacherous reef that mariners have tried for centuries to avoid.

The question was also raised why the British government, knowing that only one ship has survived a crackup on the reef in the past 50 years, did not take charge at once and order the cargo of oil either unloaded or destroyed.

Wildcat Rubber Walkout Ends

HANFORD (AP)—United Rubber Workers Union members who last week staged a wildcat walkout at the Armstrong Rubber Co. plant in Hanford were back on the job today.

The Kings County sheriff's department said the striking workers and management late Monday agreed to a negotiated settlement to resolve the dispute in which an estimated 650 union employees walked off the job last Wednesday.

The strike was called because of alleged unfair treatment of a union workman. The man was suspended three days for a violation of company rules.

State Budget Mushrooms

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Republican Gov. Ronald Regan sent his record $5.06 billion revised budget into Democratic-controlled finance committees today, admitting his economy drive fell short of its goal.

Reagan, who had promised to "cut, squeeze and trim" state spending, submitted the biggest budget ever proposed in any state yesterday.

The spending plan for the fiscal year beginning July 1 soared above the preliminary request of $4.62 billion he made Jan. 31. He cut the money requests of his department heads by only 6 per cent, instead of the average 10 per cent he sought.

The Democratic chairmen of the Senate Finance Committee and the Assembly Ways and Means Committee quickly began hearings on the bill. There were signs it would be sharply revised before reaching Reagan's desk.

Reagan added $120 million for local property tax relief, and $50 million in new school aid in the revised budget.

Among the other items he added were $35 million for poor school districts, $39 million for state employee pay raises, and $19 million more for the California Highway Patrol.

Another $38 million was requested as a substitute for the higher education tuition Reagan unsuccessfully sought. And the state's financially troubled medical aid program required $73.7 million more.

Even though he missed his 10 per cent economy target, Reagan managed to make major cuts in almost every area of the government.

He proposed eliminating 3,700 jobs from the Mental Hygiene Department.

In the prison system, Reagan advocated eliminating 342 jobs. Scheduled for closing are prison conservation and fire fighting camps in San Diego, Tuolumne, Sacramento, Mendocino, Shasta and Tulare counties having 320 inmates. In addition, 27 vocational teacher jobs, 28 academic teaching positions, 80 guards and 94 administrative jobs were marked for elimination.

Reagan's revised budget document doesn't use the figure $5.06 billion. But Finance Director Gordon P. Smith said that when all his requests are added up, that's the total.

The state coming closest to California's budget is New York where Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller asked for $4.68 billion.

Greeks Expel Two Soviet Diplomats

ATHENS (AP) — Two Soviet diplomats have been ordered to leave Greece by tomorrow night, apparently because they were involved with the big Soviet ring spying on North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in the Mediterranean area.

Unofficial sources believe the pair was part of the spy ring disclosed last week with the arrest of three Italians, led by parachutist Giorgio Rinaldi, 39. Since then, one Soviet diplomat has hurriedly left Italy, two Russians have been expelled from Cyprus, several civilians have been arrested in Cyprus, and Swiss police said arrests may be made there.

Reports circulated in Turin yesterday at the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency wanted to talk to six American parachutists who knew Rinaldi.

Substation Lease

Garrison Pursues New JFK Case Witnesses

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison moved on two fronts today to get witnesses he wants in his John F. Kennedy assassination conspiracy probe.

The U.S. attorney's office was asked by Garrison to issue an unlawful flight order against Gordon Novel, 29, former owner of a French Quarter bar who disappeared last week before he was to have appeared before the Orleans Parish grand jury.

MAY INVOLVE FBI

If U.S. Atty. Louis LaCour honors Garrison's request, it would bring the FBI into the search for Novel.

"I think it is very odd that Novel can be found by newspaper and television media and not by the people who are trying to arrest him," said Asst. Dist. Atty. James Alcock.

Garrison's office issued a warrant last week for Novel's arrest and asked that he be placed under $50,000 bond.

WOMAN'S ROLE

Perry R. Russo, 25, a Baton Rouge insurance salesman, said Mrs. McMaines, then known as Sandra Moffett, was one of several persons attending a party in the New Orleans apartment of the late David W. Ferrie in mid-September 1963.

After this party, Russo testified two weeks ago, he heard Ferrie, Oswald and Clay L. Shaw conspire to kill President Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans business executive, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiring to murder Kennedy.

CONTRADICTIONS

Mrs. McMaines, married to part-time Omaha minister Harold McMaines, 48, told newsmen last week she did not attend the party but said she had known Russo.

In his testimony at a preliminary hearing, Russo alluded to Sandra Moffett only once, naming her, as "the girl I brought" to the party.

Mrs. McMaines said she did not know Ferrie until 1965.

Novel has made statements to newsmen in Columbus, Ohio, and Washington, D.C., calling Garrison's probe a fraud.

Junior College Board Is Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D - Bakersfield, has proposed a statewide board to govern California's junior colleges.

Stiern said yesterday the first job of the 10-member board, to be appointed by the governor, would be to study current laws governing junior colleges.

Stiern also proposed a bill to continue funds for junior college construction.

Cong Trying To Spoil Vote In Villages

SAIGON (AP)—The Viet Cong are waging a terrorist campaign against village and hamlet elections scheduled to start in South Vietnam next week, intelligence sources said today.

Communist guerrillas have been threatening capable candidates with abduction and murder, encouraging incompetents to become candidates, warning voters against voting, tearing up registration cards, and ordering voters to leave home during the election so they cannot participate.

Intelligence experts say the guerrillas rounded up peasants in one hamlet in Gia Dinh Province just outside Saigon March 3 for an anti-election rally.

Viet Cong speakers told their captive audience that the elections were a "treacherous ruse" by the Saigon government to implement a "false democratic regime." Candidates for office were warned to withdraw or their safety "would not be guaranteed."

There are 2,552 villages and 13,984 hamlets in South Vietnam. Elections start Sunday and in the next two months will be held in 961 villages and 4,487 hamlets.

Reagan's Real Estate Chief Wins Approval

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Burton E. Smith stayed on the job as state real estate commissioner today, having won Senate confirmation after a 10-day delay.

The Senate voted 29-9 yesterday for Smith, appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan in January. The vote came after a Democrat's unsuccessful attempt to block the appointment because Smith opposed the Rumford open housing law.

OPPOSITION

Smith is "an unconditional foe of a particular law that he must enforce today" as commissioner, said Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park. "The appointment itself is an expression of cynicism."

Song led opposition March 17 that surprised Reagan and Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns and delayed the Senate's approval of the appointment. Burns, D - Fresno, said no one had objected to Smith when he was approved by the Senate Rules Committee March 16.

FIRST VOTE

Smith's supporters failed to get the 21 votes, out of 40, needed for confirmation March 17 as senators left the Capitol for the Easter recess. The vote then was 20-3.

Song argued for 10 minutes yesterday after failing to get Smith's appointment sent back to the Rules Committee. The other opposition to Smith all came from Democrats.

Democratic Sen. George Miller Jr. of Martinez supported Smith, saying that the governor should have the right to chose his own appointees as long as they hadn't broken any laws.

PROP. 14 BACKER

Smith, a former Bellflower real estate man, was president of the California Real Estate Association in 1966. He wants repeal or modification of the Rumford act, which prohibits racial discrimination in selling homes through brokers or renting apartments. Reagan's position is similar.

Smith supported Prop. 14, the 1964 voter initiative that nullified the Rumford law. The State Supreme Court declared Prop. 14 unconstitutional and the case now is before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Republican and Democratic senators earlier this year successfully blocked approval of another Reagan appointee, Dr. William McCandless of La Mesa to the State Board of Education.

Finance Meeting

The first in a series of eight weekly classes on family financial planning will be held in the meeting room of Co-op Marin, Corte Madera tomorrow at 8 p.m.

South Road Funds Set Test Stage

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assembly passage of a bill giving more state road building money to Southern California has paved the way for a test of southern domination of the newly reapportioned Senate.

The measure, sent to the upper house on a 45-31 vote yesterday afternoon, would give 13 southern counties $143 million more in road funds over the next four years. This would result from revising the allocation of the money so that the South's share would rise to 60 per cent from the current 55 per cent, dropping the northern share from 45 per cent to 40 per cent.

The southern counties that would be in line for this bonanza are Imperial, San Diego, Riverside, Orange, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Kern, Mona, Inyo, Tulare and San Luis Obispo.

Goldwater Gives Nixon His Backing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Barry Goldwater says he favors Richard Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate in 1968 but believes Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., is the only potential candidate acceptable to a majority of the GOP.

"Everybody says Nixon is the best trained man for the job," said Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate. "And then everybody turns right around and says he can't be elected. I don't believe that's true, but I don't see how to tear that image down."

As for Percy, Goldwater said he "might be the most dangerous against (President) Johnson, provided he could show he was really knowledgeable about foreign policy."

Goldwater's views are in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Sewage Treatment Meeting Agreed

Almonte Sanitary District directors last night agreed to meet April 24 with Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to discuss his proposed amendment of the district's contract for use of the city sewage treatment plant.

First, however, directors said they must be furnished with cost information on Balmer's proposal, which would shift the basis of billing for use of the plant from assessed valuation of the district to actual use based on the number of connections, reported board chairman Robert A. Alexander.

Redwood City Tot Killed By Train

The victim was identified as Vickie Henderson. Authorities said she was struck while playing on the tracks on the southern outskirts of the city.

Bacteria 'Getting Smart' —Epidemics Due Again?

By SCIENCE SERVICE

NEW YORK — Human defenses against infection — miracle drugs and antibiotics — are in danger of crumbling as bacteria are "getting smart" and transferring their resistance to each other.

Will epidemics come again and push humanity back into the dark ages, or will physicians and researchers outwit the bacteria?

The indiscriminate use of antibiotics must be resisted by doctors whose patients plead for repeated doses of the newest thing on the market. Parents who demand repeated prescriptions of antibiotics for their children every time they run a temperature or have a cold must be denied.

A regional meeting of the American College of Physicians here was told of the clinical implications in the transfer of drug resistance from bacteria to bacteria by Dr. Edward Hook, moderator of a panel yesterday on biologic problems of antibiotics.

The mechanism of transfer of drug resistance factors was explained by Dr. Stephen I. Morse of the Rockefeller University, New York, in an effort to help clinical physicians develop rational measures to prevent the occurrence and spread of the resistant bacteria.

"The spread of resistant microbes in a population is, of course, aided by indiscriminate use of antibiotic in question," Dr. Morse said.

The transfer of resistance factors from one organism to another is based on the transfer of genetic information. In other words, the genetic material — DNA, or deoxyribonucleic acid — enters into the recipient bacterial cell and persists in its progeny.

This enables the recipient to nullify the antibiotic's activity by causing the production of inactivating enzymes or the formation of other mechanisms originally found in the donor resistant cell, Dr. Morse explained.

Newer antibiotics such as chloramphenicol, the tetracyclines and streptomycin were employed with initial success in the absence of drug-resistant strains. Later, however, the number of patients with dysentery began to rise again, and strains of shigella with multiple drug resistance were reported with increasing frequency, Dr. Morse reported.

"In 1960, almost 10 per cent of the shigella isolates were resistant to all three of the drugs named, as well as to the sulfas. Now almost 50 per cent of shigella isolates in Japan are resistant to the four drugs.

"Curiously, single or double resistance was much less common and it was also found that both sensitive and resistant organisms of identical types were often excreted by the same patient or by different patients in the same locale," the doctor reported.

One researcher in Japan proposed that multiple drug resistance was transferred from the pre-existing multiple drug-resistant E. coli to drug-resistant sensitive shigella within the intestinal tract in animals including man. Conclusive proof of transfer was demonstrated in mice.

Burglars Hit Bolinas Home

Burglars tore a rear screen, then broke a door window to enter the weekend residence of John W. Lowe on Upper County Road, Bolinas, sheriff's officers said today.

The break-in was between Monday and Friday of last week, deputies said. Taken were a rifle and 10 bottles of liquor. Lowe resides in Standard, Tuolumne County.

Edward J. Boracchia, 1433 Clinton Court, San Rafael, told officers yesterday his car, parked in a lot at College of Marin, was entered by prying a window. Taken were a stereophonic set and six stereophonic tapes, estimated at $131 total.

Minister Quits Library Board

Rev. John S. Thornton resigned yesterday from the Sausalito Library Board.

In a letter to Mayor Mel Wax, Rev. Thornton said his duties as priest at Christ Episcopal Church left him too little time for the library board. He was appointed to the board on Aug. 3, 1965.

In a two-hour meeting last night, the library board worked on preliminary proposals for the fiscal 1967 budget, reported board president Alice Scarborough.

Water Line Bid Extension Asked

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night asked Soiland Co. of Ignacio to extend for 60 days its low bid of $4,188 for a water line to the district treatment plant at Fort Baker, reported director George K. Elkington. The delay was asked, he said, to allow time to get army approval of the project.

The water line became necessary when the Army advised the district it no longer would provide water for the plant.

Protection For Ringtailed Cat

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The ringtailed cat—once a friend of California's gold miners—couldn't be hunted or trapped under a bill passed by the Senate yesterday.

The two-pound feline rapidly is becoming extinct, said the bill's sponsor, Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio. In the old days, miners tamed the cats and trained them to catch mice and rats, he said.

Cologne's bill would put ringtailed cats in company with sea otters, fur seals and mountain sheep—all protected by California law.

measure his reflexes. "However, presidential bodyguards were not required to take" these tests.

4. When the first shot was fired, "most of the hunters in the motorcade identified the sound immediately as rifle fire, but the White House detail was confused."

5. Two agents were in the front seat of the presidential car. "They were in a position to take evasive action after the first shot, but for five terrible seconds, they were immobilized."

Manchester summarizes his indictment in the words, "The central fact was that the Secret Service had failed."

A publishers' note on the title page says, "Harper and Row wishes to make it clear that neither Mrs. John F. Kennedy nor Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has in any way approved or endorsed the material appearing in this book."

Manchester believes—but states as fact—that Oswald went insane on Nov. 21, 1963, the night before Kennedy was assassinated. The author says Oswald's reason crumbled as the result of a quarrel with his Russian wife, Marina, from whom he was semiestranged.

She had been living in Irving, a suburb of Dallas, in the home of Ruth Paine, a friend. Oswald lived in a Dallas rooming house. He visited his wife and children on weekends.

Manchester wrote that on the night of Nov. 21, Oswald appeared to be watching television in Mrs. Paine's home. "In fact," the author says, "he was going mad."

Oswald appeared sane, however, to the police and other investigative officers who interviewed him after the assassination. The transcript of these interviews, published in the Warren Commission report, shows that Oswald told the same story to each of them. He answered certain questions but said he would not answer others until he could have an attorney with him. And he specified the attorney, "A New York lawyer whom he did not know" but who had defended some persons accused "of a conspiracy against the government."

Manchester says in his foreward he "felt entitled to record my opinions" and was "forming judgments."

But he does not pinpoint the passages in his book where fact leaves off and "opinion" or "judgment" begins.

He says that Mrs. Kennedy, contrary to McNamara and other federal officials, "hoped" a conspiracy had taken her husband's life. The book says, "for then there would be an air of inevitability about the tragedy; then she could persuade herself that if the plotters had missed on Elm Street they would have eventually succeeded elsewhere."

Manchester does not say whether Mrs. Kennedy told him this. He does not tell the reader whether it is fact or his judgment.

Directors Review Sewage Proposal

Homestead Valley Sanitary District directors last night reviewed a preliminary proposal by the City of Mill Valley to amend the district's contract for use of the city sewage treatment plant, but took no action pending receipt of more information on costs from the city, reported board chairman Warren I. Jacobs.

The city proposal would shift the basis of billing for use of the plant from assessed valuation of the district to actual use of the plant.

How Senators Cast Consular Treaty Votes

Kuchel voted with the majority in the Senate, which ratified the treaty 66 to 28. Murphy voted against the treaty.

SENATE

On Passage (77-3) of $12.1 billion supplemental appropriation bill carrying additional funds for military procurement. For — Kuchel; not voting — Murphy.

HOUSE

On Republican motion (rejected 168-217) to send the $7.5 billion treasury-post office appropriation bill back to committee with instructions to cut it five per cent. For — Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

On passage (234-118) of resolution endorsing increased aid to Latin American countries. Against — Clausen.

Guilty Plea To Bad Check

Judge Hadden W. Roth then dismissed five other counts and certified the case to Marin Superior Court for sentencing at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

He also dismissed a count against a co-defendant, Leroy Austin Bazile, 19, of Oakland, on recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry Herman, for insufficient evidence. Bazile and Miss Minosky, of San Francisco, had been scheduled for preliminary hearing today on charges that she had checks with intent to defraud, and that they both conspired to pass a forged $144.26 check on Feb. 28 in San Anselmo.

Youth Ordered Confined In Jail

Juvenile Court Judge Samuel W. Gardener yesterday ordered William Duncan Lindley, 21, facing his third charge of molesting minors since last May 5, held in county jail for investigation of probation violation.

The hold is effective pending further proceedings on the latest charge, attempted lewd and lascivious behavior with a 12-year-old in San Rafael last Thursday, and a probation hearing.

Lindley, of 101 H Street, San Rafael, is on two years probation in juvenile court, although he is over 21. He also has $2,200 bail set as an adult in the Thursday incident.

Abortion Plan Wins Approval

CARSON CITY (AP) — The Nevada Assembly voted 30-5 today in favor of a bill allowing therapeutic abortions.

Assemblyman Flora Dungan, D-Las Vegas, said the measure is "more realistic, more humane and contains greater controls than the present law."

No one is compelled under the bill to undergo abortions, she noted.

There was no debate over the issue.

The Assembly judiciary committee previously tabled the bill when told the public isn't ready to accept such a measure. Supporting it would threaten their political future, the legislators were warned.

serious negotiations if an effective cessation of hostilities, as the first element in the three-point proposal, could be promptly negotiated."

A note to Thant dated March 18 said the United States "is also prepared to take the next steps in any of the forms suggested by the secretary general." But it added that "of course, the government of South Vietnam will have to be appropriately involved throughout this entire process."

The U.S. note said North Vietnam had rebuffed previous public and private approaches for negotiations and said:

"For this reason, the government of the United States would be most interested in learning whether Hanoi is willing to enter into such discussions or to take reciprocal actions leading to peace in Vietnam. The United States has been, and remains willing to enter into discussions without preconditions with Hanoi at any time.

"To this end, the United States accepts the three-step proposal."

Thant, making his new plan public, expressed fear the war might expand into a worldwide conflict, in view of recent escalations.

Raids Tossed Out By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bed check raids on welfare recipients are unconstitutional, the State Supreme Court ruled yesterday as it ordered the reinstatement of a social worker who balked at making them.

The tribunal, in a 6-1 decision, ruled that the Alameda County Welfare Department acted illegally in firing the worker, Benny Max Parrish, 33, in January 1963. He had refused to take part in bed checks designed to determine whether unauthorized males were living with women receiving aid for needy children.

The court held such raids were made without search warrants and were illegal. Such raids have since been outlawed by the California Legislature.

Unusual Pet Licenses Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lions, tigers and other unusual pets would need licenses to live in San Francisco under a proposed ordinance considered today by the Supervisors' Health Committee.

City officials would have discretion over whether a license would be required.

Bad Check Draws Warrant For Arrest

Bench warrant for arrest of Michael E. Simonton, charged with giving a San Rafael attorney a worthless $500 check for a fee, was issued by Judge Peter Allen Smith today when Simonton failed to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail for Simonton, of Mountain View, is $1,100. He allegedly gave W. O. Weissich the check Oct. 22 after marijuana possession charges against him were dismissed for insufficient evidence.

committee which made the investigation, said this may have been so but there was no note about it filed with the county documents until the second week of this month.

The grand jury concluded that "although no apparent risk or liability is assumed by the county, excepting the possible loss of substantial property taves from the ultimate development of a proposed yacht basin, we believe that the board did not allow sufficient time between presentation and acceptance of conveyance to adequately evaluate the proposal."

The grand jury also concluded that "as this proposal was presented by a group with a singleness of purpose, far more caution should have been exercised to assure the board that the terms of the transaction provided necessary safeguards in order to protect any possible expenditure of public funds."

The jury also said that "the opposition and the general public was not afforded an opportunity to challenge the transaction and was denied the opportunity to agree or disagree in a normal democratic process."

Lund said the report was adopted at a meeting last Wednesday and that he since showed it to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. He said Maloney explained that the county must spend some money to establish use of the island as a legal condition. He said $1,500 was mentioned.

Lund said members of the jury were more concerned over the possibility of a $40,000 to $50,000 expenditure which might be lost if the island were to revert to Mrs. Kent.

McInnis chided Lund for the jury's reaction to newspaper stories, saying the board is not responsible for conflicts among papers and columnists.

themes. The document bore the date of last Sunday, Easter, March 26.

The bulk of the 8,000-word letter to his bishops was concerned with the broad field of economic and social justice and the ills of capitalism.

The Pope said speed is necessary to bring balance between the world's rich and poor, although he warned against revolution.

Instead he proposed:

1. "A great world fund, to be made up of part of the money spent on arms, to relieve the most destitute of this world."

2. A careful study of reorganization of various aid programs to keep them from being "scattered or isolated."

3. Higher taxes on the rich to meet the cost of aid, and higher prices on imported goods.

4. A revision of interest rates and systems of loan repayment "so as not to be too great a burden on either party."

Rain Gauge Stolen Again

He draws the line, though, when whoever takes the rainfall figure takes the rain gauge too.

His gauge complete with plastic measuring stick was stolen yesterday for the third time in two months from a wooden box behind his home at 1040 C Los Gamos Road, he told police.

OBITUARIES

Richard Campbell Dies At 45

Asst. Coroner Eugene R Fontaine said Campbell, 45, apparently died of natural causes, but an autopsy was to be performed.

According to the assistant coroner, Campbell's wife, Mary Lena, said her husband awakened in the night complaining of pains in chest and stomach, and went to the bathroom where she found him moments later lying on the floor. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital at 3:15 a.m.

Viet Cong forces mortared a U.S. Army special Forces camp at Plei Me 210 miles north of Saigon yesterday killing two Vietnamese children and wounding two civilian women, spokesmen said.

American spokesmen said about 120 Communists jumped the patrol which had left camp only 10 minute sbefore. One of the six Vietnamese lived and, although wounded, went back to camp for help. Rescuers found eight dead Marines, one Leatherneck shot in the back but living, a dead U.S. Navy medical corpsman and five dead Vietnamese troops.

Ship Captain Loses Command

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —A Soviet embassy official said yesterday that a Russian shrimp trawler captain fined for fishing in U.S. waters wouldn't command a ship again for a year.

He said Leonid M. Kushchenko, 29, would lose his master's license and have to reimburse his government for the $10,000 fine paid to get him out of the Alaska state jail at Anchorage.

Kushchenko pleaded no contest Saturday to charges of violating the U.S. 12-mile fisheries zone. On a federal judge's order, he spent Easter weekend behind bars until a cashier's check drawn on Soviet Embassy funds could be arranged to cover the penalty.

A DEER HAPPENING—San Francisco Health Department inspectors found this happening in the Haight-Ashbury district yesterday—two members of the hippie generation skinning a deer. They claimed the animal had been given to them by a game warden after it had been killed by an automobile. Today health teams pushed further into their checks. (AP Wirephoto)

Health Teams Push Hippie Pad Checks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—City health teams pushed further into Hippieland today after 691 building inspections drew 39 unsanitary condition citations.

Piled-up garbage, stopped-up plumbing, cockroaches and bad ventilation were reported Monday on the first day of a 50-block inspection.

Dr. Ellis Sox, city health director, ordered the checkup in the Haight-Ashbury District, an area near the east end of Golden Gate Park where scores of young people have banded together for communal living in cramped quarters.

The order came soon after the police chief sternly warned the hippies they were not to sleep in the parks.

Many of the young men sport beards. Many of the girls are barefooted.

"Love the police as much as you love yourself," read one sign scrawled on the stairway of an inspected building."

Inspectors talked with hippies who introduced themselves by such names as Cupid, Spider, Little Wolf and Big John.

In front of a cited Clayton street frame house, where a stalled motor truck was piled high with barrels and cans of junk, Inspector Jack E. Coyne told one hippie:

"You have to admit that what you have here — in your own words—is a bad scene."

"Sure it's a bad scene," agreed the hippie, "but it's all we've got and you want to throw us out."

Cupid — a girl hippie with jingling bells on the sash of her mesh dress—insisted there was a conscientious effort toward sanitation and personal grooming.

"Why in the morning I go around with my electric toothbrush and make people clean their teeth with it," she said.

Little Wolf, the head hippie at one house, told Coyne that as many as 200 persons have eaten and slept at one time in its 10 rooms.

Apartment Unit Saved From Damage

Marin County firemen saved the Merrydale Apartments, at 7 Merrydale Road, San Rafael Meadows, from serious damage early today as a blaze gutted a storage shed about five teet away.

Chief Louis J. Bloom said the west side of the dwelling escaped with scorched eaves. Damage was estimated at $150. The loss of the shed and garden and paint supplies inside was valued at $2,200.

The cause was undetermined.

The alarm was sounded at 12:40 a.m. by Ellis Finley of Apt. 8, who awoke to crackling noises and saw the shed ablaze. Three county fire units controlled the fire in nine minutes.

Driver Fined $115

James Clinton Bowlin, 30, of Villa Rafael Motel, San Rafael, was fined $115 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. California Highway Patrol arrested him on State Highway 17 last Sunday.

Marine Slayer's Sentence Reduced

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The commander of the U.S. 1st Marine Division has reduced a Marine's life sentence for the murder of a Vietnamese man and woman to 25 years at hard labor.

Maj. Gen. Herman Nickerson Jr. extended the clemency to Pfc. Charles W. Keenan, Nitro, W.Va., who was convicted on two counts of premeditated murder by a Marine court-martial at Da Nang Jan. 4-5.

The two Vietnamese, Nguyen Th Co, and her brother-in-law, Nguyen Qua, were killed Sept. 22 while a U.S. Marine patrol was on a combat reconnaissance mission from its base camp at Chu Lai, 50 miles south of Da Nang.

Another Marine, Cpl. Stanley J. Luczko, 20, Gardner, Mass., was convicted of premeditated murder in the death of the woman and given a life sentence which Nickerson must still review.

A third Marine, Pfc. Ronald A. Piatkowski, 18, Trenton, N.J., was convicted of attempting to murder the man and mutilating his body by cutting off the left ear. He received a 10-year sentence.

The sentences of all three also must be reviewed by a military appeals board in Washington before becoming final.

Permit For School

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday granted a use permit for the Marin County Schools office to operate a school for 12 mentally retarded youngsters at 635 Adrian Way in Santa Venetia until Aug. 1.

Unruh Changes His Study Plan On Education

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh D-Inglewood, has amended his proposal for a study of California higher education to eliminate the subject of student and faculty unrest at the University of California.

Unruh offered the amendment to his study resolution yesterday. He had announced at the last meeting of the university's Board of Regents that he would make the change.

His resolution calls for an in-depth study by the Joint Committee on Higher Education of financing and operating the state's higher education system for the next 10 years.

Humphrey, Queen Juliana Will Confer

THE HAGUE (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, picturing himsel f as a friend rather than a negotiator in his European fence-mending talks, arrived in the Netherlands today to meet Queen Juliana and political leaders — and probably some Dutch antiwar demonstrators as well.

Coming from Geneva, the first stop on his two-week European tour, Humphrey said in a prepared statement that the American people throughout their history have had "deep and lasting ties with the Netherlands."

In addition to his talks, Humphrey was expected to encounter protests against the Vietnam war after the Alpine, Easter-holiday quiet of Geneva.

After his one-day stay in the Swiss center, the vice president was reported encouraged by the progress of negotiations there for a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and the Kennedy-Round talks to reduce trade barriers.

Humphre ysaid both were of vital interest to the United States, and he is expected to emphasize this in his talks with European leaders, not all of whom see eye to eye with the United States in either the trade or the nuclear talks.

Unions Urge Increase In Women, Child Pay

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Union officials called upon California employers yesterday to raise the hourly minimum wage for women and minors to $2 and $1.60 respectively.

Labor representatives contended the present yearly minimum of $2,855 for self - supporting women was "totally unrealistic to maintain health and self-respect."

The hearings were to continue here today before moving on to Fresno tomorrow and San Francisco Thursday and Friday.

The present hourly wage of $1.30 for women and minors in manufacturing be raised to $1.45 this year and $1.60 next year.

The minimum for minors in agriculture employment be increased this year from $1.10 to $1.20 and to $1.30 next year.

The present 48-hour work week for women and minors in manufacturing be lowered to 40 hours with time-and-a-half pay for the sixth day.

Firemen Call Off Walkout

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Firemen called off a scheduled walkout today as the Missouri Mediation Board moved into their wage-hour dispute with the City Council.

Daniel C. Rogers, mediation board chairman, called a 10 a.m. meeting of city officials and leaders of Fire Fighters Union Local 42 at City Hall.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes ordered Rogers to act after a delegation of deputy fire chiefs and battalion chiefs flew to Jefferson City yesterday and requested help toward a settlement.

The governor told them he would move only if Mayor Ilus W. Davis joined in the request. The mayor did so by telephone.

Pickets Up At Dairies In Price War

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The National Farmers Organization today was trying to put more muscle into its boycott drive to raise their milk income by stringing pickets around dairies.

The NFO, apparently not satisfied with the limited success of only holding its milk off the market, picketed dairies in at least nine states Monday, the 12th day of the withholding action.

Milk stored on an Ohio farm was found to have been laced with deadly cyanide as incidents of violence and vandalism continued to plague the milk market boycott encompassing 25 states.

This mirror—the world's largest—will duplicate the blazing sun and searing radiation in outer space. It was unveiled yesterday at Berkeley. Leydecker's Wife Sues For Divorce

Byron W. Leydecker, president of Redwood National Bank and former county supervisor, yesterday was sued for divorce on grounds of cruelty by his wife of 15 years, Mary Kay.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court, asked for her share of community property, custody of the three children, Caroline, 14, John, 12, and David, 10, and that he pay reasonable support and attorney's fees.

Leydecker was appointed in 1963 to fill a vacancy on the board of supervisors, then was elected to the post in 1964. He declined to seek re-election for the first district seat in last June's primary election.

The couple wed Sept. 16, 1951, in Palo Alto, and separated last March 16. Family home is at 12 Oakmont Court, San Rafael.

$3.5 Million School Bond Election Slated

Mill Valley School District trustees last night passed a formal resolution calling a $3.5-million bond election June 13.

The vote came after endorsement of a recommendation by architect Richard N. Jessup that "all neighborhood school sites be retained and possibly expanded as the need demands."

Jessup, of Bushnell, Jessup, Murphy and Van de Weghe, architects designing improvements to existing schools, said he could not recommend abandonment of smaller neighborhood schools in the face of future expansion expected in the district's pupil population.

Trustees previously asked Jessup to make a recommendation on whether to retain all existing schools. Trustees also previously agreed not to consolidate all schools in an "education park."

Vote on the resolution was 4-17, Trustee Joyce R. Gross dissenting on the ground that neighborhood schools with fewer than 300 pupils were too small to be educationally sound. She abstained on the vote to endorse Jessup's recommendation.

Mrs. Gross made it clear that she will campaign against the bond measure.

Trustees voted Feb. 27 to hold the election June 13, but the amount was not set until last night. A $3.5-million bond would use up the district's maximum projected bonding capacity for five years.

The bonds would finance a "middle school' for 1,200 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils in Project 17 on Camino Alto, and improve existing schools.

Mill Valley School District trustees also:

BUDGET—Made it clear that no action has been taken on the fiscal 1967 budget, contrary to rumors that some programs may be cut because of an anticipated deficit. Existing programs will be discussed by the board April 17.

LEAVE—Granted second-year leaves of absence to Thurman O. Douglass and Sylvia R. Palmer, and accepted resignations, effective June 30, of Shirley Howland, sixth grade teacher at Alto school, and Linda France and Mrs. F. C. Budds, both now on leave.

INTEREST — Received a letter from Assemblyman William T. Bagley advising that there is little chance of raising the legal limit of 5 per cent on interest rates permitted school bonds.

State Employment Reaches A Record

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Employment in California last month totaled a record 7,208,000, the Department of Employment said today.

The figure was 297,000—or 4.3 per cent — above Febuary, 1966.

Supervisors Hedge Over School Fund

Marin County Supervisors today hedged a bit on reinstating a $209,000 promise of construction aid to the Sausalito School District.

District Supt. Phillip W. Schneider told supervisors that at least half this sum will be needed in the next fiscal year.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said that last year, when it was agreed to help finance a recreation center in Marin City, he understood the recreation center contribution was in lieu of assistance to the school district.

He asked a transcript of the tape recording of that session and also a complete review of all commitments to the Marin City area.

Supervisors originally promised assistance to the school district for new school buildings in Marin City. The Marin County Housing Authority agreed to contribute $173,250 for the cause. The school district has since developed plans for an educational center complex at Bayside School. This and other projects will require a district bond issue.

Supervisor John F. McInnis thought it impractical to commit any county funds for construction until after results of the bond election are known.

Mental Hospital Cuts Debated At Hearing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — psychiatrists and state mental hospital employees said today mental patients would have to stay in hospitals longer—costing the state more money — if Gov. Reagan's planned job cuts went into effect.

The Senate Business and Professions Committee met before an overflow audience of more than 600 persons to hear testimony on Reagan's plan to eliminate some 3,700 jobs in the State Mental Hygiene Department.

"If the proposed cutbacks were actual economies, I would present no argument," said Dr. Stuart Knox of the California Commission on Staffing Standards (for mental hospitals).

The cutbacks "will inevitably result in patients remaining in mental hospitals longer, with less care and poorer treatment," said William Grimm, executive director of the California Society of Psychiatric Technicians.

Spencer Williams, Reagan's Health and Welfare Agency administrator, said "there shall be no reduction in the level of treatment of patients in the year ahead." Williams said that if good care couldn't be maintained, then more money should be provided.

Also subpoenaed to appear were Philip Battaglia, Reagan's executive secretary, and Dr. James V. Lowry, mental hygiene director. Reagan had said the subpoenaes weren't necessary, that a polite invitation would have been enough.

More details on the cutbacks, and a defense of them, came yesterday from Gordon P. Smith, state finance director. He told newsmen at a briefing that "We have been assured we can maintain current levels of care."

The administration said that in all, 164 doctors, dentists, surgeons, psychiatrists and psychologists would be eliminated from the state's mental health programs.

At least 44 nursing positions will be abolished.

The administration says many of these jobs are not needed and that the program actually is overstaffed.

Supervisors Delay Highway 17 Debate

Marin County supervisors today agreed to delay further debate over Highway 17 routing until the San Rafael city elec6tions, April 10, are over and the opinion of the new city council is known.

Supervisors will take up the query of the State Division of Highways on the board's stand on April 11, not giving much time for any new councilman to do his research.

Britain Rejects Peking Base Charge

LONDON (AP) —Britain today rejected Red Chinese charges that the colony of Hong Kong is being used as a base of American operations against North Vietnam.

A note delivered by Charge D'Affairs Donald Hopson to the Foreign Ministry in Peking also denied the existence of American military installations or facilities in Hong Kong.

Mill Valley Park Swap Is Accepted

Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night voted to accept a reservoir site on Edgewood Avenue from the city as "full payment" for the piece of Old Mill Park taken three years ago for the new library.

The Old Mill parcel was valued at $34,000, reported parks and recreation director Don Dimitratos. The unappraised, 6.5-acre reservoir site, he said, will provide four acres of park area when deeded to the city by Marin Municipal Water District at no cost.

Mill Velley parks and recreation commission also:

VANDALS — Heard a report that vandals had done $633 damage to park facilities in the past two months, and urged heavier penalties for vandalism.

MOLINO — Learned $2,000 of new play equipment had been installed at Molino Park.

CLUBHOUSE — Heard Dimitratos report his is attemtpting to improve scheduling of the golf clubhouse by private groups to avoid conflicts that have occurred in the past months since the Center for the Performing Arts started using the clubhouse.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Took no action on expansion of the city's senior citizen program from once a month to once a week, pending county approval of a $2,000 subsidy to finance the expansion.

TELEPHONES — Recommended installation of telephones in Old Mill and Boyle parks, subject to design of booths by the architectural advisory committee.

DO-IT-YOURSELF ROAD JOB

Midvale Way in Tamalpais Valley has never been accepted as a county road, so the county will not improve it. Not to be deterred by bureaucracy, residents of the road did the job themselves. They first had a firm grade laid. Last week they put in a culvert. Yesterday, with rented equipment, they rolled the blacktop. Hard at work was, among others, Louis McCarthy of 531 Midvale Road, pushing the roller. Even the youngsters helped.

Mill Valley Suggests Committee To Solve City-County Plan Split

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Mill Valley planners last night ventured beyond city limits and suggested formation of a small but active city-county committee to steer through the Marin County master plan.

The initiative should be made at city level to fight suspicion county planners are trying to take over, members of the city planning commission agreed at a joint meeting with the county planning commissioners.

Ostensibly, the meeting was called to discuss the East Mill Valley general plan. But it was with city-county relations — the second item on the agenda — that the greatest progress was made.

"It is encouraging to hear such a positive response," commented county commission chairman Margaret chairman Margaret Azevedo.

The city-county committee idea, with cities and the county having equal representation, was put up by Mill Valey Councilma Michael Woruum.

He was present as a spectator but several members of the commission pounced on the suggestion. "I think Mill Valley should propose it through the Council of Mayors," said city planning commissioner Rodric L. Robinson.

Wornum said unless the county general plan was discussed through such a committee, he saw it disappearing under the weight of discussion and counter-discussion from every conceivable organization.

The committee idea should come from city level because of the "growing suspicion' 'of most things county, he said.

"There are least two supervisors who are talking about a city and county of Marin," he said. "I don't have to tell you the fear of death this gives to some cities. They see themselves going before the county bulldozer."

County Planning Commissioner William F. Upton was somewhat taken aback. "Cities are suspicious of the county but there is no basis for it," he said.

Replied Mrs. Azevedo: "Of course there is a basis for it. The county does want to plan the whole county. People in the county planning department say they can do it better and the cities tend to get in the way.'

Edward J. Loessenecker, chairman of the city planning commission, said Mill Valley was in favor of co-operative action on the county master plan. He considered the job would be easier if discussion was broken into specific geographical locations.

Fellow commissioner Edward Farrell supported the joint committee but called for sub-committees to deal with specific areas.

Dealing with the present status of the plan, County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said his staff was able to carry out internal studies on certain subjects — such as airports and transit —which were county-wide in nature.

"I don't think we are able to go far in other directions without co-operation from the cities," he said.

Discussion of the East Mill Valley general plan, adopted by the city in January, 1966, disclosed the main point of contention was whether it should contain a rapid transit corridor.

Loessenecker contended that any future transit system must, by necessity, follow a route from Telegraph Hill in San Francisco to San Rafael and consequently by-pass Mill Valley.

His commission agreed in general that Mill Valley wanted rapid transit but it should be alongside Highway 101 and not on the present railroad line which divides the planned area.

Mrs. Azevedo said that talks on extending Miller Avenue to Highway 101 had been bogged down pending clarification on the rerouting of Shoreline Highwary.

She said that if Mill Valley could agree the routing need not necessarily be through Tamalpais Valley or Tennessee Valley, there was every likelihood the Miller Avenue project could get under way soon. The county commission, said Mrs. Azevedo, is now talking in terms of routing over the headlands from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Tool Box Stolen

Theft of a tool box containing tools and a battery charger worth $152 was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by William K. Gamble, 83 Ethel Avenue. The box was stored in the carport of his home, he said.

Runaway Boys Held At Quincy

Two Marin County runaway juveniles who stole a car at noon yesterday in Mill Valley were arrested last night by Plumas County sheriff's deputies, police reported today.

The boys, a 16-year-old from Greenbrae and a 14-year-old from Strawberry, were caught after thay cashed a $22 check in Yuba City, Sutter County, from a check book they found in the car. Owner of the car is Robert H. Albachten, 401 Ash Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Albachten reported his car was stolen at 12:05 p.m. while it was parked at Faber's Restaurant, 382 Miller Avenue. The keys were in the ignition.

The two boys were booked into Juvenile Hall at Quincy, in Plumas County.

Drake Double Sessions Plan Is Outlined

The double sessions proposed for Sir Francis Drake High School next year may cause inconveniences in scheduling, but will not basically hurt the school's educational program, Drake Principal Harold Allison told a group of parents last night.

More than 50 parents, mainly of students who will be freshmen next year, attended a discussion of the double session proposal at the Sleepy Hollow community center.

Allison explained that under the proposed schedule, the earliest classes would begin at 7:30 a.m. and the last classes would end at 5:30 p.m., a 10-period day. Sophomores, juniors and seniors would attend classes in the middle of the day, and freshmen would be on schedules either early or late.

Students now have a six-period day, with some taking an optional seventh period. Allison said that under the proposed schedule, sophomores, juniors and seniors would still have a six-period day, but some freshmen would have a five-period day, dropping a study hall.

The present period lasts 55 minutes, but under the proposed schedule all periods would be cut to 50 minutes, he said.

Washington Resident To Enter Checks Plea

Plea entry for Sema Horn, 34, on two counts of passing worthless checks, was scheduled yeaterday in Marin Municipal Court for 2 p.m. April 6.

The defendant, of Lake Stevens, Wash., allegedly passed a bad $108.31 check Feb. 14 to defraud Todd's Department Store in Novato, and four other checks totaling $101.37, also in Novato, Feb. 11-16.

Five Candidates' Nights Are Planned This Week

Five "candidates' nights" have been scheduled for this week as campaigns begin to heat up for next month's elections in districts and municipalities in Marin County.

The first will be held by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School for candidates for Reed School District and Tamalpais High School District boards.

Tomorrow, candidates for the San Rafael Board of Education will be presented at 8 p.m. in San Rafael High School auditorium by the San Rafael and Terra Linda High schools Parent-Teacher Associations.

Also tomorrow, candidates for Marin Junior College, Tamalpais High School and San Rafael High School District boards will speak at the Sleepy Hollow Homes Association clubhouse at 1317 Butterfield Road, under sponsorship of the association.

On Thursday at 8 p.m. in San Rafael City Hall, candidates for San Rafael city council, police chief and board of education will be presented by the Women Voters of Central Marin. There are six candidates for two openings on the council, two candidates for police chief, and four candidates fot three openings on the board of education.

Also on Thursday at 8 p.m. in Central School, Sausalito, the Sausalito Citizens Council will hold a candidates' night for candidates to the Sausalito School District and Tamalpais High School District boards.

Candidate's Attendance Report Erred

Mrs. Avajean B. Anderson, candidate for the Novato Unified School District Board, has been attending meetings of the board frequently for more than a year.

In "The People's Schools" column yesterday, Bryce W. Anderson reported Mrs. Anderson had not been attending meetings of the board for which she is a candidate. This was based on information from a veteran board member.

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Anderson has attended regularly since she was appointed to the Novato Chamber of Commerce education committee last June, and had attended some meetings previously. She is not among qualification of knowledge of school board operation from personal observation.

Visitors' Bureau Gets Fair Exhibit Chores

Marin County supervisors decreed today that the Marin Visitors' Bureau must develop the county's exhibit at the State Fair and authorized $3,500 for the exhibit rather than the $2,500 orginally voted.

If more money is needed, the visitors' bureau must raise it, the board said.

Vote on this proposal was 4-1, with Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, still smarting over a previous board decision, dissenting.

Kettenhofen was angry that he got no second for his request that the county put up $5,000 for the non-profit Marin Hearing and Speech Center.

The Marin Hospital District board has agreed to contribute a meeting room at Marin General Hospital for the center and the Babcock Foundation has agreed to put up $16,000.

Kettenhofen said the money would be saved in charges for testing county patients. The San Francisco center where this is now done is to increase its charge from $25 to $35 a visit. The Marin center would charge $25.

Other supervisors thought the expense should be one borne by the hospital district, not the county. "I begin to get the feeling that everyone who needs money comes to the county," said freshman Supervisor John F. McInnis.

$6 Million Gift Offered To Nevadans

CARSON CITY (AP) — Industrialist Howard Hughes said today he would donate up to $6 million to the State of Nevada for a medical school.

In a letter to Gov. Paul Laxalt, the mysterious Hughes said he would contribute $200,000 to $300,000 each year for 20 years, commencing whenever the University of Nevada requires the money, the governor said.

"I attach no strings or conditions to this proposal," Hughes said in the letter. "The medical school need not be located in southern Nevada. The state is free to locate the school wherever it may desire."

Hughes, 61, who has applied to the state to invest $13 million as the sole licensee in the Desert Inn hotel-casino on the Las Vegas strip, said the proposed donation "would be legally binding and enforceable upon me and upon my estate after my death."

The legislature currently is debating a proposal to establish a two - year medical school in Reno. The plan has met stiff opposition from southern Nevada physicians who would like to see the first medical school in Nevada established in Las Vegas.

During the Middles Ages, it was a custom to pay a physician a life annuity for performing a successful operation.

Climber Slips To His Death

LONE PINE (AP) — Dr. Michael Hamilton, 43, of Redding slipped as he descended Mount Whitney Sunday and slid down the icy slope several hundred feet to instant death.

Hamilton and four companions were descending after reaching the Sierras' highest peak Saturday.

The terrain was so steep, it took four hours for his companions to reach Dr. Hamilton's body.

William Wyland, 45, also of Redding, a member of the climbing party, hiked out of the area and reached Lone Pine yesterday to report the tragedy.

A private helicopter was dispatched to recover the body.

Board Lauds Marin City Rec Repairs

Marin County supervisors today were delighted over the restoration, mostly with volunteer labor, of the portable building located in Marin City last summer as a temporary recreation center.

The building had to be closed a few months after it was opened, because of extensive vandalism. But early this year, Marin City youth volunteered to fix up the building.

This was done under the coordination of county maintenance man Alvis Allen, who put in 80 hours of county time and 21 hours of his own time, Asst. County Administrator Thomas F Campanella told the supervisors today

Supervisors thanked all who had accomplished the job and voted a $2,519 transfer from reserves, $317 for new furnishings for the center and $2,202 for employment of part-time supervisors for the balance of the fiscal year.

Five Students On Dean's List

Five students from Marin County are among 169 who have been named to the dean's list at the University of the Pacific, Stockton.

They are: David W. Cox of 177 Eliseo Drive and John B. Moorhead of 11 Maple Hill Drive; both San Rafael; Lurette Mattson of 660 Northern Avenue, Tamalpais Valley; and Joanna E. Beck of 640 Throckmorton Avenue and Frederick H. Hilton of 9 Plaza Drive, both Mill Valley.

Fall Victim Identified By Coroner

A youth who fell to his death Saturday on the rocks below the Golden Gate Bridge north tower was identified today as Joseph Curtis Bussolati, 18, of San Francisco.

The youth died of multiple injuries suffered in a fall from the cliff adjoining the bridge, Asst. Coroner E. R. Fontaine said today.

The body was seen Sunday and reported to the California Highway Patrol as a possible jumper from the bridge, but Fontaine said scrapes on the youth's boots and the nature of his injuries showed he had fallen from the cliff.

The body was identified by a fingerprint check with the state Criminal Investigation Bureau in Sacrament. There was no identification on the body except a slip of paper with the name "Joe" and a social security number.

Bussolati was a son of Army Lt. Col. Emile J. Bussolati, who is stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco. Funeral arrangements are pending at Halsted and Company, San Francisco.

Salinger Says Too Much Media

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger, former presidential press secretary and now vice president of Continental Airlines, says the public cannot cope with the current communications revolution.

He told 1,500 delegates to the American Society of Public Administration convention last night that the revolution "has changed our lives . . ."

The more information the public seems to get, the less becomes its capacity to either understand or act upon it, he said.

Mint Director Tours Facility

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco Mint, closed for two weeks because some employees walked out with coins stuffed in their pockets, was toured yesterday by federal director Eva Adams.

She made the unannounced tour as operations resumed with hopes the structure now has security.

Tomorrow, she has scheduled a tour for newsmen to detail how security has been revamped. The main revision was installation of a metal detector at the exit for employes.

Local director John Carr reported none of the workers had refused to pass the detector.

"Actually," he said, "I think they are getting a kick out of it."

Dark Bourbon:
It's not the kind of whiskey you learn on.

This isn't beginner's whiskey.

This is dark, deep-flavored Bourbon.

Bourbon that leaves a good rich cling on the side of your glass. And a nice round taste in your mouth.

This is Bourbon the way it used to be. Prime copper-stilled whiskey. Fixed with lots of handwork. And nothing but pure, fresh goods. With more of the small grains. And a sour mash that goes back more than 75 years.

This is slow-cooked Bourbon. Aged till it's darker in color. And deeper in taste. Till its youth has mellowed, and its character matured.

Hill and Hill Preferred. It's not beginner's Bourbon.

But it is an education.

Fairfax Council Kills Mayor Rotation Plan

A proposed resolution setting procedures for rotating the mayor and vice mayor posts was defeated by the Fairfax City Council last night by 3-2 vote.

Councilman Robert R. Souza proposed the resolution, which he said would "eliminate some of the confusion" on timing and "create a more orderly process."

VOICE VOTE

As proposed, more than one name could be placed in nomination for mayor, and the vote would be verbal. Also, nominations would be permitted without a second.

One section would have required four votes to return an incumbent mayor to the post, but this was eliminated before the vote.

Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., George A. Pagni and Frank J. Egger voted down the plan.

Souza noted that rotating the posts has been practiced, but the proposed procedure would make it more orderly.

Councilmen also considered replying in the city newsletter to a letter to local property owners last month that called for a commissioner form of government. After a brief discussion, they decided against it.

Councilman Adelaide Wilson said she felt the letter raised questions that the council should answer officially, and Souza noted that the letter critized two city employees.

'FILE IT'

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers said that "as long as no charges were brought" and it was "merely a letter criticizing the city manager, I'd file it."

Arrigoni said residents should be encouraged to write letters, "critical or encouraging."

Councilmen contended that the letter contained allegations and half-truths.

Planning Commissioner Leo Cronin said, "This (the letter) is just part of the mud you get thrown at you." He objected to the council spending any of the taxpayer's money to "expound your ideas and defend yourself."

Mrs. Priscilla Gray of 126 Ridge Road said the council aired the letter at a town meeting. "I can't see the need for further explanation," she said.

The discussion about the letter was prompted by another letter, from Ann H. Winsor, 66 Chester Avenue, asking that her name be removed from the earlier missive.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

PERSONNEL BOARD — Appointed Albert Fox, 66 Willow Avenue, to the board of review for personnel for a four-year term to succeed Arthur Darrington, and re-appointed William Benson.

ENGINEER ANNIVERSARY — Passed a resolution urging adoption of a postage stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Navy Civil Engineer Corps and the 25th anniversary of the Navy Construction Battalion.

GAS TAX — Passed a resolution opposing the matching fund provisions of the Collier-Unruh gasoline tax street improvement program.

AUDIT CONTRACT — Approved a contract with Cooper and Kerr of San Rafael, certified public accountants, to audit the city's books for 1966-67 and 1967-68 at $750 each year.

10th Annual Wildflower Show Is Set

Stinson Beach's 10th annual wildflower show will be held May 6 and 7 in the Community Center, according to Mrs. Edward E. Leary, one of four founders of the show.

This year's heavy winter rains, she said, "Give us flowers like we haven't seen in 10 years." The first of several trips to scout flowers for the show will be this week end, when she and two other founders, Mrs. Kenneth Shicky and Mrs. Arthur Menzies, tour Death Valley with the California Botanical Club.

The fourth founder, Mrs. Charles Griffin, is in Sicily, where her husband serves with the U.S. Navy.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. Admission will be charged and tea will be served.

Collection trips throughout much of the state will begin April 29, said Mrs. Leary.

Fighter's Club For Boys Ruined

VALLEJO (AP) — Archie Moore's recently closed ABC (Any Boys Can Club—) where the fighter taught respect for both person and property—was a vandal-wrecked scene today.

"Someone is seeking revenge," said the former world light heayweight boxing champion on hearing at his San Diego home how the club's Vallejo quarters were smashed and littered with debris over last weekend.

Moore said "a lot of people were furious" because the American Savings and Loan Association dropped financial support of the club at the end of February.

Amendments On Sounding Board Agenda

A panel of speakers on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" Thursday at 9 a.m. will debate three of the 13 proposed amendments to the San Rafael City Charter to be placed on April 10 election ballots.

Under discussion will be proposition B, recommending the offices of ctiy clerk-assessor, city attorney, police chief and city treasurer-tax collector be appointive instead of elective; proposition E dealing with advertising and promotion for San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and proposition G, making city manager government part of the charter.

Speakers will be John D. LaNoue, a member of the San Rafael Charter Committee; Walter R. Zurcher, member of the chamber of commerce; and city council candidate Orlando Conti.

They will answer listeners questions and a recording of the debate will be broadcast Sunday at 12:20 p.m.

SPUNKY ORPHAN

Giving Sarge A Black Eye Is Passport

MALVERNE, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Barone has helped find an American home for a 5-year-old Korean orphan who caught the former U.S. Army sergeant's eye by socking him in the eye.

"He socked me right in the kisser, and showing that spunk, I liked him right away," says Barone.

Barone, 25, who now works for a finance company, met the orphan Lee Yung Soo, when he visited the Chung Duk Won orphanage of Pusan in 1965 while serving with the army.

RECALLS VISIT

"Two weeks after we landed in Korea in August 1965, I went to the orphanage," Barone recalled in an interview today. "Another GI was holding Lee in his arms. I approached the boy and said, 'Isn't that a cute one.' He socked me in the eye."

"He had spunk. He was cute," Barone continued in explaining why he chose Lee as his favorite out of more than 100 orphans at the home ."He was a tough little guy, a man's man, a little man. I just fell in love with him."

Last April, Barone wrote to his mother, Mrs. Frank Barone, asking her to try to find a family to adopt Lee. Mrs. Barone telephoned the wife of the president of the Parents for Overseas Adoption, a group of Long Island parents who have adopted children.

The wife of the president said Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koch of Lindenhurst might be interested since they had adopted a Korean girl three years ago. Mrs. Barone got in touch with the Kochs and they were enthusiastic.

COMING TO U.S.

The boy is scheduled to join the Kochs on April 5, thanks to arrangements made by the Welcome House of Doylestown, Pa., founded by author Pearl Buck.

Mrs. Koch said she and her husband, an aircraft engineer, adopted the Korean girl, named Kristi, because they were lonesome after their own three children, ranging in age from 20 to 23, went off to college. Kristi is 6 now.

"We wanted a little brother for our Kris," Mrs. Koch explained.

Committee Backs Shots For Measles

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Public Health Committee has approved a bill to require California school children to have measles vaccinations.

The measure, by Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, requires vaccinations for common measles. The shot would not be effective against German measles, however.

Fairfax Shopping Center Denied; City Wants Master Plan First

Fairfax City Council last night unanimously denied rezoning of the Buon Gusto property on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to permit development of a million-dollar shopping center.

The decision came after a hearing before about 60 persons that lasted almost two hours and centered around the city's proposed master plan.

Councilmen commented it would not be desirable to rezone the property until the master plan is completed.

Attorney Raymond H. Shone, representing Mrs. Eleanor McArdle Jean, owner of the property, urged that it be rezoned from limited commercial to commercial.

The proposal is to develop a village plaza consisting of an Alfa-Beta Market, part of the fourth largest grocery chain in the United States, and five or six satellite stores, he said.

The property, west of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, extends from the end of Broadway to Olema Drive. It is the site of the former Buon Gusto Villa Restaurant, which closed five years ago after operating almost a half century.

Councilman Frank J. Egger said it would be premature to rezone until the council gets the final recommendations in the master plan.

Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson said, "I don't think we need another shopping center in Fairfax."

Planning Commissioner Leo Cronin said the commission's denial was not based on traffic problems, as reported previously in the Independent-Journal. Since funds are being spent for a master plan, "we'd like to see what the specialists come up with," he said.

The plan as it now stands calls for limited commercial zoning for the site, Cronin said.

There were some comments that creation of a new shopping center would be "strip development" and would detract from efforts to strengthen the downtown area.

Shone countered that the site was near the downtown commercial area and development would spur improvements elsewhere. He said the development would be a million-dollar project, would bring the city from $30,000 to $35,000 in additional taxes annually and provide jobs for about 80 residents.

Shone said it would be the "largest single, private undertaking in the history of Fairfax," and the Alfa-Beta Market is willing to enter into a 20-year lease.

The uses permitted under the present zoning are restrictive and not economically feasible for the three-and-a-half acre site, he said.

Ross Parkerson of 70 Manor Road, a county planner, said the issue is whether to proceed on "the concept of development on a piece-meal basis as against a comprehensive planning program."

Paul D. Buchholz of San Rafael, president of the First of California Mortgage Co., who represented a group of developers, applied for the zoning change. He contended that development of the shopping center would stimulate the downtown. "The purpose is to make people stop in Fairfax," he declared.

Shone contended that "people in Fairfax are not shopping in Fairfax" and the center would attract them.

Arts Center Asks For County Cash

A request from Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts that the county budget $800 from its promotion and development budget for fiscal 1968 for the center will be heard today by Mill Valley Art Commission at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

If endorsed by the commission, the request will go to the city council.

Also on the agenda is discussion of a list of artists to be invited to display in public buildings.

SAN RAFAEL'S CHARTER

'Open End' Fund For Promation?

By FRANK FARRARA
(Second of five articles)

San Rafael residents will vote April 10 on whether to loosen the city's purse string on advertising and promotion funds.

Officials agree that the present limit of $1,000 a year is too close-fisted, but have clashed over the proposal to have an "open-end" fund.

The proposed charter revision, Proposition E, would permit the city council to spend "for advertising purposes or for celebration of such public events or demonstrations as it may deem proper." It sets no limit.

COMMITTEE SPLIT

The city charter revision committee was split on the proposal, and the council placed it on the ballot by a 3-2 vote.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said setting no limit was poor policy, and urged councilmen to set a $10,000 limit.

Councilmen backing the revision felt that councils, responsive to the voters, wouldn't play fast and loose with the fund.

Baar pointed out that if the "no-limit" proposal fails, the city will be back to its $1,000 limit.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen said, "I can't see giving taxpayers' money away without a limit."

MINORITY REPORT

In a minority report to the council, Roy M. Michael, chairman of the charter revision committee, proposed a $10,000 limit.

Michael also proposed that the city enact a transient hotel-motel tax, with two-thirds of the proceeds of this tax, or $10,000, whichever were greater, earmarked for advertising and promotion.

Councilmen felt that a hotel-motel tax should not be included in the charter, but legislated by ordinance.

The $1,000 limit has been a barrier to the appropriation of city funds to organizations such as the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, but the city has skirted it in recent years.

In 1965, the city alloted the $1,000 fund to the chamber and then gave the chamber an additional $4,000 to prepare a report on businesses, home occupancy, sales, etc. to be used in assisting the city planning department.

At that time Councilman Charles W. Aby said the "only way around" the charter provision would be to amend it.

CHAMBER SURVEY

Last year the city authorized $5,000 for the chamber to update and expand its economic survey of San Rafael, none of it from the promotion fund.

Proponents of the "no-limit" provision contended that a limit should not be set in the charter because the city will grow and that limit, in turn, will become inadequate.

Then, they said, the city would have to go through the whole charter revision routine again, to change it.

Pill Sought For Boll Weevils

WASHINGTON (SS) — Some 7,000 chemical compounds will be tested to see if any of them can render male boll weevils sterile.

The Southern Research Institute, Birmingham, Ala., under a $150,000 contract with the Agriculture Department, will spend three and a half years in the search.

If successful, the project would provide a means of destruction of the boll weevil, one of the most destructive cotton pests. Sterile males would be grown and released to mate with wild females, whose eggs would never hatch.

This sterile-male technique, applied to the screwworm fly, eliminated that expensive pest in the United States.

Boll weevils cannot be sterilized by radiation, as the flies were, because radiation destroys the weevil's sexual drive.

Knights Of Columbus Anniversary Dinner

The 85th anniversary of the founding of the Knights of Columbus will be observed with a corned beef and cabbage dinner at 8 p.m. by members of Our Lady of Loretto Council 3950 at the parish hall in Novato

The Knights of Columbus, an organization of Catholic men, was chartered by the general assembly of Connecticut on March 29, 1882.

Planter Stolen

Theft of a $15 redwood planter was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Mrs. M. R. Walburn, 90 East Blithedale Avenue. The planter was taken from in front of her office during the weekend, she said.

Novato Fund Study Hiring On Agenda

The Novato City Council will consider whether to hire a financial consultant for the city's capital improvement program when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

A council committee has recommended that the city hire Bartle Wells Associates to make the survey for $4,000. This firm made a similar study for the Novato Sanitary District.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. will report on possible purchase the Rodoni property immediately north of the Community House. Purchase of this property was requested by the council when it decided not to move the civic center.

William Jonas is asking that the name of Entrada Drive be changed to Roger Wilco Way because that is where one of his Roger Wilco stores is located.

The public works department will submit a contract for installing curbs, gutters and sidewalks along Grant Avenue beside the Marion School grounds.

Other items to come before the council include a report by the traffic safety committee, a revision in the community house charges and acquisition of a showcase for Indian artifacts in the Community House.

Holiday Magic Asks Parking Lot Permission

Holiday Magic cosmetics will ask action by the San Rafael Planning Commission on three fronts tonight in connection with expansion plans.

The commission is scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Holiday Magic seeks a variance and use permit for a 62-car parking lot at 158 Mill Street, a block away from its plant at 616 Canal Street. The firm is forced to eliminate on-site parking because of plans to expand the plant, for which it additionally will ask architectural approval.

Also on the commission's agenda is public hearing on a use permit request for a Montessori School at 1428 Mission Avenue. Robert A. Menzies of Kentfield, owner of the property, will make the request.

Commissioners also will consider a zoning ordinance amendment controlling commercial uses in residences. The amendment is one of a series planned to update the city's zoning code.

Marin Urged To Tap Scenic Roads Funds

Federal and state money is available for building scenic roads, but what is Marin County doing to qualify for it?

Very little, according to the Marin Property Owners Association, which has written to the county board of supervisors complaining that other areas are using national scenic road development funds "which are partly financed by tax money from Marin County."

Executive Director Melvin J. Rupp said in the letter that county-wide members of the association designated proposals for highways in Marin County.

They included:

1. Marin needs an east-west highway from the general vicinity of San Rafael to the general vicinity of Point Reyes Station.

2. Marin needs a new state highway running to the ridge tops northward to Point Reyes Station and continuing northward on the ridge tops overlooking Tomales Bay.

3. The present Shoreline Highway should be improved.

4. The Point Reyes to Petaluma road should be improved and widened, and so should Lucas Valley Road.

5. "The suggestion has been made that county government designate one man who will become thoroughly familiar with programs offered by the federal government and the State of California," said the letter. "It does not appear that this has been done."

Fund-Raising Art Show Set

"Spring Colorama," a spring art show to raise money for the North Bay Artists' scholarship fund, will be held all day April 15 at the downtown shopping center at Seventh Street and Novato. Members and some non-members have donated paintings which will be sold.

Money from the sale will go toward art scholarships for Novato High School students, announced Mrs. Alfred McElroy, chairman. Two previous scholarship winners, Linda Pederson and Jean Lew, will be in charge of a balloon booth at the show.

Kerr Considering Classroom Post At Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) — Former University of California President Clark Kerr is still considering returning to the Berkeley campus as a professor of industrial relations.

Kerr, fired by the regents in January, retained his status as a full tenured professor and could return to teaching and research at $30,000 a year.

He has been negotiating with various department chairmen who would be affected by his return to teaching. If Kerr decided to return, he would not begin teaching until next September.

Small Car Stolen

Someone took his 1961 model Volkswagen between 9:45 and 10 p.m. Friday while it was parked in front of 1145 Elm Drive, Novato, Larry R. Hale, 22, of Baywood Avenue, Ross, reported to Novato police.

Dairy School Slated For Annual Session

The annual Marin County dairy school, sponsored by the Marin County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Lions Club Community Center in Point Reyes Station. Lunch will be provided at the center after the program.

Four speakers are scheduled. Winston Engvall, Marin County farm adviser, will talk on culling dairy herds for production. Earl W. Holtz, Sonoma County farm adviser, will show slides and speak on cattle housing, new construction and remodeling of herd quarters. Two dairymen from the University of California at Davis Extension will also speak. Donald Bath will explain use of additives in dairy concentrates, and Robert Appleman will speak on sire evaluations and use of sire reports in a herd breeding program.

San Francisco Cup Races Are Creating Excitement In Marin

By MOLLY MARIN

Much excitement at San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, over the first challenge race for the San Francisco Cup. The match races, scheduled for April 8-9, will feature sister ships. St. Francis Yacht Club Commodore William Stewart III of San Rafael, will skipper his 46 ft. Andale, while Henry Grandin of Ross will compete with another Cal-32 class yacht, the Amorita which he berths in Belvedere Cove. Included in the Amorita's crew will be the owner's sons, Michael, 14, and David, 13. Peter Salz is arranging boats for the large number of spectators from the Belvedere club who are planning to watch the five race contest on bay waters.

SEADRIFT at Stinson Beach was a lively place Easter vacation week, with many Marin families playing and relaxing together by the ocean and lagoon with their children and friends. From Ross the Edward L. Ripleys and William Cavaliers Jr., the Allen Laidlaws of Tiburon, joined by their son and his family who flew up from Los Angeles to enjoy the beach for a reunion; and from San Rafael, the George Fernbachers. The Thomas C. Marshall clan of Kentfield enjoyed the week and then the Marshall children found ways to delay their mother at Seadrift on Easter Sunday afternoon while their father sped over the hill to prepare a surprise birthday party for her when she arrived home at six o'clock.

PLANNING TO ENTER their yacht, the Privateer, in the Transpacific Yacht Race from San Pedro to Hawaii in July are the David Allens of Belvedere. Crew will include Betty Allen, and three of the Allen daughters, Laurie, Jeannie and Donna, and their oldest son, Jim. The all-Marin crew includes John O'Brien, Joe Miller, George Hackett, David Gast, Gary Grey and Shelley Miller, who will be navigator. Dave's first Transpac Race was in 1936, when he sailed on the Marilen, owned by his father, the late Harry B. Allen of Belvedere. Mrs. Harry Allen still has menus and shipping lists that she used to provision the ship for that earlier voyage . . . eggs were 18 cents a dozen 30 years ago. Dave's mother made the ocean race in 1936, and has happy memories of the experience. This time she hopes to fly to Hawaii and stay in the house in the islands that the family will take for the summer.

WENDY McPHERSON spent last week skiing in Sun Valley. She is a graduate of San Rafael High School and a junior at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City.

MRS. CHARLES P. DAVIES (Elizabeth Banning) of Indian Valley Ranch in Novato has been receiving exciting reports from her husband who is on a business trip to the Far East. He has been in the Philippines for six weeks where he has been entertained extensively. He is going on to Japan and Taiwan before returning home.

'Real Nice' Store Detectives Teach Youngsters Who Has Guts

DEAR HELEN:

Today my friend and I went shopping. While there we thought why not do a little shoplifting?

Well, that wasn't very smart because we got caught. In a way, I'm glad because now I'll never do it again. We got caught by two real nice store detectives. They told us real definite how wrong it was and then they read us a letter which you had received to YAFI from a guy who got caught, and how bad he felt.

They told us also the guys who say "No" to a temptation are the ones who have guts.

Please put this letter into your column because we'd like to thank the detectives and tell them from now on we have the right kind of guts. And also that we sure know now how it hurts your parents, just because you think you want to be "big and smart." —KEN AND MIKE

PERSONAL TO "Big Nose," the 13-year-old girl whose "long, skinny horrible" nose gets her called "Miss Witch" by kids at school.

Please send me your name and address, as I have important information for you. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I went out on my first baby sitting job and was supposed to be home by midnight. This lady promised she'd be in by 11 p.m., but at after 1 a.m. she walked in with a man (she'd left with a woman).

She said she couldn't pay me right then, but would send it. Days went by and no money came, so I asked her and she claimed she sent a five dollar bill through the mail.

Is there any way I can get my money? —DISAPPOINTED

DEAR SIS:

A telephone call from your father might persaude this chintzy dame, especially if he points out she'll have a tough time finding sitters in the future. And he might add, the next lowest thing to taking candy away from a baby is cheating a baby sitter out of her pay. —H.

DEAR HELEN???

Ah ha! I'm on to you! My Dad says he knows you and you are a man. —SMART

DEAR SMART:

That'll be news to my husband and four children!

Sorry—your father must know some kind of nut who has delusions. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

You're so right that everyone needs to "talk it out" with a qualified person, but why me? I'm not qualified.

I felt sorry for this girl so I listened to her problems. She won't talk to her parents or a guidance counselor — I think mainly because she's latched on to me. I'm plagued. I can't go anywhere without being followed by her. It's got to the point where her troubles are mine, and I have enough of my own! She just pours them out and they're pretty wild. Besides, I'm being marked as one of her kind because she hangs around me so much.

I tell her to see an expert, but she won't. She needs one. I've tried losing her politely but she won't take the hint. I feel sorry for her, but, honest, I can't help. How can I turn in my junior psychiatrist's button? —WORRIED, ALSO BORED

DEAR WAB:

Tell this clinger you're taking all her troubles to her parents as you can't carry them any longer. Then guide her firmly toward the office of your school counselor.

. . . And next time be selective about your listening. A sympathetic ear is a magnet for a boring lip. —H.

Much-Argued Novato Sign Law Favored By Planners

The much-debated Novato sign ordinance was approved last night by the Novato Planning Commission and sent on to the city council.

The ordinance has been tossed back and forth among the commission, planning staff, chamber of commerce and downtown improvement association for several months. Main objections of merchants were to requirements to get rid of existing non-conforming signs and control inside window signs.

A compromise approved by the commission last night gives merchants three years to amortize existing non-conforming signs, with a possible additional two years if applied for by the merchant. Temporary window signs may not exceed 50 per cent of the total sign area allowed each building or one square foot per front foot of the building. They also may not exceed 25 per cent of the total window space, and may not be displayed for more than 60 days.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

INDUSTRIAL PARK — Approved the tentative map of the North Marin industrial park of approximately five and one-half acres north of Olive Avenue and east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. The park will have six lots, and a spur railroad connection. Joseph and Robert Arrighi and Robert and William Parnow are the developers.

ZONE CHANGE — Recommended granting Kenneth E. Niles rezoning change from agricultural to commercial on 18,150 square feet at Center Road and Diablo Avenue.

Board Delays Decision On Television

The Kentfield School District board last night considered expanded use of educational television in the district, but postponed decision until the fiscal 1968 budget is considered.

The board heard a report on the use of educational television and learned that the Kentfield Parent-Teacher Association had donated more than $500 to have television outlets installed at Adaline E. Kent School.

Supt. Anthony G Bacich said the program cost $1.25 per student per year, but the state will refund 50 cents per student.

A school calendar was approved, with classes starting Sept. 11 and ending June 14, including 176 school days. Preschool meetings for teachers will start Sept. 5.

Bacich reported that the Marin County Public Works Department has agreed to submit a plan to the district for flood control on Wolfe Grade Creek, near Wolfe Grade School.

The board accepted the resignation of secretary Wanda Bigelow.

Novato Bicycle Rider Injured

He rode his bicycle down Rita Court onto Olive Avenue when it hit the rear of a car driven by Orve Van Winkle, 67, of 314 Atherton Avenue, Novato, police reported.

Teen-ager Gets Prison Term

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday gave Marc Torvend Ford, 18, a state prison term of two to 10 years for using stolen credit cards to obtain four automobile tires, and for possession of marijuana.

Ford, returned to county jail after four months at California Rehabilitation Center at Corona for treatment as a narcotics user, pleaded guilty to both felonies Oct. 17. Felony counts of concealing stolen property and attempted grand theft were dismissed following the pleas.

Ford was arrested Dec. 29, 1965, by San Rafael police after obtaining the tires at a Standard Oil service station at Fourth and H streets. He had the marijuana April 7.

Collision Hurts Bus Passenger

A bus passenger suffered minor injuries yesterday when a Greyhound bus and a car collided on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The bus, driven by Alan Lee Perry, 28, of Petaluma, was sideswiped at 7:25 p.m. by a car driven by Robert Frederick Bernhard, 37, of 4 Stanford Court, Larkspur, California Highway patrol reported.

Some Reservations To The Brown Act

Hoffmire told fellow council members Tiburon is leading a countywide movement to urge Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy to reject a bill to strengthen the Brown Act. (It is Bagley's bill.)

He said the Tiburon council objects to the specification that any meeting of a committee of two must be public. This would make council committee meetings impractical, Hoffmire said. He also objected to the provision that only actual litigation could be discussed behind closed doos with the city attorney.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said he has written a letter to 10 other cities in Marin County, urging them to join with Tiburon in opposing these points in the law.

In response to a request from Councilman William R. Bremer, Hoffmire called a closed session at the end of the meeting to discuss a claim on the city filed by the Belvedere Lagoon Property Owners Association.

The claim, for $250,000, charges that siltation and storm flooding in the lagoon were caused by a silde allowed to remain at Old Mar West Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

Deputy City Atty. Richard H. Breiner asked the council to authorize filing of a notice of some defects in the claim. Then, councilman Bremer said he had some thoughts on the subject which he felt were not ready to be discussed in public.

The audience and the Independent-Journal reporter were ordered to leave the meeting at 10:45 p.m. When the session broke up at 11 p.m., Hoffmire comment to make on the private and Bremer said they had no discussion.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ROAD REPAIRS — Authorized payment of $3,871.10 to E. A. Forde Co., Corte Madera, for road repairs on Esperanza Street, completed Feb. 14.

SALARY REVIEW—Reapproved the master salary plan adopted only a month ago in order to comply with the ordinance requiring a review of the plan in March.

PARKING LOT — Continued again an application for a permit to establish a parking lot on the waterfront because of pending court action.

WEED ABATEMENT— Postponed until the April meeting abatement of weeds on a lot at 4 East Terrace to allow the property owners time to remove the weeds.

STRAWBERRY REQUEST — Concurred with a request by the Strawberry Recreation District to allow dredging of the Strawberry Channel, part of which is in Harbor Cove Tidelands jointly owned by the city and the district. Mud would be put on Strawberry Point School property, City Manager Rose said.

NO FEDERAL ASSISTANCE — Accepted a recommendation by project consultant George Gatter that Tiburon do its own general planning rather than seek greater federal assistance.

MAIN STREET MALL — Agreed to contact Frederick J. Zelinsky, Main Street developer, regarding improvement of Juanita Lane to provide egress from Corinthian Island as a first step toward making Main Street a walking mall.

NON-TIDAL CANAL — Heard from Hoffmire that Lawrence Hoyt, assistant to the president of Southern Pacific Co., will recommend railroad approval of a non-tidal canal being constructed in Tiburon. Authorized Rose to notify the railroad of the city's interest in the canal.

Public Works Yard Lease Is Postponed

Tiburon City Council last night postponed until April 10 decision on leasing a site for a city corporation yard from the Tiburon Sanitary District.

The postponement was taken to give Little Reed Heights residents, who may object to the location, a chance to be heard. Harry Matthews, president of the Little Reed Heights Property Owners Association, asked a chance to report to his group before the city acts.

The land is near a proposed city park, east of the sewer plant. The sanitary district has agreed to a sever-year lease at $500 a year.

Mayor John S. Hoffmire said the sever-year lease limit was agreed upon because the sanitary district may have to use the land again as a sludge drying bed, its former use, if a new sludge burning process does not work out.

The mayor said the city sould put a portable building, about 35 by 60 feet, on the property for an equipment shed and public works office. He said this would cost about $2,000. It would have a shake roof, he promised.

Drug Charges Against Trio Are Dismissed

Charges against three Walnut Creek men, said to have been suppliers of marijuana and drugs to Marin County high school students, were dismissed today in Contra Costa Superior Court.

Judge Richard Arnason ruled that insufficient evidence had been presented to warrant the arrest last January of Oliver Dyer-Bennett, 23, Alan Read Turner, 21, and Scott Allen Mayer.

Deputy Dist. Atty. William Bartlett called the ruling a "legal technicality." He said a new complaint will be filed next week and the necessary sufficient evidence presented to the court.

After the three were arrested in Walnut Creek, Marin Sheriff's Deputy Charles Prandi said they had been taking orders for drugs and marijuana at Marin schools. Their arrest was credited to tips from Marin teen-agers.

'Arrest TB' Checks Set This Sunday

About 200 volunteers made final preparations today to test North Marin residents Sunday for tuberculosis.

The project, dubbed "Arrest TB," was organized by the 16-member Novato Health Committee on TB, sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Skin tests will be done from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m at Olive, Marion, West Novato, Rancho and Loma Verde schools. Hamilton Air Force Base personnel and dependents will be tested in the Meadow Park and Pacheco schools.

Tests will be read in the Novato Community House from 3 to 9 p.m., Wednesday. During those hours a mobile x-ray unit will be parked beside the building.

In recent tests, Marin County averaged one per cent countywide for positive tests while Novato had three per cent, according to the tuberculosis association.

Principal organized of the Novato project has been Mrs. Robert Stannard, wife of the Marin County assistant superintendent of schools.

Tiburon Fence Survives; Stop Signs Ordered

Tiburon city councilmen decided last night to have three stop signs in the Hilary Drive-Howard Drive intersection, rather than compel a homeowner to take down his fence to improve sight distance at the corner.

City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker recommended that 40 feet of a fence at 101 Howard Drive be removed, as well as some trees at 100 Howard Drive. He said there have been three injury accidents in three year, two of them involving boys on bicycles.

Hildreth L. Stong of 404 Hilary Drive, speaking for the De Mar property owners, argued that if the fence were removed, the city should pay the expense.

Property owner Ronald S. Jack said he was shocked to learn the city engineer wanted him to take down his fence.

Foreaker agreed the obstructing fence would be less of a sight hazard if three signs were installed to control traffic.

Councilman Gordon W. Strawbridge objected to a "proliferation of stop signs" and voted against installing them, but he was alone. Councilman Branwell D. Fanning was absent.

The council decided trees could be removed "as necessary" in the intersection, in accordance with the city engineer's judgement.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Yesterday we described the surgical treatment of parkinsonism (shaking palsy). The victims usually are over 60 years of age and have tremulousness of the hands and head with marked stiffness of the muscles. In addition there is a mask-like expression to the face.

There are many drugs that control muscle rigidity, tremor or elevate the A few of these are Akineton, Artane, Cogentin, Parsidol, Benadryl, and Elavil. Disipal is used occasionally to control drooling.

SKILLED physical therapy is equally important to keep the individual on the go. Exercise prevents weakness and minimizes stiffness. Fatigue is a poor excuse for not wanting to increase physical activity. Therapeutic exercises such as the stretch-and-pull type are done on a bed or preferably on a mat. The arms and legs are flexed, extended, rotated and bent with or without help.

Stretching a rigid and shortened muscle is extremely important. Activities that improve walking, going up and down stairs, getting out of the auto, and actions associated with eating, dressing, and hygiene are most helpful. All improve performance and when done daily, the victim will become stronger.

Swimming, floating, exercising, or relaxing in warm water is beneficial. These can be done in a pool or in a Hubbard tank. Whirlpool baths and hot packs also have their place. Ultrasonic waves relieve painful areas. Electrical muscle stimulation is recommended ocasionally to improve function of the upper and lower extremities. Dancing improves gait.

There are many assistive or self-help devices with which the individual can eat, drink, write, and hold an electric shaver. Speech therapy may be needed in the total rehabilitation of the victim.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

RH AND BLUE BABY

D. F. B. writes: Would the Rh factor in a husband and wife result in a blue baby?

REPLY

No. A blue baby comes into the world with a defective heart but no one knows why these imperfections exist. To the best of our knowledge, something happens to the mother, such as a bout of German measles during the first three months of pregnancy, that interferes with the development of the heart of the child.

FEVER, INFECTIONS

N. Z. writes: Do all infections cause fever?

REPLY

No. In addition, there are many infections that may or may not be accompanied by fever, particularly respiratory infections, boils, conjunctivitis, and infections of the bladder. Much depends upon the nature of the causative organism and the amount of toxins and other foreign material absorbed.

RELATED GERMS

D. D. writes: In what way could smallpox vaccinations help a person who has cold sores all the time?

REPLY

The theory behind this recommendation is that the herpes virus is related to the virus of smallpox. The results of this method are questionable.

EARLY INVIRONMENT

Mrs. R. writes: Is the emotional pattern of a child set early in life? If so, at what age?

REPLY

Some psychologists are convinced that the personality is determined in the first years of life. But other authorities believe that the effect of early environment is temporary.

Lurie Is Sued For $300,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Millionaire financier Louis R. Lurie was sued for $300,000 yesterday by a broker who claimed the money was due as a fee from sale of the Mark Hopkin sHotel lease.

The broker, Donald E. Werby, said in papers filed in Superior Court that Lurie, who owns the Nob Hill hotel, did not pay him what he promised if he could arrange sale of the lease.

Werby contended he was Lurie's broker earlier this year when New York hotel tycoon Lawrence A. Tisch bought the 20-year lease on the Mark from former movie cowboy Gene Autyr. Lurie was not available for comment.

Junked Car Piles Growing Too Fast

By FRED Mc GEHAN
Advance News Service

That is the conclusion of an Interior Department report. The piles are growing faster — by a million cars a year — than they are being melted into steel.

While the junk heaps are waiting to be fed to furnaces, the best that can be done is to fence them from public view, the report adds, though conceding even this won't be an easy job.

The report, prepared by the department's Bureau of Mines, titled "Automobile Disposal: A National Problem," was more than a year in the making. All sections of the country were canvassed.

Junk and scrap dealers value automobiles for their parts. They have a harder time selling the skeletons and these hulks usually pile up on back lots. As the piles grow, car owners have harder times selling their discarded autos to junk dealers — and in some cases must pay to have their cars hauled away. Often it is cheaper just to abandon a car along the roadside.

The report finds that more than seven million cars are being junked each year with about six million of these being processed for furnace feed. A backlog of one million is left to rust on backlots.

It estimates the backlog of abandoned vehicles is nine million. Other figures have unofficially placed the backlog anywhere between 20 and 40 million vehicles.

"Junk cars cannot be eliminated from the scene," the report concludes, "if for no other reason than that millions must be processed annually, but almost complete utilization can be achieved and the esthetic problems reduced to a minimum."

To do this, it says, new ways have to be found to upgrade the quality of auto scrap. Many car skeletons contain too much copper to suit steel makers and consequently fetch low prices — about $20. other, high-grade scrap brings up to $60 from steel makers.

Transportation costs are high—about $10 to $12 per gross ton—and this also acts as a deterrent to rapid processing of the hulks.

Local government, the survey finds, is doing little to empty junkyards. This could be remedied, the report says.

"There are indications that inventories could be reduced and the movement of junk cars through auto wreckers' yards could be accelerated if licensing or tax systems made a specific charge for every vehicle in inventory at the end of each year," it says.

But "in the present circumstances," it adds, "the best prospects of improving appearance lie in fencing, screening, zoning, and building regulations."

Plans Withdrawn

Plans for a Chrysler auto agency at Casa Buena Drive and Conow Street in Corte Madera, submitted to the Corte Madera Board of Design by the William H. McDevitt Co. were withdrawn last night after the board suggested some modifications.

CERTIFIED MAIL - RETURN RECEIPT REQUESTED

Mr. John R. Jones,
1105 West Cedar Avenue
[redacted]

Dear Mr Jones:

Attached please find a bill for $12,253.22.

It has been assessed to you following a 1500-acre fire in section 3, T2N,R10W of our district. The investigation conducted indicates that you were responsible.

The cost to our department to suppress this fire amounted to $12,253.22. Please forward your payment within 30 days, as indicated on the enclosed bill.

Very truly yours,

David Field

David Field
Forest Officer

Read this. It could happen to you.

This letter is based on actual mail sent each year to people whose carelessness causes a forest fire.

Yet huge as this bill is, it only covers the cost of putting the fire out—not the cost of the damage done.

And the people responsible for many forest fires are not always located.

So the cost of the fire is borne by you and other innocent taxpayers.

Just because someone else was careless.

Remember. Only you can prevent forest fires.

Will It Be Cassius, Ali Or Pvt. Clay?

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston draft board spokesman says the normal churning of administrative machinery could produce an Army private named Cassius Clay 16 days from now if the heavyweight champ's court fights with the Selective Service system fail.

Court Denies Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 6th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals denied heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's motion today for a court order to keep him from being inducted into the Army on April 11.

Clay's draft board in Louisville, his old home town, said yesterday it had granted his request for induction into the Army in Houston, his new home town. His old orders told him to report in Louisville on April 11.

Clay's managers announced a suspension of talks about future title defenses and, as Muhammad Ali, Black Muslim minister, Clay remained in Dallas, recruiting converts for Allah.

He paused to tell reporters, "If I thought it would bring freedom, justice and equality for 22 million so-called Negroes, you wouldn't have to draft me. I'd join tomrrow."

The induction switch from Louisville to Houston meant an automatic delay described as "indefinite," but Mrs. Josie W. Koonce, chief clerk for all Houston draft boards, said that "indefinite" under law meant a minimum of one day and probably will mean no more than three weeks or a month at most.

She said it is up to the Army now to decide whether or not it will accept Clay from among the other Houston draftees and out-of-town draftees sent its way.

"As far as I've found, there's no reason why he won't be inducted," she said. "We don't know what dates we have on our calls. Some calls are in April, but our calls are small now."

Clay could be told as early as April 12 to report to the induction center in a brick building in downtown Houston. There, he would take the oath and be sent on to Fort Polk, La., for basic training if current policy holds.

Clay already has lost draft appeals in Kentucky and Texas in which his lawyers claimed that he is a draft-exempt minister. Mrs. Koonce said no further appeal is open to him before his Louisville board or the Selective Service's Houston office.

A hearing is scheduled tomorrow in Louisville on a suit challenging the original induction order because of alleged exclusion of Negroes from Clay's draft board in Louisville.

One of the champ's lawyers also has asked the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati for permanent injunction to block Clay's induction.

In Chicago yesterday, Clay's manager, Herbert Muhammad, said all negotiations for fights have come to a halt.

"We still have a fight with Thad Spencer tentatively scheduled in July for San Francisco," Herbert said. "We could try to move that up pending just what develops on Muhammad Ali's draft status."

There was speculation that the Spencer fight will be moved up from July to sometime in May if Clay's lawyers can win that much time.

"But all fights outside the United States are definitely out," Herbert said. That apprently includes Clay's fight scheduled May 27 in Tokyo against Argentina's Oscar Bonavena.

BURNS GOING TO GIVE TIRED SEALS A REST

OAKLAND (UPI)—Now that the California Seals have cinched fourth place and a playoff berth, they can rest some of their tired veterans.

Coach Charlie Burns said that second liners like Jim McClosky, Ray Cyr, Bob Kabel and Bob Leiter would carry the brunt of the action when San Diego comes to call tomorrow in the lid-lifter of the final week of regular season play.

Burns also hopes that Ron Harris, out with knee ligaments for two months, plays against San Diego.

The coach also wants a backup goalie to help out Jack McCartan. He voiced the hope the league would give the Seals San Diego's Les Binkley as a spare.

Terra Linda Lefthander Mowing 'Em Down At USC

EL PERFECTO—William Lee, an offspring of Terra Linda High School, is one of those rare birds who doesn't know what it is like to lose a college baseball game.

Now a junior at University of Southern CaLEEfornia, this left-handed, 20-year-old pitcher has won 12 straight games for the Trojans—four last year, during which he compiled a 2.25 earned run average and hurled eight scoreless innings in two College World Series appearances, and eight more already this season, including the championship victory in last week's Marine Corps Recruit Depot Tournament at San Diego. His ERA this season is a scintillating 1.25.

BARBARA DONDERO

A reliever last year, Lee has graduated to starting assignments and is a vital cog in USC's hopes for a second straight "world" college title. Unlike most hurlers, he can help his own cause offensively, as his .400 batting average in 15 trips to the plate last season will attest.

Maybe You Can Win 'Em All

If anyone tells you, "Well, you can't win 'em all," just point to William Lee's 12-0 collegiate record. (Hmm? How do I know if Lee is attending USC on a Grant?)

PLAY FOR PAY—Pro football will provide considerably more local color for us Marin Countians next season with no less than six favorite sons on big league rosters—a 100 per cent increase over last year.

The three newcomers to the play-for-pay ranks are Martin Baccaglio of Novato, and Lyle Baucom and Elmer Collett, Tamalpais alumni. You will remember each of them as an all-star high school lineman.

San Diego Chargers Got Baccaglio

Baccaglio, who went from Novato High to College of Marin, thence to San Jose State grid stardom, was enslaved by the San Diego Chargers of the American League on the 14th round of the recent player draft. He's an offensive tackle at 6-4, 225.

Baucom, a 6-6, 260-pound squirt who played middle guard for San Francisco State, was selected on the 17th round by the Washington Redskins.

Collett, an offensive guard at S.F. State, was drafted as a "red shirt" in his junior year by the 49ers and Kansas City Chiefs and already has signed a bonus contract with the 49ers.

Marin's veteran professionals are Matt (Tam High) Hazeltine, linebacker of the 49ers; Ron (San Rafael) Snidow, defensive end for the Redskins; and Reg (Drake) Carolan, tight end for AFL champ Kansas City.

Four Super Locals In Super Bowl?

Thus, things could get exciting next season if the 49ers and Chiefs win their league titles. We'd have possibly FOUR super local angles in the Super Bowl.

Miss Dondero, 20, a junior history major at U.C. Santa Babs, was the choice of some 5,000 male students who vote each year for the relays queen (Those boys are on the right track, relay they are.)

Anyway, Queen Dondero plans to teach elementary school upon graduation and they didn't have school marms like THAT in my day.

Hawks' Dick Snyder Called To Active Duty

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks announced yesterday that rookie Dick Snyder has been called to active duty with his National Guard reserve unit and will miss the remainder of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Juan Says He'll Be Ready For Opener

Joins His Teammates After Ending Holdout

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two-time holdout Juan Marichal waited until the National League season opener was only 15 days away, then flew in, quickly signed a $100,000 San Francisco contract and said he's almost ready to pitch.

Giants owner Horace Stoneham said Marichal signed a no-bonus, one-year contract after a friendly chat yesterday.

The league's greatest right-hander — 25-6 last season and a 93-game winner in four years — compromised halfway between his $75,000 of last season and original demand of $125,000.

STONEHAM DETERMINED

He had come down to $110,000 but Stoneham told a news conference "Other players deserved raises and I was determined not to go above $100,000."

Marichal had wanted to equal the now-retired Sandy Koufax's $125,000 of last year—the same figure which makes outfielder Willie Mays the Giants' highest paid player.

Marichal said, "I feel I'm in condition and ready to go right to work" and did, with coach Hank Sauer catching.

Sauer, pleased, said, "Juan's in fine shape. Don't worry about him. He'll be ready to go five innings by the end of the week."

Marichal suited up today with his teammates for a game with the Chicago Cubs. The Giants beat the California Angeles yesterday, 3-2 in 10 innings to take their series 2-1 and post an 11-7 Cactus League mark.

Jack Hiatt's home run opening the 10th inning gave Frank Linzy the pitching victory and Jim Coates the loss.

TO GET START

The Dominican ace is expected to get a five-inning start next weekend when the Giants play the Angels at Phoenix Friday, then move to San Diego to play the Cleveland Indians Saturday night and Sunday. That gives him only four days in spring training quarters.

Juan swears he'll be ready. He reduced from 205 to 194 pounds the past two weeks while working out daily in his native Santo Domingo.

"It was hot and the workouts were real good," he told sports writers. "My normal pitching weight is 190 and I'll have no trouble making it."

Marichal, a 1966 holdout also, didn't report last spring until March 22. But he pitched a three-hit victory opening day and won 10 straight before losing.

He promised to be ready to pitch the season inaugural in St. Louis April 11 and also the hometown opener in Candlestick Park against the same Cardinals April 18.

An Early Soccer Merger?

NEW YORK (AP) — A merger between the two new professional soccer leagues appears to be a strong possibility, but negotiations will have to move pretty quickly if it's to be done before the season opens.

Officials of the rival leagues have revealed that they have been holding talks for the last three months, but Dick Walsh, commissioner of the United Soccer Association, said he doubted any merger would be possible this season.

Both the United league and the National Professionaal Soccer League are scheduled to open their season next month, the United in 12 cities and the National in 10.

The National League has a television contract with CBS while the United has been sanctioned by the world body governing soccer so a merger would be advantageous to both.

Walsh, returning from Pittsburgh where meetings were held yesterday, said the National League "approached us to discuss a merger. The door has always been open."

Taking part in the talks were Peter Block of Pittsburgh and Joe O'Neil of San Francisco of the National League and Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Roy Hofheniz of Houston and Earl Foreman of Washington for the United Association.

Group Bids For Bronco Franchise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Phoenix, Ariz., group has offered $8 million for the American Football League franchise of the Denver Broncos, the Washington Post said today.

In a telephone interview with sports writer Dave Brady, Karl Eller, president of the Eller Outdoor Advertising Co. of Arizona, said he made a firm offer last Tuesday to Gerald H. Phipps, chairman of the Denver board.

Eller told the Post he made the offer after Denver voters rejected a bond issue for a $20 million, 55,000 seat stadium by a 2 to 1 margin even though pre-election polls indicated the issue would win 54 per cent of the vote.

Phipps since has said he will try to arrange for a privately financed stadium but Eller told Brady he expected to hear from Phipps in a couple of weeks because "it looks to us that he is finding it a tough thing to do."

Phoenix made a bid for a National Football League franchise at a meeting of the NFL owners in Washington last May. At that time, the Phoenix group said it could build a 55,000-seat stadium for $2.5 million within nine months.

Eller said yesterday the stadium could still be built at the price within that time, according to Brady.

49ers Vs. Saints In Exhibition Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco will play New Orleans in Portland, Ore., Aug. 26 preceding the opening of the National Football League season, the 49ers announced yesterday.

In addition to the game with the New Orleans Saints, the 49ers will play two other preseason games in San Francisco, against Cleveland on Aug. 13 and against Dallas on Aug. 20.

Marin 'Cats' Streak Ends; Redwood Golfers Triumph

Schalich, who hurled a one-hit shutout in his last outing, lasted less than three innings, giving up four hits.

The Wildcats, who have been kept busy with a chock-full schedule, did not provide enough help at the plate, getting their three runs on three hits. They are now 4-2, as the loss snapped a four-game winning streak.

GOLF

Redwood's defending Marin County Athletic League golf champs finally got their first meet under their belt and it looks as if it was worth waiting for.

The Giants whipped two San Francisco schools, Lincoln and Washington, 686-695 and 591-604, respectively in a triangular meet at Meadow Club course in Fairfax yesterday. Washington brought only seven golfers to account for the lower scores

George Carewe fired a 91 and Bill Kast had a 95.

SWIMMING

Novato High School's swim teams gave Piner High School of Santa Rosa a double dunking last Saturday as both the varsity and the Bees splashed to easy dual meet victories.

The varsity won, 55-20, and the Bees won, 54-32.

Class B Double Winner— Rod Coady, 200 and 400 freestyle.

Dodgers Scoring But Defense Is Crumbling

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers are beginning to wonder if they paid too high a price last winter, improving an offense that was a national joke in the 1966 World Series.

The defending National League champions are averaging almost six runs a game this spring, a drastic boost for a team that scored only twice last fall in a four-game World Series washout against Baltimore.

But the Dodgers developed severe defensive leaks this month, losing nine of their first 15 exhibitions.

Misplays by two newcomers yesterday let in five runs and helped Pittsburgh win an exhibition from the Dodgers, 5-4.

Center fielder Jim Hickman misplayed a fifth - inning line drive so badly that the Pirates' Andre Rodgers was able to circle the bases for a three-run, inside-the-park homerun.

In the next inning, left-fielder Bob Bailey messed up a play, letting Willie Stargell's long high drive bounce off his glove and carom over the fence for a two-run homer.

Two days earlier, the Dodgers committed five errors in one inning to allow the first four runs in a game won by Philadelphia, 7-1.

This has been happening all spring.

There is no doubt that newcomers Bailey, Hickman and second baseman Ron Hunt have improved the Los Angeles offense.

But Dodger management is beginning to recall what happened to the team in 1962, a great year individually, for many of the players.

Ron Perranoski developed into a spectacular relief pitcher and there were two big starters around—Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax.

But defensive lapses hurt the Dodgers so much that year that they eventually lost the pennant in a post-season playoff with San Francisco.

Though they won the pennant in 1963, the Dodgers didn't become a really sound team until a trade with Washington and an injury to Tommy Davis brought about the changes that led to pennants in 1965 and 1966.

That's when Wes Parker took over at first base, Ron Fairly moved to right field and Lou Johnson replaced the injured Tommy Davis in left field.

But trades have changed the scene again. Because of Johnson's back, Bailey has taken over left field, and Hunt has won second away from Jim Lefebvre, who played the position on two straight title winners.

Lefebvre has moved to an unfamiliar spot, third base, and rookie Gene Michael has been force-fed into the shortstop spot, vacated by the Wills trade.

The long ball made the difference in three other games on yesterday's exhibition schedule. Sam Bowens' three-run homer lifted Baltimore past Washington 4-3, Atlanta cracked five homers in trimming Boston 6-1, and San Francisco catcher Jack Hiatt's 10th inning homer gave the Giants a 3-2 win over the California Angels.

The Chicago White Sox downed the New York yankees 12-7 in a 31-hit struggle, Houston edged Minnesota 7-6 on Dave Adlesh's RBI single in the 12th inning, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 7-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Cleveland 5-4 and the Kansas City-Philadelphia game ended in a 2-2 tie when rain stopped play after nine innings.

A schedule night game between the New York Mets and Detroit Tigers was washed out by rain.

Bowens connected off Washington's Camilo Pascual, who was making his first exhibition appearance, following two walks in the seventh inning. Pascual had doubled home a run in the top of the inning to give the Senators a 2-1 lead.

Felipe Alou, Denis Menke, Mack Jones and Rico Carty all homered for Atlanta off ex-Brave Hank Fisher and Clete Boyer rapped a two-run homer in the eighth against Dan Osinski, another former Brave.

The White Sox rapped out 17 hits and battered Mel Stottlemyre for five runs in the eighth inning to outscore the Yankees. Triples by Ken Berry and Tom McCraw sparked the deciding rally.

Pitcher Dan Schneider checked Minnesota on one hit over the final three innings and scored the winning run on Adlesh's two-out single in the Astros' 12th.

Lee May and Vada Pinson each drove in two runs and John Edwards hit a bases-empty homer in Cincinnati's victory over the Cardinals. Ron Santo, who had homered in the second inning, delivered the winner for the Cubs with a fifth-inning sacrifice fly.

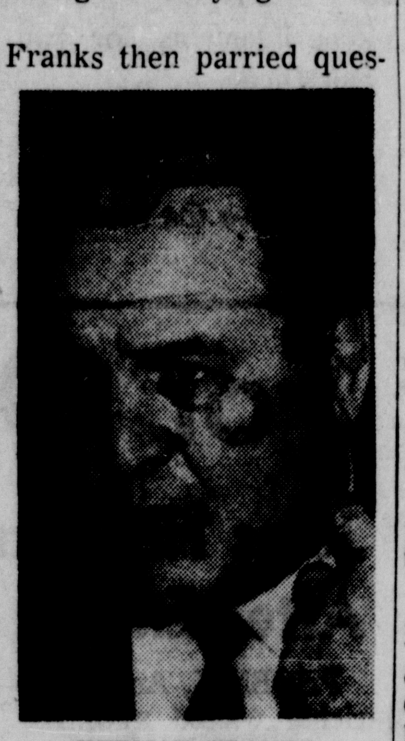
Many Managers Would Like Franks' Problem

PHOENIX — Herman Franks was asked if it would be a problem for him to make the final cuts on the 1967 Giant roster and the manager of the team replied: "You got to be kidding—I'm trying to find 25 players."

As he so often does, Franks then parried questions with his interviewer. "How many we got in camp now?" He didn't wait for the answer because he knew it and supplied it.



HERMAN FRANKS

"You know we got 29 left on the roster and three non-roster players," he continued. "So all I got to cut is one to be at the minimum of 28 for opening day. But I'm thinking about a month after the season opening when we'll be limited to 25. Have we got 25?"

NUMERICALLY, OF course, the Giants still have 32 in camp. So obviously they have 25 players. But what Franks meant was a balanced team of 25 players, the ideal balance being 10 pitchers, six outfielders, six infielders, three catchers.

"Who have we got in the outfield?" asked Franks who once said the Giants were "knee-deep" in outfielders. "I know who our three starters are (Willie Mays, Jay Alou and Ollie Brown) but after that?"

From a selfish standpoint, Franks said he'd like to keep Ken Henderson, Mays' heir apparent. "But I can't have him sitting on the bench," admitted Franks. "He's got to be out playing."

SO WHY not send Henderson out and recall him when Willie needs rests? The silence that met that question indicated that was what probably would be done. And that would leave Frank Johnson and Billy Sorrell as backup outfielders. Neither Johnson nor Sorrell has been impressive this spring. Sorrell is slow-footed. Johnson has had big problems hitting.

Franks knows he is going to have a minimum of seven infielders — Willie McCovey, Hal Lanier, Tito Fuentes, Jim Ray Hart, Jim Davenport, Norm Siebern and Cesar Gutierrez, the rookie surprise of the spring. Gutierrez has demonstrated he can play second base as well as shortstop.

TOM HALLER and Bob Barton are the No. 1 and No. 2 catchers. Jack Hiatt has the inside track for the No.3 catching job because he can also play first and is a fair pinch hitter.

That leaves 10 pitching berths open. Nine of them already have occupants — Bob Bolin, Joe Gibbon, Ron Herbel, Frank Linzy, Juan Marichal, Mike McCormick, Lindy McDaniel, Gaylord Perry and Ray Sadecki. That's the alphabetical listing, not the order of importance.

THUS, BILL HENRY, Don Larsen and Art Mahaffey, the three non-roster pitchers, and Rich Robertson, righthanded rookie who survived two cuts, are the candidates for the No. 10 pitching spot.

Maybe Franks doesn't like that outline of 25 players but there are lots of amanagers who would like to have his problem of selecting 25 men from the Giants still left in camp.

STEVENS

Davis Campbell of the Golden Hinde boatery at Inverness reports that George Matthews landed a nice 36-pound striped bass last week and another one "much bigger, although the exact weight is unknown."

Campbell said Matthews caught the two lunukers while using ghost shrimp.

He also stated that striper striving was "spotty," but some fish—mostly seven to ten pounders—had been caught. Nothing to compare with Matthews' jackpot, however.

ALICE QUAN of China Camp reports fishing on the shell banks near the Pump House has slackened off a bit for the taking of big spawners from 15 to 30 pounds, but that a new run of smaller fish has taken over.

"Many of the boys were using bullhead baits and apparently the smaller bass didn't fancy that size bait," Alice said. "The grass shrimp anglers had much more luck. The fish are here but not so many are being caught."

She added, "lots of flounders are being taken."

THE BACK COUNTRY spots are coming to life, according to latest reports. I talked with Ida Andronica Sunday and was assured that anglers trolling in the Frank's Tract area were getting good results. One angler reportedly took his daily toll of nice stripers using tandem lures on a divided leader.

Mrs. Andronica also reported fair to good black bass fishing at Frank's Tract, mostly on live minnows, and just oddles of nice, fat catfish have come in.

THE LADS who tried the Sacramento River spots for salmon, steelhead and stripers have had very little success due mainly to bad weather and equally bad water conditions.

RUMOR HAS it that Kamloops are active in Folsom Lake. On sunny days the Spin-N-Glow lure is recommended for Folsom while Sail Sharks are best for cloudy days.

Live minnow fishing for Kamloops in Shasta Lake has perked up the past week and artificials such as Repalas and Rebels also have taken fish.

JUDGING BY better tidal action for the weekend, there should be some good fishing on both sides of the ship channel in San Pablo Bay this weekend.

Brewer Moves To Third Spot In Golf Winnings

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Gay Brewer's victory in the Pensacola Open boosted him from fourth to third spot in the Professional Golfers Association list of money winners yesterday.

Brewer trails Julius Boros and Arnold Palmer in winnings in official tournaments, the basis used by the PGA to rate its top 10.

The standings, with official, unofficial and total winnings in order:

1, Julius Boros $47,250., $1,765.23, $49,015.23; 2, Arnold Palmer $45,298.21, $7,729.09, $53,027.30; 3, Gay Brewer $43,747.50, $1,007.59, $44,755.09; 4, Doug Sanders $34,641.50, $13,109.02, $49,750.52; 5, Dan Sikes $25,806.49, $515.50, $26,321.99; 6, Bob Goalby $20,883.33, $2,140.59, $23,023.92; 7, Ken Still $15,189.00, $912.09, $16,101.69; 8, George Knudson $14,617.50, $3,148.50, $17,760.00; 9, Chuck Courtney $13,570.84, $2,813.34, $16,384.18; 10, Bill Collins $12,670,96, $4,662.67, $17,333.63.

Celtics Hope To End Knicks' Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics, optimistic but not overconfident, will try to eliminate the New York Knickerbockers from the National Basketball Association playoffs by winning the game hardly anyone expected to be played.

The game is the fourth of the best-of-5, Eastern Division semifinal series, which most people including the Celtics thought would be over in three games, especially after Boston won the first two.

But Sunday night in Boston, the Knicks stunned the Celtics 123-112, prompting Boston Player-Coach Bill Russell to say:

"Overconfidence beat us. Plainly and simply. I don't think it will happen again."

The Celtics can be excused for being overconfident going into Sunday's game. They had beaten the Knicks 21 straight times dating back to March 17, 1965, and had won 22 straight games with the Knicks at Boston since December, 1962.

New York's victory did something else, too. It ended any prophesying on the part of Russell, who had predicted the Celtics would win the third game.

"That ends my prediction," he said afterwards.

He kept his word yesterday, saying only:

"We have a maximum of two games to play. If we play .500 ball we'll win it."

Boston's John Havlicek, called by many the best sixth man in pro basketball, was optimistic but, following his coach's lead, he was no taking anything for granted.

"I think we can win it," he said, "but I'm sure they feel the same way."

At least one Knick does feel the same way.

"We definitely have a good shot going home," said center Walt Bellamy. "We're loose and confident we can put the same kind of game together."

That kind of game is the Celtics' game — running, sure passing and aggressive defense.

But one of the Knicks who played that kind of game Sunday — Cazzie Russell, who scored 24 points — won't be available tonight. The high-priced rookie reported to Ft. Dix, N.J., yesterday for six months active duty as a National Guardsman.

There are no other games tonight. Philadelphia is awaiting the outcome of the Celtics-Knicks series, and San Francisco and St. Louis don't open the best-of-7, Western Division final set until Thursday.

Dame Pattie Beats Gretel

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Dame Pattie defeated Gretel by three minutes, seven seconds today in the fourth of the preliminary trials to select Australia's challenger for the America's Cup yachting classic.

This gave Dame Pattie four straight victories in a best-of-7 series of races.

Gretel today had a new skipper, Gordon Ingate, replacing Trygve Halvorsen, who stepped down because, he said, he wanted to see whether Gretel's defeat was a result of his skippering or a fault of the boat itself.

It was not immediately clear whether the boats would continue the trials tomorrow.

Two San Geronimo Golfers Enter Spyglass Tourney

The tournament is divided into three flights by handicap, with the championship flight carrying 0-7 handicaps, the Spyglass Hill Flight, 8-11 and the President's Flight, 12 and up.

Boat Inspection This Weekend At Sausalito

Dockside courtesy inspections of motorboats and sailboats with inboard or outboard auxiliary power will be conducted at most Sausalito yacht facilities Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dark.

The examinations will be made without charge by members of the Sausalito-Tiburon Flotilla 12 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary in the interests of boating safety.

Owners requesting inspection of their boats will be advised of failures to meet legal requirements and of safety shortcomings, but no report will be made to authorities on the findings. Those passing the inspection will be awarded the auxiliary's decal seal of approval.

Inspection points will be the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, the Sausalito municipal launching ramp near Zack's Restaurant and Clipper Yacht Harbors 1-3.

Pirates Favored In N.L.; Big Money Bet On Braves

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Pittsburgh is a 2-1 favorite to win the National League baseball pennant, Las Vegas bookmakers say, but they report more money is being bet on Atlanta than all the other teams in the league.

Atlanta opened as a 10-1 shot to take the pennant, but traffic has been so heavy the odds have been trimmed to 5-1.

In the American League, Baltimore is an 8-5 favorite but most action is on the Minnesota Twins. They opened at 3-1, and now have been cut to 2½ to 1.

The rest of the National League teams behind Pittsburgh are San Francisco 3-1, Philadelphia 5-1, Atlanta 5-1, Cincinnati 6-1, Los Angeles 6-1, St. Louis 8-1, Houston 40-1, and New York and Chicago as an entry 100-1.

Behind Baltimore and Minnesota, the American League lines up with Detroit 4-1, Chicago 7-1, Cleveland 8-1, California Angels 15-1, New York 15-1, and Boston, Kansas City and Washington as an entry 100-1.

Marin College Net Squad Boasts One 'Sure Winner'

College of Marin's Tennis Team carries only a 2-3 won-lost dual meet record so far but it is already on top of the Golden Valley Conference standings and intends to stay there.

Hampered by rainouts, Coach Dick Rad's Tars nevertheless already have toppled Santa Rosa, 6-1, and hope to make it two in a row in conference play when they invade Napa Thursday.

Read has at least one sure winner every time in No. 1 man John Zwieg, the Golden Valley Conference champ last year, who is already 5-0 this year. And Zwieg has a capable if not quite as spectacular backup cast to give the Tars depth.

"Zweig is one of the top junior college tennis players in Northern California," Read said of his top ace. "He could do well in the state tournament, although the company gets pretty fast in that."

Jimmy Bedilion of Redwood is the Tar's No. 2 man. Read describes him as a scrappy go-getter, who is all over the court, a strong defensive player who wont beat himself.

Ken Shane, the No. 3 player, has "real fine strokes and can make the impossible shots." The No. 4 netter is Rich Miller, a "good, sound tennis player who is capable of being a real good one." No. 5 spot is an alternate position filled by either Joe Jeremy or Warren Gray.

"I think we've got a sound team here and should be in good position for a title," Read said. "Shasta and Yuba look to be the strongest competition."

Russ Win Hockey Crown

VIENNA (UPI)—The Soviet Union reigned as the world amateur ice hockey champion for the fifth year in a row today following a controversial 2-1 victory over Canada.

The United States, which entertained little hope of bringing home the big prize, still can finish as high as fourth in the powerful eight-team field with its last game against West Germany scheduled today.

The Yanks, with a 23-1 record, will finish fourth if they beat the last-place Germans and Sweden loses to Canada tomorrow.

U.S. HOPES

"We came here to finish in the top four and we have a solid hope of doing so," said U.S. Coach Murray Williamson. "It would be a big boost for our young team and we should come out strong in the 1968 Olympics at Grenoble with all the experience gathered here."

Russia had to come from behind with goals in the second and third periods to turn back the determined Canadians last night, and Coach Jackie McLeod of Canada complained of the officiating.

"I am sorry for the kids," he said. "They were robbed of at least a tie by the referees' mistake. The second Russian goal was clearly offside. Both referees knew it, but they didn't have the guts to call the goal back."

"We are proud to have triumphed over them," he said. "It was tough, very tough."

The joint announcement was made today by Peter G. Peterson, Bell and Howell president and chief executive officer, and Robert C. Ausbeck, chairman and president of Wilding, Inc.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "My husband is sick with cancer and there is no hope of improvement. We own Ford Motor, Mobil Oil, Hilton International, Hilton Hotels, American Bakeries and Sun Oil. Can we switch these into other stocks which are secure and will increase our income?" E.F.

A. I am extremely sorry to read of your husband's illness. You have a good list of stocks but in some instances their return is relatively low. I advise you to hold your Ford and Mobil, both of which offer a satisfactory yield. American Bakeries is of lower quality but the dividend appears secure and the present return is above average.

Hilton International directors have approved a merger with Trans-World Airlines and the shares are reflecting that move. No cash dividends are paid and the yield on TWA stock to be received would be relatively low. Solely to improve income, I would switch HIN into Union Pacific, selling on a 5 per cent basis. I would exchange Hilton Hotels for Tenneco, which would put you into a higher yielding and less competitive situation. I advise you to hold Sun Oil, which has regularly supplemented its cash dividend with substantial payments in stock.

Q. "I bought Singer in December, 1965, solely for appreciation. Do you think it will rise in price to 70 during 1967, or should I switch to a more active issue?" J. B.

A. Trying to pinpoint a price range this year for Singer or any other stock is risky business. However, your shares have made no real progress since 1965 and the present low earnings multiple indicates the market's lack of confidence as to the near-term future. A possible slowdown in consumer spending could restrain Singer's earnings. I do not regard the stock as a strong candidate for gains in the current market. However, I would switch to Foxboro for a greater appreciation potential over a longer period.

Market Up; Blue Chips Pace Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed a little higher today. Trading was fairly active.

Selected blue chips kept the averages on the upside throughout the session.

Volume for the first four hours was 6.46 million shares compared with 6.73 million for the like period yesterday.

The market was at its best in the morning but had trimmed its gain considerably by noon.

In early afternoon came news that the United States had accepted U Thant's latest Vietnam peace proposals. There was no immediate reaction to this in the market. An hour or so later, however, there was some slight additional trimming of prices.

New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad recovered a bit from their losses of Monday on news that the Supreme Court had held up their merger. Later, however, Central eased while Pennsy hung on to a small fractional gain.

Eastern Air Lines held a gain of 3 points or so while Pan American was the most heavily traded of the airlines, keeping a fractional gain.

Lionel was pacing the list on volume as it showed a fractional advance. Diamond Alkali, close behind on volume, also gained a fraction.

Up about 2 points were Gulf & Western, and Polaroid. Two-point losses were taken by IBM and Control Data.

Up a point or so were Outboard Marine, Federal Pacific Electric, Jones & Laughlin, International Nickel, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak and Xerox.

Down a point or so were Ford Motor, United Aircraft and General Foods.

Shipping Lines Income Rises

SAN FRANCISCO —A record consolidated net income of $9 million on gross revenue of $107 million was announced today for American President Lines, San Francisco based steamship company, and its affiliated ship-operating company, American Mail Line, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1966.

This compares with $7.7 million for 1965. The annual report was released today by Ralph K. Davies, chairman of the board, and Raymond W. Ickes, president.

The two companies' 31 freighters operated in the outward trans-pacific trade at virtual capacity. Other routes also showed improvements.

All Media Should Have Equal Access To Court

The Assembly Subcommittee on Free Press — Fair Trial has submitted a strong recommendation urging the State Judicial Council to restore live coverage of court proceedings (at the discretion of each judge) which existed prior to November of 1965.

Cameramen and broadcasters have been barred from courtrooms since November, 1965, when the State Judicial Council voted out the discretionary powers which judges previously exercised.

The Judicial Council's ruling forbade the use of cameras and recording equipment, not only during court sessions but also during mid-morning or mid-afternoon recesses. Before that ruling, individual judges could use their discretion to ban or allow camera and broadcasting access. The Judicial Council ruling made the ban mandatory.

An overwhelming majority of testimony before the subcommittee was in favor of restoring the judges' discretionary powers. Extensive testing by the committee revealed that cameras could be hidden or held at lap level, remaining unobtrusive and quiet, so as not to disturb proceedings.

Former Assemblyman George A. Willson, D-Huntington Park, chairman of the subcommittee, says, "Televising courtroom proceedings would have the dual beneficiary effect of more directly involving the average American citizen with the legal system of his country and of educating him on jurisprudence."

"It could also act as a deterrent to crime by showing all Americans—including the potential criminal—the inexorable, inevitable toll justice extracts from lawbreakers," said Willson.

We do not defend the use of popping flashbulbs during a trial or the jamming of microphones into the faces of witnesses testifying. Even before the Judicial Council's ban, such practices were disallowed by individual judges.

But we cannot see why a noiseless and non-flash camera held at lap level in the audience section or a silent recording device should be banned outright, when reporters with pencils and paper and artists with sketch pads are allowed to record the courtroom scene.

The ban discriminates between one media of communication and another. It implies that cameras and recording devices regardless of technological advances, are distractive per se.

The blanket ban on all cameras and recorders limits public access to the courts and is an unfair imposition on those who would use them discretely and in accordance with rules of decorum laid down by the judge in charge of a courtroom.

SNEEZE RESTORES SIGHT TO BLIND MAN

Blind for 14 years, a 49-year-old man was seized with a sneezing fit as he sat before a fire in his home in Chadsmoor, England.

Suddenly after the 14th sneeze, he realized something had happened. "I could see the fireplace and the clock on the wall," he said. "My eyesight went in a flash, and it's come back in a flash."

A similar surprise came to a 65-year-old woman in Derbyshire, England, blind for eight years, who accidentally struck her eye on a vacuum cleaner handle as she was doing her housework. "I straightened up," she recounted, "and began to see streaks of light. It was startling, but a wonderful shock."

Persons who are spiritualy blind experience an even greater surprise and joy when, through some circumstance, they are jolted into seeing the light of divine truth.

Show a tender sympathy for those who are deprived of the great blessing of sight — in body or soul.

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—For a good many years, this column has advocated and urged a thorough and comprehensive study of state government by an independent organization well-versed in the principles of business administration, to be conducted with a view toward reducing the overload of unnecessary and inefficient operation which causes costs to mount to unreasonable heights.

Although some studies along this line have been made, there never has been an all-encompassing study which would come up with recommendations placing government administration on a par with the administraiton of private business.

SUCH A STUDY does not appear to be imminent in the immediate future, although some moves along this line are being made by the administration at the present time.

Gov. Ronald Reagan is requesting citizen task forces to move into the various areas of government.

"They're going to move into every area," he said, "and report back the findings of just what business practices could be used to increase efficiency and update procedures."

"The economies so far are just economies we've been able to grab at and see in these few months we've been in office, but we're going to proceed with this whole, overall study."

ALTHOUGH THE Reagan task force studies may not be as extensive as a survey that many believe should be accomplished, they will at least provide the nucleus for continuing surveillance of government administration in an attempt to prevent it from getting completely out of hand.

The contention is often made that government cannot be run like a private business, and there is some validity in this contention. Government administration encounters roadblocks which private business could not survive overnight.

SOME OF THE road-blocks include an entrenched and established civil service empire, which can't be overhauled without a vote of the people, and which cannot be touched without the threat of lengthy legal proceedings. And the history of such proceedings is that the administrator really anxious to do a creditable job of running a department loses in final action.

Another is the fact that laws enacted by the state legislature govern a good part of departmental operation, and when these laws conflict with sound administration, the laws have to take precedence. All of which brings up the fact that any task force looking over administration eventually will have to come up with some recommendations on law changes.

THE FACT THAT state government, partially at least, is run by tradition, is another factor involved. It is much harder to get government out of a rut than it is to change operations in private business.

However, it is a generally accepted fact that moves must be made to reduce government itself, and reduce operation of government to conform to the ability of the public to meet the costs, else like private business, bankruptcy is inevitable.

What About The Education Parks?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Sausalito school board is planning to give up perfectly good schools and build a new "educational park" though their school attendance has been steadily dropping for years!

The Mill Valley school board is talking about tearing down perfectly good schools — one of them our newest, Marin Terrace — and have not even stated where they would put the children.

Both boards expect to ask the voters to pass large bond issues in the near future.

Is there any rhyme or reason to all this? As a taxpayer I'd like to know.

Should Pounds Sell To Research Labs?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Humane Society's mistake of prematurely "executing" a pet cat (Independent-Journal, March 21) was of considerable interest to me. Apparently many of the public believe that most cats taken to a human society animal shelter find new homes. Actually, according to a report published by the State Senate Fact Finding Committee on Public Health and Safety, in the year ending June 30, 1966, the Marin County Animal Shelter received 1,122 cats and destroyed 920, or more than 80 per cent of them. For the whole state of California a total of 265,384 cats were impounded by pounds and humane societies during the same time period and 231,047 of these were destroyed.

My interest in these sad statistics derives from the fact that during the same year, the hospitals and medical schools of the state had great difficulty in obtaining cats for research and teaching activities, and obtained, in fact, only 9,373. A much larger number could have been effectively and humanely used, but the great majority of pounds and shelters refuse to provide cats (and dogs) for research. Instead these animals die in the high altitude or gas chambers of animal shelters.

The readers of the Independent-Journal may find it interesting to consider the 231,047 uselessly destroyed cats the next time they wonder why California is not teaching enough new physicians to keep up with the population, and why more progress isn't made in cures for mental illness and other important diseases.

Good Friday Telecast Is Much Appreciated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Alas, the trend is changing? In spite of our hippies, hoppies, delinquents (juvenile and otherwise) it was most edifying to have a TV program of appropriate subject matter during the Three Hours on Good Friday.

With young children many mothers are unable to attend a church service.

"Christ Our Brother" presented on Channel 5 at 1 p.m. filled this need splendidly; this has been an area which has been completely neglected for at least eight years.

I wish to say "thank you" to the Dominican College Chorale, the Winifred Baker Groups, the director Winifred Baker, and certainly to TV Station KPIX.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Reference Mr. Jim Gilmartin's attack, this date, on Mr. Mohammad Ali, heavyweight champion of the world.

The springboard for Mr. Gilmartin's vicious column was the sentence "I don't know about you other ex-GI's, but . . . ." Well, I feel six and one half years of active duty plus one and one half inactive reserve service qualifies me to answer Mr. Gilmartin — since he apparently establishes military service as some sort of sacred prerequisite to free expression of ideas!

First, Mr. Ali has repeatedly proven his ability as an athlete. It is possible that he is, as he claims, "the greatest."

Secondly, it has always been my belief that an individual could adopt any name that pleased him. It has never been a crime, per se, to change one's name.

Finally, Mr. Gilmartin's caustic remarks were really directed at Mr. Ali's expressed views concerning the military draft system. One would, of necessity, have to live in a vacuum not to be aware that thousands of young people (not to mention many distinguished lawmakers) are disturbed by our present draft system. Further, to imply that those who dissent are cowardly would seem to be the greatest injustice of all!!

Such colorful phrases as "the video color scheme was dominated by yellow" and "I wonder where the yellow went" should perhaps be saved for publicaltion in Mr. Gilmartin's novel rather than published in an otherwise good newspaper.

I hold no brief for Mr. Ali and his outspoken views relative the draft. However, unless I have completely misunderstood the meaning of our American history, the right to hold and express an unpopular opinion is even more fundamental than devotion to the "red, white and blue" to which Mr. Gilmartin had reference.

I enjoy Mr. Gilmartin's column when he confines his subject to sports — a subject with which he is familiar.

Classical Love . . . And Cupid's Drawer's

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Since I am the artist responsible for the drawing of Psyche and Cupid, which by now appears to have gathered some notoriety, I would like to add a few remarks on the subject.

The remark to Alice Yarish, of the Pacific Sun, and others, of the Independent-Journal, that Cupid was wearing drawers (from Buddha?) appears to me to be a misrepresentation of the truth. I never drew drawers on Cupid. Even Life magazine, which provided my model, did not feel it necessary to "drawer" Cupid. Before Buddha apparently felt that drawers were necessary, he did ask me to move Psyche's thigh up a little bit, so as to cover Cupid's private parts.

I would like to categorically deny ever having drawn drawers on Cupid, Buddha notwithstanding, and cannot understand why anyone would want to defile pure classical love with such an obscene suggestion.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

MOST FAMOUS train in American railroad history unquestionably was the New York Central's "Twentieth Century Limited," which everybody who was anybody took to go from New York to Chicago, or vice versa. That was in the days, of course, before airplanes made passenger trains virtually obsolete.

Aboard the very first run of the Century in June, 1902, was the celebrated gambler, "Bet-a-Million" Gates. When the train pulled into the Chicago terminal, he was so ecstatic that he burbled, "The Century will make New York a suburb of Chicago" — then impulsively climbed aboard the Eastbound section and rode right back to Manhattan. There he diplomatically informed reporters, "This train will make Chicago a suburb of New York."

THIS TRAIN WILL MAKE...

A REMARKABLY good but grouchy medico in New York is fondly referred to as "Sunshine" by nurses and patients — behind his back, of course. A society matron came to his office last week to complain, "Every time I lift my right arm, the pain is excruciating." "Ah," remarked kindly Dr. "Sunshine." "What a fool you are to lift it."

LBJ-Ho Chi Minh Exchange Is Ambiguous As A Union Parley

WASHINGTON — If you had trouble understanding the correspondence between President Johnson and Ho Chi Minh, maybe they did, too. They went at it like a labor leader and a management man negotiating a contract.

AMBIGUITY rather than clarity is sometimes considered a virtue in labor-management talks, at least in the beginning for bargaining purposes. The peace talk letters between Johnson and the president of North Vietnam were ambiguous.

Four times Johnson ordered a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, each time hoping North Vietnam would reciprocate by toning down its side of the war. Such an action would be considered a desire to talk peace.

EACH TIME, Johnson said, he got no peace signal. He refused to order an indefinite bombing pause for this expressed reason: It would provide a one-sided advantage for North Vietnam because the bombing was intended to put a cramp in troop reinforcements North Vietnam was sending into the South and in the supplies it was sending to its troops already there.

Thus a bombing pause, unless North Vietnam took some reciprocal action, would let the North Vietnamese send troops and supplies into the South unmolested to kill Americans there. So, to get peace talks started, Johnson wrote Ho Chi Minh a proposal.

He told the North Vietnamese he was ready to stop the bombing and sending more U.S. troops to Vietnam "as soon as I am assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and sea has stopped."

THIS MUST have left Ho Chi Minh guessing a bit. Johnson didn't say how he would have to be "assured" infiltration into the South had stopped. The North Vietnamese might interpret that as meaning Johnson would keep the bombing going quite a while after the infiltration had stopped before he felt "assured" it had ended.

And what did Johnson mean by infiltration? Did he just mean North Vietnam must stop sending new troops into the South? Or did he mean both new troops and supplies for the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong already there?

SINCE JOHNSON didn't demand a pause in the fighting in South Vietnam — along with a bombing pause and an end to infiltration—what would North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam do if the fighting continued and they had no supplies?

Further, while Johnson said he would send no more U.S. troops to Vietnam if the infiltration stopped, he didn't say he would stop sending supplies. So, was he saying it would be all right to pump supplies into U.S. troops in South Vietnam but not all right for North Vietnam to do the same for its troops?

Ho Chi Minh, in turn, had some ambiguities of his own. For two years he had repeatedly said there could be no settlement in Vietnam unless the United States pulled out all its troops and supplies and let the Vietnamese settle their own problems, and unless the Viet Cong could take over the South.

THOSE HAD been Hanoi's terms. But there's a big difference between a final settlement and peace talks leading to a settlement. And for two years Ho Chi Minh was vague on whether peace talks had to produce Hanoi's settlement.

Then he answered Johnson, repeating some of Hanoi's terms, but not quite. He didn't say the Viet Cong must be allowed to take over the South. But he said the bombing must be stopped "definitively" and "unconditionally."

In the next paragraph he said before there could be peace talks the United States must stop the bombing "unconditionally" — which is what Johnson had said he wouldn't do —and stop "all other acts of war."

What "other acts of war"? That could mean almost anything and Ho Chi Minh didn't get specific. He seemed to be leaving himself a bargaining point. How could Johnson agree to anything as vague as that? He couldn't and won't.

Instead of going on from this point to find out what each other had in mind, the two sides apparently are going on as if there had been no letters.

THERE WAS disappointment in this country that Ho Chi Minh, instead of being so final about it, didn't suggest further explorations. But, for that matter, Johnson didn't, either.

Studies Decidedly Of Debatable Value

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Another federal agency is spending a hefty portion of its funds on scores of studies, analyses and surveys — of decidedly debatable value.

The U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, established by the Kennedy administration in 1962, has spent approximately $25 million for so-called research projects out of a total of $53.831 million in appropriations.

This is slightly less than half of the funds Congress has voted the agency in the six years of its existence.

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO this column disclosed that the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program, had spent $7,788,365, as of June 30, 1966, on a lengthy list of inquiries, assessments, evaluations and other such activities — none of which appeared to get at the real problems of poverty, such as training the unemployed and providing jobs for them.

Congressional authorities in charge of anti-poverty legislation are bluntly characterizing these projects as largely boondoggles with the primary purpose of dishing out funds to certain individuals, concers, organizations and colleges.

The same charge is being made against the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency — which has yet to record any achievement of note.

REP. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, member of the Foreign Affairs Committee and a leading economy advocate, in bringing this latest large-scale boondoggling to light also uncovered other significant details:

Many of the ACDA research contracts went to corporations engaged in defense work.

Of the agency's 157 permanent employees, 106 receive $10,000 or more in salary: 13 get $25,000 or over; 23, $20,000 or more; 45, $15,000 or over; and 24, $10,000 or more. The director gets $30,000.

For the fiscal year starting July 1 the agency is asking another $10 million — of which $5.835 million is earmarked for still more "contract research."

FOREMOST AMONG THE corporations that got these ACDA research projects are Aerojet-General, Aerospace, Sylvania Electric Products, Sperry-Gyroscope, Bendix.

Illustrative of these studies and surveys are the following:

SYLVANIA ELECTRIC Products, $354,000 for "Design and Evaluation of Inspection Systems for a Ban on Weapons of Mass Destruction in Space and for Restrictions on Missile Flight Tests"; Aerospace, $217,700 for "Implications and Inspection of Restrictions on Missile and Military Space Systems RDT&E Activity"; Stanford, $267,688 for "Arms Control and Disarmament Concepts and the Military Environment in the European Area."

Annexation Means Starting Water District Over Again

When the North Marin County Water District board annexed the area around the upper end of Tomales Bay to its district last week, the board was in a sense starting all over again. The analogy between that annexation and the formation of the North Marin District is striking.

Both areas were and are served by private companies which were not doing an adequate job for the people in the area or keeping up with the growth. At least that is what the people thought or did think. Both had turned to the Marin Municipal Water District with slow if not negative results.

SO THE NORTH Marin District was formed in 1948. There were 360 customers served by the Novato Water Co., which was valued at $63,000. The area was served by wells which could not handle the mushrooming growth that was to come.

The district set about on a long range program of service to the area. It had to modernize the distribution system; enlarge it as the city suddenly became the fastest growing in the county; insure adequate water supply and get the best employees it could.

It has succeeded in doing these things. The construction of Stafford Dam brought the first water supply and when the city outgrew this, the district constructed a 30 inch pipe line to bring Russian River water to the city.

IN DOING ALL of this, the district has acquired experience and has surrounded itself with a qualified engineering staff.

Now in the West Marin annexation, the district has acquired more water customers, 580 of them, than in the original North Marin District. There are three water companies serving the area from wells and springs.

They are the Point Reyes Water Co. with 160 customers and a book value of $29,400; the Inverness Water Co., with 360 customers and a book value of $230,000 and the Inverness Park Water Co. with 66 customers and a book value of $3,113, said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

NOW THE DISTRICT must organize that area into one with better water distribution, better mains and hydrants for fire protection and a better source of water.

Only this time, the district has 19 years experience, good engineers and a much better concept of what should be done.

Board Chairman Arnold Heise said that the new annexation was just like starting the district all over again.

If the West Marin area grows with subdivisions and new people the same as Novato did after it got water, then it is in for the largest growth in its history.

ONCE UPON a time, all pickles were yellow. They would be put up in the fall and kept throughout the winter. Then the first ones to escape in the spring would be so frisky they could be seen dancing all over the hills as if they were crazy.

The other pickles which were still confined turned green with envy and have remained so until this day, green pickles in the jars as we see them.

We see the others all over the yards and farms in Marin County this time of year and we still hear the prople exclaim at their bright yellow forms: "look at those daffy dills."

Tiny Insect Is Threat To Crops

BERKELEY (SS) — A newly discovered spider mite threatens California's tomato and potato crops; a natural enemy is being sought to fight the pest.

Found so far in San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange Counties, the 1/32-of-an-inch pest carries the name Tetranychus marianae.

So far, the mite has not been found in commercial potato or tomato fields, but its presence nearby poses a "direct threat to both crops, with serious economic consequences," says Dr. Earl R. Oatman of the University of California. California tomatoes in 1965 were woth $164 million; potatoes, $127 million.

Dr. Oatman will travel to Central America and Mexico, source of the mite, in search of a natural enemy that could be used as a control.

Move Over, Job, Make A Little Room For Old Al

IT IS STILL true that "reading maketh a full man." But what Bacon neglected to add was that one must be careful in his selection or he'll become full of the wrong things.

That is why, though I sometimes identify myself with the long-suffering Job, I am not one to wish my adversary would write a book. Ten to one the said book would make the best-seller list and be cited as gospel to attack me. And things are tough enough now.

These melancholy observations are occasioned by the fact that a number of dismayed conservatives send me from time to time some palpably left-leaning excerpts from the textbooks their children are required to read, and ask me to comment on them.

BUT IT IS MANIFESTLY unfair to discuss a volume on the basis of one or two pages. Any value judgment, to have substance, would require that the critic had gone through the entire book. And for that I simply haven't the time. As it is, there stare at me a dozen volumes I've promised myself to read but haven't been able to get around to.

Let me suggest then, that, for an honest appraisal, they write to the Textbook Evaluation Committee, America's Future, 542 Main Street, New Rochelle, N.Y. 10802. Here a number of conservative educators — there are still some, incredible as it seems — have reviewed more than 400 social science texts currently used in our secondary schools.

I do not envy them. The last textbook I waded through, "Land of the Free," a history designed for eighth-graders, ran to 658 pages—and wasn't much fun. There were moments I envied Job, boils and all.

BUT THE CALIFORNIA State Board of Education had appropriated over a million dollars for the tome. The three authors were all simon-pure liberals, and some printed excerpts from the volume had brought such a hue-and-cry from ultra-conservatives (are there any other kinds?) that I felt it my duty to read every word. And I stuck it out, too — though I found myself using some Anglo-Saxon expletives now and then.

But, in its way, it was a tour de force. The pages had more southpaw slants than Sandy Koufax — and I sat behind home plate when Sandy pitched a no-hitter. When three sinister historians — I use the adjective in its original Latin sense of "toward the left" — get together, patriotism is skunked.

THERE WAS NOT A word, however, that any objective, middle-of-the road liberal (are there any other kinds?) could fault. It was a dispassionate view of American history, illuminated by the light shed on our past and present by such critics as Walter Reuther, Stokely Carmichael, Bertrand Russell, and the editors of "Ramparts." There was none of that fatuous de Tocqueville nonsense about it. Just the facts, ma'am.

But the rightist witch-hunters shamelessly called it a perversion of history, and managed to extort a dubious "confession" from a Curriculum Commission member who had approved the book, and got him to concede that it was "slanted and biased." The Supreme Court did not intervene in his behalf, and so some 36 "errors" have now been erased.

I haven't read the revised edition — nor do I intend to. I'd not like it any better if only 36 errors (the number comes from an educator) were rectified. I found at least that many in every chapter.

BUT IN SUCH MATTERS, it is well to observe the rules of the Establishment. To question the bias and authenticity of a right-winger's output is sound criticism and meaningful dialogue. But to question a left-wing historian is book-burning and interference with academic freedom. It is of the utmost importance to realize there is a world of difference between the two, in spite of the superficial similarity.

I would point to the sad case of Al Capp as a horrible example. When that satirical cartoonist was lampooning conservative foibles, he was the darling of the intellectuals. Now that he's satirizing leftist foibles, his name is mud.

Jayne Files For Damages

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Film actress Jayne Mansfield, claiming her estranged husband Matt Cimber struck and bit her, filed a $345,000 assault and battery suit against him yesterday.

The entertainer said Cimber, whose real name is Thomas Vitale Ottaviano, assaulted her four times last April, using his "fists and mouth."

She said she was unable to work after Cimber allegedly "kicked and stomped" and hit her "about the face and body in a fit of rage."

Miss Mansfield asked $250,000 in general damages, $50,000 punitive damages and $45,000 for loss of employment. She said she also planned to seek medical expenses at the time of the trial.

Probation Granted In Novaao Burglary

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Learn How To Take Finesses Or Leave 'Em Safely Alone

You can avoid a severe case of bridge poisoning if you learn how to take finesses or leave them alone. Test yourself with today's hand, part of a week-long series on choosing the right finesse.

ACE WINS

West leads the jack of spades, and you hopefully play the queen from dummy. East puts up the king of spades, and you win with the ace.

Should you lead the 10 of diamonds and try a finesse in that suit? Or should you get to dummy and lead the jack of clubs for a club finesse? As a matter of mathematics, one finesse is just as likely to succeed as the other.

FINESSE OUT

If you have been peeking at the cards you will notice that neither finesse works in this case. Life is sometimes very cruel.

Despite the unfortunate location of the missing high cards, an expert would make the contract. The expert tries to develop both the clubs and the diamonds by playing to drop the missing honor in one suit, with a finesse in the other suit in reserve.

RIGHT CHOICE

If you begin by leading the ace of clubs, the king is very unlikely to drop. The odds are almost 17 to 1 against such luck.

If you begin by leading out the ace and king of diamonds, the odds are against capturing the queen—but the odds are only 2 to 1 against this luck. This is a better shot than playing for the singleton king of clubs.

FIRST TRY

Try first for the singleton or doubleton queen of diamonds. When the queen drops, take your nine tricks without a finesse: five diamonds, one spade, two hearts and one club. If the queen of diamonds failed to drop you would lead the jack of clubs from dummy and let it ride for a finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K 7 6 5
♥ Q J 5 4
♦ Q 6
♣ 5 3 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You have 8 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton. Even if you also count 1 extra point for the queen or jack of partner's bid suit, you still have only 10 points and you can afford to make only one unforced response. Prefer to raise partner's major suit rather than bid a new suit (spades) of your own.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, March 28, the 87th day of 1967 with 278 to follow.

The moon is between its full and last stages. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

American conductor Paul Whiteman was born on this day in 1890.

On this day in history:

In 1921, designers of beach wear predicted American women would start wearing form-fitting one-piece bathing suits that summer — despite the protests of clergymen and puritans alike.

In 1965, more than 400 persons drowned following an earthquake in Chile.

A thought for the day—American novelist Gertrude Franklin Atherton once said: "Women love the lie that saves their pride, but never the unflattering truth."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Soldier Given Life In Death

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP) —Pvt. James Edward Hughes, 23, of Canton, Miss., was sentenced to life imprisonment by a U.S. court martial yesterday for the murder of an American woman schoolteacher, an Army spokesman said today.

The 53-year-old widowed teacher, Mrs. Elma R. Allen, of Woodside, Calif., was found strangled at a U.S. Army women's residence at Bad Kitzingen Jan. 12. Her body was discovered by her 75-year-old mother, who was visiting her daughter.

Hughes, who was arrested Jan. 14, was accused of choking Mrs. Allen and attempting to rape her.

Mrs. Allen was student counsellor at the Kitzengen Grade School for servicemen's children.

Sailor Leaps To His Death

Police said Thomas locked the door of his room and climbed on a chair to reach the window through which he leaped. He left no notes.

Ralph E. McGlothlen of 21 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, has been elected president of the Transportation Club of San Francisco for 1967. McGlothlen is general agent for the St. Louis - Southwestern Railroad Company in San Francisco.

Man's Trial On Murder Reinstated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A man charged with shooting a minister's son to death will be prosecuted in San Francisco Superior Court by order of the State Court of Appeal.

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington threw out the manslaughter charges against Claude King, 23, but the appeal court yesterday ordered prosecution reinstated.

King contended he was protecting his property when he fired a shot that killed Howard Ray Frazier, 17, last Aug. 30. King said he saw the victim and two other boys stripping his car.

Frazier was the son of the Rev. O. C. Frazier, pastor of Zion Chapel Church of God.

Elkington said he was dismissing the charge against King because he was justifiably using force to prevent a felony, to which the appeal court replied:

"The fallacy of such thinking is that the evidence before the court shows nothing more than car-stripping, a misdemeanor."

Diamond Ring Still Unclaimed By Owner

San Anselmo police have been waiting three weeks for the owner of a diamond ring to claim it.

Michael E. Miller of 216 Marin Street, San Rafael, found the ring March 3 behind Wells Fargo Bank in San Anselmo and took it to the police station. The 14-karat yellow gold ring has a floral design on the band and a small diamond set in a square of white gold.

Wasps Face Career Fighting Bollworms

BERKELEY (SS) — Millions of tiny Peruvian wasps are being raised by the University of California for release against the cotton bollworm and the pink bollworm.

The insects, about 1/30th of an inch long, achieve 90 per cent control of bollworms in Peru and Colombia, without use of insecticides. They lay their eggs in the worm's eggs, which their larvae eat.

Architect's Estate Sued Over Costs

The estate of nationally known Belvedere architect John Lord King yesterday was sued for $1,400,000 because King allegedly underestimated the cost of the Shelter Bay Apartments building project north of Richardson Bay Bridge.

The plaintiffs, Alcan Pacific Co., Alcan-Marin Ltd., and George Leo Zaro, charge in the Marin Superior Court suit that King — hired as architect for a five-building phase of the construction — submitted plans estimating a total cost of $2,092,000.

With completion of the phase, however, the cost was $3,500,000, or about $1,400,000 in excess of King's estimate, according to the suit.

It states that under an Aug. 1, 1962, agreement with King, he was to provide plans for all architectural services, structural, civil, mechanical, electrical engineering, and landscaping work.

He failed to prepare plans and specifications that would meet state and county building code requirements, and his plans had to be changed at a cost to the plaintiffs, the suit charges. It alleges King and co-defendants John Lord King Associates were either incompetent or knowingly underestimated the cost.

King died last April 28. Crocker-Citizens National Bank is executor of his estate.

Watutsi, the legendary giants among African tribesmen, average only 5 feet, 9 inches, says the National Geographic.

Two-Phase Building For Education Park

Sausalito School District trustees last night voted to build the proposed "educational park" at Bayside School in two steps, with facilities for kindergarten through fourth grade to be built first.

Vote on the two-stage construction was 4-1, trustee Harold L. Sleight dissenting. Sleight is opposed to consolidation of all schools on one site.

In addition to classrooms, the first stage will include library, office and "cultural arts" facilities, reported Supt. Phillip W. Schneider. The "educational park" will cost at least $3.4 million, architects Weisbach, Boutmy and Silver previously estimated.

Richardson Bay School will continue in use until the site is sold, trustees agreed. Real estate experts have advised the district that use of the site probably could continue for about a year after it is sold, Schneider said.

Trustees deferred ordering sale of the Richardson Bay and Central School sites pending a report tomorrow at 8 p.m. in city hall by the city's "701" planning consultants. The consultants are expected to recommend that the district retain a portion of the Richardson Bay site as recreation facilities. Most of the city tennis courts are there.

Trustees agreed to consider at their April 10 meeting sale of the two sites and the timing and amount of a bond issue to finance the "educational park." The district's finance committee has recommended a bond election, perhaps in November, to bond the district up to its limit of $1.4 million. It now has no bonded indebtedness.

Betty Hutton Claims Libel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Betty Hutton has filed a cross-complaint against her landlords asking $350,000 in damages on grounds of libel.

In the suit yesterday, Miss Hutton named David and Barbara Simons of Laguna Beach, from whom she leased a home.

The Simmons, in a suit earlier this month, asked for $19,000 in back rent and damages from Miss Hutton and her estranged husband, musician Pete Candoli.

The Simmons suit accused Miss Hutton of "having a bad deputation" and of being addicted to barbituates and alcohol.

Schools Chief Puts Down Sausalito Pupil Transfers

Contrary to claims that 150 children have been withdrawn from Sausalito schools since September, only six have been transferred to private or parochial schools in that period, Supt. Phillip W. Schneider reported last night to district trustees.

A curvey by the county schools office, he said, showed 13 per cent of children in kindergarten through eighth grade throughout the county attend private or parochial schools. In Sausalito, the figure is 14.5 per cent, only 1.5 per cent more than the county as a whole, he said.

There are 150 Sausalito children not in the public school system, Schneider reported. They attend 23 private and parochial schools. Marin Country Day School has the largest number of Sausalito pupils, with 54, up from 35 in 1965-66.

The transfers this year were of three children at Central School and three at Richardson Bay School. There were no transfers to private or parochial schools from Manzanita or Bayside schools, Schneider said.

Enrollment last September was 1,015. On March 1, it was 985, including 102 Mill Valley children at Richardson Bay School, Schneider reported.

Trucks Are Oit In Salvage Yard

Juveniles are believed responsible for breaking into three trucks at Marin Salvage, 444 Du Bois Street, San Rafael and stealing tools and equipment worth $45, police reported today. Items missing included a rope and fire extinguisher.

Three trucks at Camgros Materials, 532 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael were also reported broken into and $14 worth of equipment stolen.

Drug Charges To Dean's Son

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—Keith Kilburn, 21, son of a dean at Bakersfield College, is charged with selling LSD and will be arraigned on Monday.

Kilburn, son of Dr. H. Parley Kilburn, dean of the college's evening division, was arrested last Saturday at his parents' home and released on $550 bond pending arraignment.

Friendly Germs May Transform Desolate Sahara Into Paradise

VIENNA (UPI) — An Austrian biologist believes he can transform the Sahara and the other great deserts of the world into rich agricultural areas through a natural compost he has developed with the aid of some practically invisible friends.

Dr. Ludwig Holzinger found his friends — a highly active strain of bacteria — after years of painstaking experimental work. With their aid, he said, he can produce rich compost from any kind of biological refuse from bark to waste wood.

Holzinger's theory has roused a good deal of interest in biological circles in the small, mountainous country which has no urgent agricultural problem of its own. If successful it would be a forward step in feeding the additional millions the world will have to learn to support because of the population explosion.

Compost is a mixture of decaying leaves used as a natural fertilizer. Holzinger had the idea that roughly ground bark, a waste product of lumbering, might be suitable for the same purpose if he could hasten its decomposition. He says the bacteria do a first class job in two to three months.

His process is based on aerobic decomposition — not simply decay as in the case of leaf mold — in which high temperatures develop and the bacteria produce growth factors, enzymes and humins.

Holzinger said the process has been successfully tested in Finland. More than 20 million cubic yards of bark become available ehere every year. And if it became practical proposition Finland's geographical situation would make possible cheap transportation by sea.

Water is not the basic problem, in his view, since the Sahara is known to have subterranean water. What he believes must be done is to replace the granules of humus eroded from the deserts. And he thinks his bacteria can do that.

FOR THE GIRL WHO KNOWS CLOTHES

R and K Originals plays up the fashion power of the stripe and adds a gentle scarfing at the shoulder. Fabric is 65 per cent Dacron polyester, 35 per cent cotton. In green and turquoise, sizes 10-18, at Emporium Marin, Northgate Fashion Mall.

Turtlenecks Still Strong Contenders

Mock and full turtleneck sweaters, big sellers last year, will be given their biggest promotional push this year.

The sweaters will appear in a variety of styles, most notable being a tattersall in wool, with a wide assortment of color combinations. Colors, for the most part, will be bright and bold, but still in good taste. Plum is regarded as the shade to watch this year. As the cooler months roll around, six-foot scarfs will be promoted as accessories. Crew neck sweaters will rank just behind the turtleneck styles in popularity. Boatnecks, V-necks, novelties and cardigans will follow in that order.

Battery Gives Lamp Glamor

Battery-powered lamps are giving the homeowner and the operator of restaurants, hotels and motels attractive decor for party spots and dining areas.

Designers of restaurants generally agree that ordinary overhead lighting leaves much to be desired for warm and romantic atmosphere. Yet seemingly obvious solutions are either dangerous or unworkable.

Table lamps cannot be attached by cords to wall outlets because customers would trip over them or accidentally disconnect them. Candles constitute a continuous fire hazard, especially on tables which must be moved out by the waiter so patrons may sit down.

Lamps powered by rechargeable batteries have eliminated both difficulties and offer extra convenience. For instance, many lamps available for restaurants and nightclubs are equipped with a button which, when pressed, activates a blinking red light to summon the waiter. The lamps shed a soft, constant light without heat, smoke or candle wax and there is no cord to entangle the customer. As many as 20 lamps can be recharged at one time with the charger.

Cordless lamps are becoming increasingly popular with hostesses at home for much the same reasons, especially when they want to give a party on the terrace or lawn. Wall lamps without the unsightly cord are also favorites.

Look For Spring: 'Business Look'

Men's suits have really meant business this spring, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear. The new "business look" has many faces . . . in models, colors, patterns and fabrics.

Men can choose between "straight" or contoured versions of these favorite styles or the new definitive silhouette of models with more than a hint of London's Savile Row.

Colors in general are lighter, jumping directly from the lighter medium range to the almost-white summer suit. However, the dressy dark shades usually embellished with stripes, are still very much a part of the style scene. The well-rounded wardrobe should include some of each.

Starting with high-style models, double-breasteds move into the picture in both four and two-button styles. In a variety of lapel treatments, these new-generation double-breasteds are styled with plain-backs without vents or contoured with deep side vents. In place of side vents, some have deep inverted pleats.

Peaked lapels are very much "in" in the new single-breasted high-style models, most of which are a bit wider than heretofore. Two-button models are still the most popular but one-button models are gaining this spring.

Stripes are a favorite pattern and they include pin stripes, pencil stripes and chalk stripes as well as self-stripes and shadow stripes. Next come full-size glen plaids in colorful mixtures as well as bold black-and-white. Plaids are followed by neat checks and unpatterned cloths livened by glints of contrasting and harmonizing colors.

The best colors are bright blues, soft browns, new clear grays, black-greens, true greens, black-burgundies, browns, bronze, gold and copper tone.

Polyester-worsted blends continue to be most wanted fabrics in both the flat look and silk-like textures. Other blends contain mohair for added sheen and there are pure worsteds, mohair-worsteds as well as silk blends and pure silks.

Natural-shoulder suits branch out in two directions for the vernal season. First are the regular three-button models with center vent and a hint of shape. Then there are the more sophisticated traditionals with noticeable contour, deep side vents and a choice of three or two-button styles.

The double-breasted suit follows the d-b blazer into the warm weather in natural-shoulder styles and while most have side vents, there are some with center vents.

In some instances lapels are wider, in others they appear to be wider because they roll to the middle button.

Stripes of all varieties are the top traditional pattern, closely followed by big, authentic glen plaids in updated color blends as well as black-and-white. Plain colors are lively in dimensional mixtures of golden honey tones, new bright olives, oxford blue, the crisp clear grays.

In both traditional and high-style suits, vests will make news.

Every Home Needs More Timepieces

Retail sales of household clocks may reach an all-time high of $400 million in 1967.

Unit clock sales currently are running at a rate of about 25 million a year, 20 per cent greater than the unit sales of wrist watches, according to Herb Lewis, Western sales manager of Bulova Watch Co.

With personal income at an all-time high, sales of watches, clocks and jewelry should benefit from the slackening pace in the purchase of homes, automobiles and other items requiring major investments, he said. His company's sales are reported better than 15 per cent ahead of the first two months a year ago.

The trend to cordless electric styles is a major factor in boosting clock sales, according to Lewis. This is evident both in decorator clock models for living rooms and in clock-radios for bedroom and kitchen use. The latter market alone is expected to reach $150 million at retail this year, he said.

Dress Shirts Trend: More, Deeper Color

More color and deeper color will bring a bright new identity to dress shirts for spring 1967.

The new dress shirt colors will be easy to wear—easy to combine with suit colors. Blue is the favorite and well it might be, as it complements just about everything. The swing is to deeper blues in medium tones or really deep shades. Peach and melon shades as well as tan-gray-olive "stone," linen tints and the off-white ivories and bamboos are other versatile blenders.

Cool mint greens, bright frosted or soft dusty pinks, cider, maize and a greened-blue called "spruce" or "blue grass" also make the grade with sun-tanned complexions.

Stripes—closely packed, wide-tracked, in colors on white backgrounds and on colored grounds—continue to find a bright place in the style scene. Then there are tattersall checks, windowpane plaids and minichecks.

The variety of fabrics is almost as great as the assortment of patterns and colors. For instance, "flat weave" chambrays

BRIGHT FOOTINGS FOR SPRING

White calfskin is sunny, black patent is snappy and there's lots of sunny snap when the two combine. QualiCraft makes a brilliant play of light against shadow in a young-spirited white-on-black sling. blunted at toe and broadened at heel. At Leed's Northgate Fashion Mall.

By Her Boots You Shall Know About Her Age

There's a new saying in the fashion world — "By her boots you shall know her age."

The latest kick among the casual set is height, with some of the newer boot styles going up as far as the knee and mid-thigh, reports Footwear News. Heels are also getting an uplifted treatment for an overall sleek-slim look.

Some styles that will be in demand over the coming months are: The big basic — tight fitting and knee-high; thigh-highs — for the new shorter hemlines; British warms — sporty, casual and strapped; high risers — with high heels and platform sole effect. The thing to remember says Footwear News, is that boots are in and should be as basic to a shoe wardrobe as a pump.

Portable Is Best Seller

Despite its size, the portable phonograph is still king in overall sales, reports Home Furnishings Daily, and it is likely to remain so for a number of years to come.

In an analysis of phonograph industry sales over the past six years, these facts were brought to light: Many consumers are trading up within the portable category and consider models selling for under $100 as toys.

Youngsters show strong preference for sets that run off their own batteries or regular electricity. Where consumers exhibit preference for cabinet models, Italian provincial and Mediterranean styles get the nod. Walnut is the favorite wood.

and end-on-end madrases are added to traditional oxfords, white many other familiar fabrics have been woven in lighter batiste weights, in sheer voiles and in lightweight basketweaves and broadcloths. There are also polyester-cotton blends in permanent-press finishes as well as durable-press cottons that will stay fresh and neat on the most sultry days and really do "wash n' wear."

Collars do their part to add to the attractiveness of the new shirts. Take your pick of button-downs in regular, short and longer versions; wide-spreads, moderate spreads and buttonless - button - downs to be worn pinned or not; low-slope "vanishing band" collars and high-rise interpretations.

As far as the ties that will be worn with those handsome shorts are concerned, stripes are king again.

For a while, stripes were replaced by paisley prints and floral patterns (which in reduced sizes are still popular) but stripes have a strong and lasting appeal for men.

Of course, reps will be among the best of the striped ties but they will not be alone. There are twill stripes, plain weave stripes and printed stripes not to mention the shantungs, tussahs and oriental silks both striped and plain in virtually every color combination the mind can conceive.

Panel prints with the patterns planned to fall in a specific area of the tie are due for a comeback in updated versions. These are very easy to combine with striped and patterned shirts.

Neat foulard prints in geometric effects, scatter prints, houndstooth checks and glen plaids also wear well with strips and checks on shirts.

Ethical Problem Seen In Behavioral Tests

By ADVANCE NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Should a behavioral scientist deceive a student into thinking he's stupid and clumsy in order to study his reaction to this seeming failure?

Is it propert for a scientist to set up a phony situation in which subjects thought they were giving painful electric shocks to others, who "writhed in simulated pain" although they weren't being shocked at all?

In a test of how well a family could survive a long stay in a cramped fallout shelter, should the researcher record all the conversations without the family's prior knowledge or consent?

These are some of the questions posed in a special study on science and privacy by the U. S. Office of Science and Technology, an agency of the White House.

The study, published here recently, says "wiretapping, electronic eavesdropping, the use of personality tests in employment, the use of the lie detector in security or criminal investigations, and the detailed scrutiny of the private lives of people receiving public welfare funds all involve invasions of privacy."

The study extends the growing concern over invasion of privacy into the field of behavioral science, which "seeks to assess and to measure many qualities of man's mind, feelings, and actions."

In the absence of informed consent on the part of the subject," it says, "these measurements represent invasion of privacy. The scientist must therefore obtain the consent of his subject."

But there are further subtleties involved. In some experiments, fully informing the subject on what is to be done to him would destroy their usefulness. An example given is human reaction to being startled by a loud noise or bright light. If the subject knew he was going to be starled the test would have little value.

Similarly, in the experiment in which the students were false-other students, the idea was to find out his reaction to this kind of self-knowledge.

"By the end of the experimental session," the report said, "Some subjects were depressed, brooding, and angry, and had lost a measure of self-esteem."

It adds, "It is routine for an experimented to explain the state of affairs following such an experiment. The subject can normally recover his usual level of self-esteem, but it is the responsibility of the experimenter to make sure that this recovery occurs."

But to show the positive value of such work, the report says it has "Led to a substantial modification of educational policy in America. The research showed clearly that the lowering of self-esteem and failure reduce learning ability." Therefore, teachers have been encouraged to find ways to point out unsatisfactory performance in ways that don't injure the student's self-esteem.
